LYLE CALLS ON JURIES TO JOIN FIGHT ON GANGS

Find Zuta Death Gun on Danny Stanton.

The war on gangs, in which vagrancy charges are being brought to play to send hoodlums to jail, was started yesterday by a conference in the chambers of Judge John H. Lyle of the Felony court.

The conference was attended by Charles F. Rathbun, special assistant state's attorney in charge of the investigation of the murder of Alfred Lingle; Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson; Col. A. A. Sprague, head of the new citizens' anti-crime and rackets committee; Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago crime commission; Assistant State's Attorney Harry S. Ditchburne, who is assigned to take charge of the vagrancy prosecutions, and Judge Lyle.

Refuses Plea from Capone.

Vagrancy warrants have been issued by Judge Lyle for all of the 26 "public enemies" named by the crime commission. Three of these have been arrested by the police, and two of them, Edward [Spike] O'Donnell and Diego Lawrence Mangano, yesterday demanded and obtained changes of venue from the jurisdiction of Judge Lyle.

Judge Lyle revealed that four attorneys representing Alphonse [Scarface] Capone, leader of the Chicago gang, had been in to see the judge, seeking to arrange for Capone's surrender on the vagrancy warrant naming him. The lawyers wanted an agreement that their client would not be mussed up by being thrown into a cell and that he would be permitted to go free on bail immediately. Judge Lyle said he told the lawyers he would make no promises.

After the conference with the officials and citizens in his chambers, Judge Lyle issued a statement explaining the significance of the meeting.

Lyle Explains Conference.

"Six days before the 26 vagrancy warrants were issued Mr. Rathbun had prepared an exhaustive legal brief on the vagrancy law which covered all the decisions in Illinois and the substance of decisions in other states," Judge Lyle said. "To get certain information and throw light on some gangsters, Mr. Rathbun and Mr. Roche have found it expedient to prosecute vagrancy charges against Alderman and Condi, Capone gangsters, and Barry and Kissane, Moran gangsters.

"Mr. Rathbun informed me the vagrancy law could, if applied, be used to get into court, under oath, gangsters and witnesses, from whom the connecting links of gang murders could be picked up, having in mind, of course, the solving of the Lingle murder, which was the culmination of all Chicago gang murders.

Lists Prosecutors of Crime.

"Mr. Roche is the chief investigator for the state's attorney's office. This almost of itself insures the success of the prosecution. However, in the actual trials of these 26 gangsters the people will be represented officially and unofficially by Mr. Ditchburne, Mr. Roche, Mr. Rathbun, Mr. Swanson, Col. Chamberlin, Col. Sprague, and Col. Randolph.

"The gangsters will be represented only by their paid criminal lawyers, who feed, fatten and thrive on large fees these criminals raise from some mysterious source.

"Legal technicalities, criminal politics and dishonest public officials have made the streets of Chicago safe for murdering gangsters. The battle now has for the time being been transferred from the streets to the courts. The weapons will be law books instead of machine guns. I wonder if the laws and juries will stand up."

Trace Zuta Death Gun.

Jack Zuta, Chicago gang lord murdered in Wisconsin, was killed by a bullet fired from a pistol taken from Danny Stanton, a Capone hoodlum, when Stanton was arrested a week ago. This was announced by the police yesterday.

Coroner Bundesen, whose diligence in obtaining the bullets from Zuta's body and having them compared with all weapons taken by the police from gangsters resulted in the accusation against Stanton, refused to comment on the case yesterday. He declared that plans carefully laid for the placing of murder charges against Stanton had been seriously hampered by published reports of the evidence found.

Lieut. Col. Calvin Goddard, head of the scientific crime detection laboratory of Northwestern university, who examined the fatal Zuta bullets and

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Late this morning two men walked into the glass enclosed private office of the president of the Western Maryland railway. One of them was Maxwell C. Byers, who has been president of the road ever since the ending of wartime federal control ten years ago; the other was Dudley G. Gray, the vice president in charge of traffic.

They had talked together for just a few minutes when the drone of typewriters in the big room outside was suddenly punctuated by five pistol reports. There was a moment's silence and then five more shots. A clerk who was working nearby rushed to the private door, found it locked and broke the glass. He saw Byers lying on the floor dead.

Near him was Gray, rapidly sinking into unconsciousness.

An automatic pistol was beside him and cartridge shells were scattered all about the room.

Gray Dies of Wounds.

Gray died of his wounds this afternoon in Mercy hospital, four hours after the shooting and at about the time the police and coroner had decided the case was one of murder and suicide. The coroner, in making out the certificate, said that in his opinion the vice president had fired the fatal shots, but offered no official opinion as to the cause. Police, who questioned office employés, however, said they had been told that sharp friction had developed between the two men several months ago and seemed to be growing more intense as time went on.

On several occasions recently, it was said, Mr. Byers had overruled the suggestions made by his subordinate, and the latter appeared to resent this.

Gray Longest with Road.

Gray originally had been vice president in charge of freight, but recently he had been the director of traffic. He had been with the company longer than the president, and formerly had made his reports directly to the board of directors rather than to Mr. Byers. But some time ago the latter became chairman of the board as well as the president, and the reports were handled by him alone.

Railroad officials tonight issued a statement that while the two officials "frequently differed sharply on matters of policy in connection with the company's affairs, we never knew them to have any serious personal differences."

How Tragedy Occurred.

It was shortly after 11 o'clock this morning that Mr. Gray appeared in the railroad office. He stopped to chat with one or two of the clerks. He seemed in good spirits. As soon as Mr. Byers learned that he had come he sent out word that he be admitted. They greeted one another at the door and went inside.

W. Taylor Springer, a representative of Mr. Byers, was in the room when the visitor appeared and saw him take a seat at a table near the president's desk. Then he left. Three minutes later there came the first sudden flurry of shots.

Springer, who was near the elevator in the hallway, started back to the office. Just as he reached it there was a second fusillade. There was the sound of a body falling and a tinkle of breaking glass.

Clerk Smashes Locked Door.

After a moment's startled silence Charles E. Belt, one of the clerks in the outer office, dashed to the door. He tried to open it but found that it was locked. He smashed his fist through the glass and peered in. He saw Gray, in a corner of the room, holding his side and attempting to get to his feet. Byers was lying on his back, his head against the door frame.

Belt went to Gray's side and found a 32 caliber automatic pistol. He picked it up and asked the wounded man who had done the shooting.

"It is obvious," Gray replied.

The clerk asked him again, but there was no reply.

The next person on the scene was Patrolman Walter P. Koehler, who had heard the shooting from outside the building. He ran in, found what had happened, and called an ambulance.

Byers Shot Eight Times.

Both victims were taken to the hospital, where Byers was pronounced dead. He had been shot eight times—four times in the abdomen, three times in the chest, and once in the back. Gray had two bullet wounds just over his heart.

Detectives tried to question him in his room at the hospital, but he did

JAILER FINDS HIMSELF INSIDE AND LOOKING OUT

Dan Geary, veteran lockup keeper at the detective bureau, likes his lockup, and for ten years he has made his final nightly rounds of inspection, shutting the steel barred doors for the night with the touch of a man in love with his work.

But last night something happened. A lock went temperamental and Dan, the keeper of the keys, found himself a prisoner. For the first time in his experience he was an inmate of his own lockup—and he couldn't get out.

Engineers, electricians, and friends crowded around the door, but none could help Dan out. Nor could Dan, appealing to a group of a dozen prisoners in another compartment of the lockup, find a modern Jimmie Valentine. Finally, after he had been imprisoned twenty minutes, it was decided to break off the rivets or saw the bars and release him. But Dan objected. "Don't saw this door," he pleaded.

Then, in a last desperate effort, the keeper stuck his hand through the bars, inserted the key, and turned. The lock worked. The door opened and Danny was free.

Reject Pleas to Spare Lives of 3 Killers

The state board of pardons and paroles yesterday refused clemency to three Negroes, under sentence of death for murder in a bank robbery, despite the protests and pleas of representatives of a number of women's clubs, social service organizations, and other associations. The hearing, which lasted more than three hours, was held at Springfield.

The trio, Lafon Fisher, Leonard Shadlow, and Leon Brown, were found guilty and sentenced to the electric chair more than 17 months ago. Since then many stays of execution have been gained by petitions to the Supreme court, insanity trials, and intercessions with the governor. The Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association termed the long stay a "woeful delay of justice."

The trio were convicted of killing Martin French, a negro guard, in a holdup of the Franklin Trust and Savings bank on Jan. 18, 1929.

Lawyer Asks Commutation.

Attorney Louis Piquett, representing the men, told the parole board that the death sentence should be commuted to life imprisonment because confessions to their guilt had been obtained from the defendants by third degree methods of Chicago police.

"Fisher is paralyzed from the waist down as a result of cruel treatment by the police," he said.

In reply Assistant State's Attorney C. Wayland Brooks declared there was evidence proving that Fisher had contracted tuberculosis of the spine some time ago and that his paralyzed condition was a result of the disease.

Mrs. Ida Wells Barnett, who said she represented 100 Chicago Negro women's clubs, argued that life sentences should be imposed upon the men because three other bandits involved in the same robbery had received life sentences.

Ministers Plead for Trio.

Several colored ministers testified that the three men, who once claimed they were insane, had been models of Christian conduct at the county jail.

Attorney Joseph B. Lofton, of defense counsel, declared that attempts to influence the board had been made by the bankers' association. W. C. Jones, chairman, replied:

"As long as this board is in existence it will not be influenced by the newspapers, the bankers' association, politicians, or political influence in the determination of cases before it. If the time ever comes when we haven't the courage to function without being subject to such influences we will quit."

Having lost in this second attempt to win clemency from the parole board, attorneys for the defense said they were not through. They will ask for a review of the insanity trials, they indicated.

Unless another stay of execution is granted by the governor, the Supreme court, which devoted nearly a year to consideration of the case before affirming the sentence, cannot review insanity trials, it was pointed out. The execution has been set for Oct. 3 and the Supreme court does not convene until Oct. 7.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ASKS $17,568,237 AS 1931 APPROPRIATION

Police department estimates of appropriations for 1931 as submitted to City Controller Schmidt yesterday contained a request for an increase of $776,736 over 1930. The appropriation for 1930 was $17,568,237. The estimate for next year is $18,344,973. While no request was made for additional men, Acting Police Commissioner Alcock said that when the council finance committee starts work on the budget he will ask for 5,000 new men.

Several salary increases were requested, among them being a raise for the commissioner from $10,000 to $12,500 a year, and for the first deputy, Alcock's civil service rank, from $8,000 to $12,000 a year. Recently the council raised Alcock's salary to $12,000 while he is acting as commissioner.

The number of men requested is 52 captains, 143 lieutenants, 586 sergeants, and 5,424 patrolmen. An appropriation of $98,620 is requested for the operation and maintenance of the police radio system.

Roulette Debt of Clara Bow Goes Unpaid

LOCALE—A motion picture company's location at Lake Tahoe in the high Sierras.

TIME—The present.

CAST—Miss Clara Bow, the "it girl" with the flaming tresses; Will Rogers, Marie Dressler, James McKay, keeper of a house of chance; roulette croupiers, faro dealers, stud bankers, crap table keepers, tourists, lawyers, bank tellers, and dude ranch cowboys.

THE STORY.

Miss Bow is visiting; it is a sort of busman's holiday as, being temporarily at leisure, Miss Bow has gone to watch the Rogers company work. The evening shades draw across the blue waters of Tahoe; the film stars have ended their arduous toil of the day.

The velvet darkness deepens. A party is organized to cross the Nevada line to the Calneva club, where the little ball rolls, the cards flip and the galloping dominoes jump for the initiate.

You Must Be Introduced.

To watch these performances one must be properly introduced. Mr. McKay says Mr. Rogers was the sponsor for Miss Bow. Mr. McKay was properly delighted, more so at the time than a few days later.

Miss Bow bucked the wheel and the little ball failed to drop where, in her first best judgment, it should; when the dice rolled, the sevens, aces and double sixes were of distressing frequency; when she assayed "21" it seemed there were no aces or low cards to flip and face cards supplanted threes and four in time of need.

Miss Bow wrote a check, two checks, a third check and finally a fourth. The total was $14,500, a sum rather painful to even a movie actress.

Mr. McKay smiled a cheerful good night and early next morning deposited the checks in a Reno bank.

The action moves forward a day or so. The scene is in the Reno clearing house. The checks have been resilient and have bounced back from Hollywood; in one bounce they have cleared the coast range, the Sierras and the valley between. They bear the painful notice "Payment stopped."

Gamekeeper Distressed.

Mr. McKay, distressed, has appealed to the girl of the flaming tresses and to her employers, Paramount-Lasky. He is in some doubt about what can be done about it, for although certain games of chance such as the manly game of poker, are legal, debts incurred in them are not collectable in court; faro, craps and certain other games are not even legalized.

Miss Bow, back in her Los Angeles home, was pained tonight when questioned about her Lake Tahoe experiences.

"If any one in the world feels he has a rightful claim against me for any sum of money whatsoever—which I deny—I will gladly accept service of any legal document," she said. "I always pay my honest debts promptly."

Boy Shoots Father to Death After a 3 Day Argument

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Culminating what neighbors said was a three day argument, William Phillips, 19, tonight shot and killed his father, Joseph, 45. The boy was held in jail along with other members of his family for questioning. When the father came home the son awaited him in the driveway. As the older Phillips got out of the car the argument flared anew. A neighbor said the boy pulled a shotgun from shadows in the driveway and fired once, the charge striking Phillips in the head and neck.

FAKE TELEGRAM STARTS SLUMP TO 16 YEAR LOW

Selling Wave Sweeps World Markets.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

With a new crop of rumors added to those based on the information that Russia's soviet government was attempting to demoralize the world wheat market with short sales and dumping in tariff free countries, prices on the Chicago Board of Trade slumped yesterday to new record lows.

September wheat touched bottom at 77⅞ cents, the lowest since July, 1914. In the month of September trading had not found so low a mark since 1906. The Chicago market was off 2¼ to 2⅝ cents from the previous close, and the other great world marts showed similar movements. Winnipeg was down 2⅝ cents a bushel, Liverpool, 1⅛ to 1⅞ cents, and Buenos Aires 3 cents.

The demoralization quickly spread to other grains, and corn, oats, and rye closed at losses ranging from 1⅛c to 3⅝ cents on the Chicago board.

Fake Message Starts Selling.

The most spectacular rumor affecting the market was a forged telegram from Winnipeg stating that the Canadian wheat pool was in difficulties and that the provincial government was to take over all pool operations at 10 a. m. to protect its financial interests.

Timed to arrive at the opening of trading in the Chicago pit the message caused an immediate selling wave. It purported to be signed by James Stewart, a prominent grain trader. Within fifteen minutes Mr. Stewart had denied sending any such message. The Hon. John Bracken, premier of Manitoba, made an emphatic denial of any truth in the message.

Three Investigations Begun.

Investigations were launched by the Winnipeg grain exchange, the business conduct committee of the board of trade, and the grain futures administration. Despite the demonstrated falsity of the reports there was no appreciable rally in the market later. Grain men averred that the case was plainly one of violation of the laws governing grain information and that the person who represented himself as Mr. Stewart in telephoning to the telegraph company which forwarded the message in good faith was liable to ten years' imprisonment if caught.

The vexing Russian question, slightly thrust in the background by this new development, nevertheless was stewing all over the world. In Chicago the business conduct committee of the Board of Trade let it be known that it had received from the government the information on the short wheat sales in September by the All Russian Textile syndicate and that a meeting of the committee will be held this afternoon.

Congress Hearing in Chicago.

Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. [Rep., N. Y.] set a hearing of the house committee on communist activities for next Monday in the federal building here. Among those summoned and who have promised to appear are John A. Bunnell, president, and Fred H. Clutton, secretary of the Board of Trade. Joseph W. Badenoch, chairman of the business conduct committee of the board, also will appear.

Russian wheat continued to be offered in European markets at prices below even the depressed levels in Winnipeg and Chicago. A delivered price of 85¼ cents a bushel at Hamburg was figured by the local experts as 2 to 3 cents less than No. 2 Manitoba could be delivered there even with this grain selling at 70 cents, the close for Winnipeg delivery on a cash basis.

Russia Buys More Machinery.

At the same time there were reports that Russia now had ready for shipment at gulf ports 50,000 bales of American cotton and that the soviets had recently placed orders for an additional twelve million dollars' worth of agricultural machinery.

That the soviets are equipped to continue their drive on the European markets was emphasized by declarations that they have ready to sell there within a short time fifty-six million bushels of grains, mostly wheat.

Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada sailed yesterday from Montreal to attend an empire conference in England. He was accompanied by a group of advisers on technical matters and is to take up the question of Canadian farm products.

Canadian Pool Cuts Rates.

The Canadian wheat pool announced cuts in the amount of advances to be made on grains other than wheat. Rye was reduced 5 cents to 35 cents, oats

Succession of Events Indicates Higher Bond Prices Ahead

The bull market is history. The bears have had their play. And the little game of bull and bear has settled down to a quiet contest for the professionals. Now what? History, which has its way of repeating, tells us that after an earthquake, folks get religion. A sharply falling stock market is followed with regularity by a sharply rising bond market. In between there is usually a lull in which the public gathers its wits and its money, and sophisticated well-heeled investors, like banks and insurance companies, buy securities at attractive prices.

It's all happening according to Hoyle. Those who were unshirted in the great bull run last year are getting back their raiment and their senses. Savings accounts are growing. And the banks and insurance companies are buying bonds. All signs point to a revival of public interest and higher prices in the bond market. It's a good time to talk over investments with a good bond house.

5 cents to 25 cents, and flaxseed 25 cents to $1 a bushel. Even these advances are to be made on delivery at terminal.

An added fillip was given the whole Russian trading situation by the announcement of Senator Trasker L. Oddie [Rep., Nev.] in Washington that he would sponsor a bill at the next session of congress to place an embargo on the principal products being shipped into this country from Russia.

Among these products are manganese, coal, lumber, wood pulp, gelatin, wheat and glue. Senator Oddie asserted that the 1921 anti-dumping act was inadequate to prevent dumping here.

"It may also be necessary," he said, "to include a provision in the bill to prohibit the soviet government from trading either directly or indirectly in the wheat exchanges of this country, if we are to protect our wheat growers."

Explains Soviet Dumping.

Manganese shipments to the United States from the land of the soviets, the senator said, was based on "the enslavement of the Russian peasantry and the inflation of the currency."

"Due to the complete collapse of the soviet economic system within Russia," he continued, "the government has been forced to experiment in an effort to create paper profits in foreign trade, this to offset heavy losses in domestic trade, and at the expense of industry in America and other countries."

Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, who started the Russian investigation with a statement that the All Russian Textile syndicate had sold millions of bushels of wheat short in the Chicago market, remained in Ann Arbor, Mich., through part of the day. It was reported that he intends to return to Washington without visiting Chicago.

CLAIMS GERMAN SPIES POISONED U. S. WAR HORSES

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

THE HAGUE, Sept. 23.—It was revealed today that near Van Cortlandt park, New York, German agents infected hundreds of animals with anthrax and tetanus germs during 1915 and 1916 to prevent them from being used by the allied armies in France.

Almost within sight of thousands of national guardsmen mobilized for service on the Mexican border, Negroes in German pay stood "jabbing horses and mules as they came close," according to an affidavit read before the German-American mixed claims commission in the peace palace. Similar mischief was said to have been perpetrated in Norfolk and Newport News, Va., and Baltimore, so that thousands of apparently healthy animals they reached France, and at least one shipload of 4,500 mules arrived in Europe with not a single beast alive.

Exactly where the inoculations in New York occurred was not mentioned by Robert W. Bonynge, the American agent, when he concluded his plea for $40,000,000 for damages done by Germany to the United States in the years of American neutrality. He read an affidavit by Edwin Felton, a Negro, who admitted having been in German pay and having worked with disease germs "at the stockyards north of Van Cortlandt park." Felton explained that he was employed in Baltimore by Capt. Frederick Hinsch, German secret service agent, who is charged with having helped cause the munitions disasters at Black Tom in 1916 and in Kingsland, N. J., in 1917.

RUSSIA ACCUSES BRITISH FIRM OF PLOTTING FAMINE

Says $50,000 Was Paid to Incite Disorders.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 23.—That White Russians on the pay roll of a British firm are responsible for the deplorable status of the food supply in soviet Russia was charged today by the soviet government.

A. Fotherhill, one of the directors of the Riga plant of the British Union Cold Storage company, is accused of having offered $50,000 to Prof. Riazantsev for the organization of famine and wholesale disorders in soviet Russia. The soviets claim he accepted the job. Prof. Riazantsev is chairman of the soviet meat products department, formerly a rich land owner and general in the czarist army. The government alleges that he confessed when arrested.

Fotherhill Calls It "Nonsense."

Mr. Fotherhill, when interviewed here, described the charge as the greatest nonsense and fiction he ever heard in his life. He said he seriously doubts that Prof. Riazantsev's character would permit him to consider such a plot. He says he has known Prof. Riazantsev since the war, and renewed the acquaintance during 1924 and 1927 when negotiating with the soviet government for the export of Russian bacon on behalf of the storage company, which controlled a plant in the town of Koslov, which the bolsheviks nationalized.

Mr. Fotherhill says he has not been in Russia since 1928 and has had no connections with Prof. Riazantsev since. He says he never talked politics with Prof. Riazantsev, whom he believes uninterested in politics.

Demand Death Sentence.

MOSCOW, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Hundreds of resolutions, adopted at factory meetings throughout the country, demanding the death sentence for all twenty-five members of the alleged counter revolutionary society arrested on charges of inciting food riots, were published in all the leading newspapers today.

The resolutions charged the society with attempting to "starve the soviet union" by destructively diminishing food reserves in the country.

"All those who participated in creating famine must be wiped off the face of the earth," is the commonest expression of the majority of the resolutions.

Want Thorough Cleanup.

Demanding a thorough "cleaning" of all food distributing organizations which would purge them of their nonsoviet elements, workers in large factories are naming trustworthy men to replace those who will be "cleaned out."

All the resolutions compliment and highly praise the secret police, who are called "the sword of the proletarian revolution." The government is asked to award the organization with the "Order of Lenin," the highest honor in the soviet union, for "vigilantly guarding interests of the laboring class."

Workers are liberally contributing to funds for construction of a hige Zeppelin to be named Ogpu after the secret police.

WORLD BOYCOTT OF SOVIET WHEAT URGED TO BLOCK DUMPING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 23.—Gunnar Trolle, chief of the Argentine wheat firm of Bunge & Borns of Buenos Aires, which controls the sale of half of Argentina's wheat and maize harvest, declared today that the Russian dumping methods are criminal, in view of reports indicating that Russia needs wheat to feed her own population, and that the best method to check this dumping is for the world to boycott all Russian wheat.

Mr. Trolle declared he is not certain if the bottom has yet been reached in the wheat market. He said Russia is mobilizing fleets of wheat laden ships in the Black sea for the purpose of swamping Europe with Russian wheat, to be sold at any price.

When asked if he thought Russia had any political aim, he said he thought the whole campaign was purely a desperate business affair, the Russians hoping to regain formidable losses in Europe by gigantic sales in the Chicago wheat pit.

CANADIAN GRAIN CHIEFS RUSH TO LONDON FOR AID

Will Ask Relief at Imperial Parley.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 23.—R. B. Bennett, premier of Canada, with three of his cabinet ministers, a group of technical advisers and a number of "key" Canadian grain leaders, sailed from Quebec today for London, to attend the imperial conference, which opens Oct. 1.

Accompanying the premier were Hugh Guthrie, minister of justice, leading cabinet post in the Dominion; H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, and Maurice Dupre, solicitor general, chosen to represent French Canada, Grain Chiefs Sail Too.

In addition to government department heads, perhaps the most significant auxiliary group was that composed of four representatives of the grain trade of Canada.

They are A. J. McPhail, president of the Canadian wheat pool, which handles over 50 per cent of Canada's crop; Dr. McGibbon, vice chairman of the board of grain commissioners; Prof. W. W. Swanson of the University of Saskatchewan, and John I. McFarlane, well known in grain circles.

Their presence confirms the likelihood that the wheat situation will be one of the most important matters taken up at the conference, as far as Canada is concerned.

Wheat Supply Mounting.

At the present moment the dominion's wheat stocks are mounting rapidly weekly with the new harvest coming in, with the export volume remaining comparatively small. For over a year the wheat situation has hung over the dominion as a pall, helping the stock market collapse and hindering its recovery.

50 Girls Routed by Fire at Telephone Exchange

Between 50 and 60 girl operators in the Lake View telephone exchange at Sheffield and Cornelia avenues rushed to the street last night when smoke from a small fire in the basement filled the switchboard rooms. Lieut. James Walsh and members of fire truck company No. 44 put out the blaze and sent the girls back to their posts. The loss was slight.

RUSSIAN 'SERFS' PILE UP WHEAT AT POINT OF GUN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—How the soviet government is driving huge armies of virtual serfs at a man killing pace in order to flood the world wheat markets with low priced grain, while Russian peasants who work in the wheat fields are almost unable to buy bread, was told here today by A. C. Simons of Flint, Mich., an American engineer, after a long stay in Russia.

Mr. Simons, who traveled through the wheat country as an expert for an American farm implement company, saw virgin steppes, where Cossacks once pastured their herds, converted overnight into the largest wheat fields in the world. He saw half naked men and women toiling in the fields under guards of communist soldiers until they dropped in their tracks. He saw line after line of freight cars piled high with grain, rushing wheat to Black sea ports from whence it is poured out onto the rest of the world at prices which mean ruin to farmers elsewhere.

Dumping Has Dual Purpose.

According to Mr. Simons, this unscrupulous dumping, which is tying up the bolshevik manipulations in the American grain markets, has a dual purpose in bringing in gold and paving the way for communist revolutions by creating discontent among world farmers.

"The independent Russian peasants have been practically stamped out," Mr. Simons said. "Most of them have been forced into government controlled community farms. Most of the wheat growing, however, is done on huge farms operated by the government with hired labor.

"The workers are paid $30 per month. But they cannot buy anything with the money. They are not allowed to keep any grain for their own use, and if they are caught with a handful of flour they are shot. Bread is rationed out and each man gets only a small piece daily. They live mostly on sunflower seeds.

Workers Without Shoes.

"The workers can't buy shoes because there is no leather. Sugar is scarce and they even stand in line for hours to buy a pair of overalls. In their haste to obtain grain, workers let American machinery go to ruin. At other times they let wheat rot in the ground tinkering with a broken tractor.

"The strangest thing of all is that the workers are told Russian wheat is rushed across the ocean to save Americans from starvation."

It is learned today from a reliable source that the soviets are planning to export 2,000,000 tons of wheat to France this year. Owing to the large deficit in the French wheat crop, the country will have to import that much, and the soviets are prepared to supply it at cut prices. Usually the wheat is imported from Canada or the United States.

Salesman Killed by Gas Fumes from Automobile

Hugo Gueldner, 59 years old, a salesman, of 1260 North Dearborn street was asphyxiated last night by fumes from his automobile. Neighbors found his body when they investigated after hearing the motor of his car running. It is believed he was making a minor repair when he was overcome.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Nick Capone, rape, sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary; Charles Coleman, confidence game, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

John Dudac, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Peter Schwaba.

One of the alleged automobile thieves who escaped yesterday afternoon in a wild chase which resulted in the wounding of four Jewish worshipers leaving the temple at 3411 Douglas boulevard was captured last night by Sergt. Tom Curtin's detective bureau squad.

Sergt. Tom Durkin, who had fought a running gun battle with the fleeing gunmen in Douglas boulevard, was riding with Sergt. Curtin in a renewed search for the fugitives when the squad car reached Marshfield avenue and Roosevelt road. A man was lounging there against a lamp post.

Find Bullet Marked Auto.

"There's one of them," Durkin cried, and the two sergeants leaped from their car and pinioned the man to the walk. At the detective bureau he gave the name of Andrew Manzie, 1838 South Turner avenue. He directed the policemen to the Midwest Brake Service, 1633 South Marshfield avenue, where a mechanic was found patching a bullet hole in the fender of the stolen car.

George Laurie and his wife, Margaret, of the Turner avenue number, and Carmen Capenelli, 19 years old, 1113 South Marshfield avenue, were arrested later by Sergts. Curtin and Richard Kelley. Laurie admitted he was an occupant of the gunmen's car, police said.

Chief of Detectives Norton expressed his satisfaction that the one woman and three men injured by flying bullets had been shot by the gunmen and not by Sergt. Durkin. The wounded are:

Mrs. Ray Katzman, 29 years old, 1408 South Turner avenue.

Max Satyre, 31 years old, 1516 Clifton Park avenue.

The gun battle occurred after Sergeants Durkin and Joseph Glennon of the automobile detail noticed an automobile which was parked in front of 1338 South Turner avenue and which had been stolen from A. G. Hagge, 5610 Fulton street, last August. The two sergeants waited for the driver to appear. After a time Glennon went to lunch. When he was gone the gunmen appeared and jumped into the stolen car.

Durkin leaped on the running board and was shoved off. He drew his gun and started firing. His shots were returned by the gunmen as the chase entered Douglas boulevard. The four worshipers, struck by bullets, fell to the sidewalk in front of the temple.

The bandits were lost at Homan avenue and Douglas boulevard. Mrs. Goldie Levy, who lives at 1338 South Turner avenue, was held by the Fillmore police for questioning.

FIVE ARE HURT AS FIRE TRUCK STRIKES SEDAN

Five persons were injured, two seriously, yesterday when a fire department truck responding to an alarm crashed head-on into a small sedan at Kostner and Grand avenues. Capt. Frank O'Connor, 40 years old, of Engine company 68 suffered several fractured ribs and internal injuries. George Uceny of McHenry received a skull fracture. The two men were taken to the Keystone hospital with three others who were cut and bruised.

Two deaths increased the Cook county motor toll for the year to 745. The victims:

Miss Grace Rabbe, 24 years old, 2316 South Cicero avenue, Cicero. Died in the Berwyn hospital of injuries suffered on Sept. 16 in an accident at Harlem avenue and 43d street. Miss Olive Gordon, 24 years old, of Memphis, Tenn., riding with Miss Rabbe, was killed.

Joseph ——, about 60 years old. Struck by an automobile driven by James Dickey, 7648 Normal avenue, at 111th street and Utica avenue. He died at the Little Company of Mary hospital in Evergreen Park. John Fedorka, owner of a soft drink parlor at 3908 West 111th street, said the man had worked for him as a porter. Fedorka did not know his last name.

Mrs. Lois Manville in Reno; Plans Divorce

Reno, Nev., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Lois Arline McCoin Manville has established residence here preparatory to instituting divorce proceedings against Thomas F. Manville Jr. of 230 Park avenue, New York. Mrs. Manville has taken the little bungalow once occupied by Gloria Gould and several other well known members of the divorce colony in the past. On what her divorce action will be asked has not been made known by her attorney.

CHIEF TIFFANY TARGET OF POISON PEN, HE CHARGES

Chief of Police Lester H. Tiffany of Lake Forest, Republican candidate for sheriff of Lake county, yesterday visited the United States postal authorities in the federal building with information that a poison pen campaign had been launched against him.

An anonymous letter sent to officials of towns and villages as well as to newspapers throughout Lake county and in Chicago contains, he said, the following statement: "Al Capone has come to Lake county; you know what this means. I have positive proof of this. Why should Al Capone be interested? The sheriff's office is all he needs to control this county. . . . The same interests tried to get their man in for circuit judge. We must defeat this attempt also."

Chief Tiffany told the postal authorities he had suspicions as to the author of the letter and the investigation will proceed along lines mapped out by him, it is understood.

Kidney Trouble

Kidney trouble is one of the most serious disorders of middle life. Records show that more than 100,000 people between 40 and 60 years of age die every year of kidney disease. Many serious disorders such as Bright's Disease, High Blood Pressure, Rheumatism have their beginning in the kidneys. If you want to live long and be healthy you should guard your kidneys carefully. Many doctors recommend Mountain Valley Mineral Water from Hot Springs, Ark., as an aid in preventing and treating kidney disorders. Thousands drink it regularly for kidney protection. Be wise. MRS. McCORMICK OPPOSES LIQUOR AS PARTY ISSUE

Shouldn't Be There; Why Not a Referendum?

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Lawrenceville, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Illinois' coming referendum on liquor as set forth by Ruth Hanna McCormick today is a step toward removing the wet and dry issue as a "political football" used by politicians for years to boot themselves into office.

In the heart of one of the driest areas in the state Mrs. McCormick, before audiences here and at Robinson and Newton, declared the liquor question, as a social problem of national dimensions, does not belong in party politics, its solution being far more important to the nation than the making of political touchdowns and the kicking of goals by politicians.

The Republican candidate took vigorous issue with the Anti-Saloon league, which last week declared that the popular vote would go wet and urged its followers to go dead on the referendum, ignoring it at the polls.

Should Not Avoid Vote.

"To say the people must not vote on this question of public policy," said Mrs. McCormick, "is to strike at the fundamental principle of majority rule and the right of citizens to petition their government. It does violence to the constitution and the bill of rights."

In the seven cities of the "dry belt" in which the state candidates have appeared emphasis was thrown by the orators upon the attitude taken by Mrs. McCormick and the Republican state convention as being identical with that previously taken by four leading militant drys in the United States senate.

The four senators thus listed as announcing they would abide by the results of a liquor referendum in their own states are Wesley L. Jones of Washington, author of the 5 and 10 law and floor leader for the Anti-Saloon league; Thomas F. Walsh of Montana, a pillar of the 18th amendment; Lee S. Overman of North Carolina, and Morris Shepard of Texas, reputed author of the 18th amendment.

"A Dry and a Republican."

"I stand as a dry," said Mrs. McCormick, "and I am for law enforcement, and I indorse 100 per cent the position of Herbert Hoover. I shall vote no on the ballot. As a dry I'll not be read out of a dry party by anybody."

Mrs. McCormick said if she went contrary to the popular voice as legally and orderly expressed at the polls she would regard herself as a "traitor" to representative government and a traitor to majority rule and the bill of rights.

"Let's be honest and speak right out in meeting," said Mrs. McCormick. "As legislators we have no right to discriminate between the laws we will enforce and those we will wink at.

"The question of the liquor problem is a social problem. It does not belong in politics. Too long it has been a political football for politicians who would use it as an issue to get themselves elected to office.

"I will not recognize it as a political issue; I do recognize it as the most important national social problem to be dealt with.

Significance of a Referendum.

"In Illinois 400,000 citizens have signed a petition for a referendum on the repeal of the 18th amendment. Three other questions are to be submitted. No individual and no group and no organization has any right to say to the people you shall not vote on that referendum, but you must vote on this one. As conscientious citizens we must vote on all. We cannot organize ourselves into groups and say do not vote, because if we do we are striking at the fundamentals of the constitution and the bill of rights. The people have a guaranteed right to express their opinion.

"I am standing exactly where I stood. I have said repeatedly to Illinois audiences in the last two years that I am a dry. By that I mean I personally do not violate the spirit or the letter of the constitution nor the federal or state enforcement laws, either by making, using, selling, or possessing intoxicating liquors.

Will Follow Public's Dictation.

"No intoxicating liquor is served or sold in my home. As an individual citizen I respect and observe the laws. As a member of congress I respect my oath to uphold the constitution and the laws of my country. I stand squarely for enforcement of the liquor laws. Nothing makes my Irish blood boil so much as to be called a straddler. I am as dry as when I wrote my platform for congressman-at-large, two years ago. But I do not believe, whether for or against, that I would have any right as a representative of Illinois to vote contrary to the opinion expressed in a legal and orderly way by the people I'm sent to represent.

"I would follow the same course if my constituents demanded another nation-wide referendum on woman's suffrage or on the question of direct election of United tSates senators. The fact that I have strong convictions on any one of these questions which have been the subject of constitutional amendments would not justify me in trying to substitute my own judgment for the legally expressed judgment of the men and women who sent me to Washington."

Where She Differs with Lewis.

Taking up her two opponents, James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee, and Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neil, independent candidate with Anti-Saloon league backing, Mrs. McCormick said:

"My distinguished, my gallant, opponent, James Hamilton Lewis, says 'if elected senator I'm going to vote wet, no matter what the people of Illinois say.' I can't do what he says he is going to do.

"He can't vote wet. All he could do would be to submit an appeal for the repeal of the amendment to the states.

"My other distinguished opponent, who is running as a candidate of the Anti-Saloon league, says she will vote dry if elected, no matter what the people say. The same thing is true of the dry vote as the wet vote of Mr. Lewis.

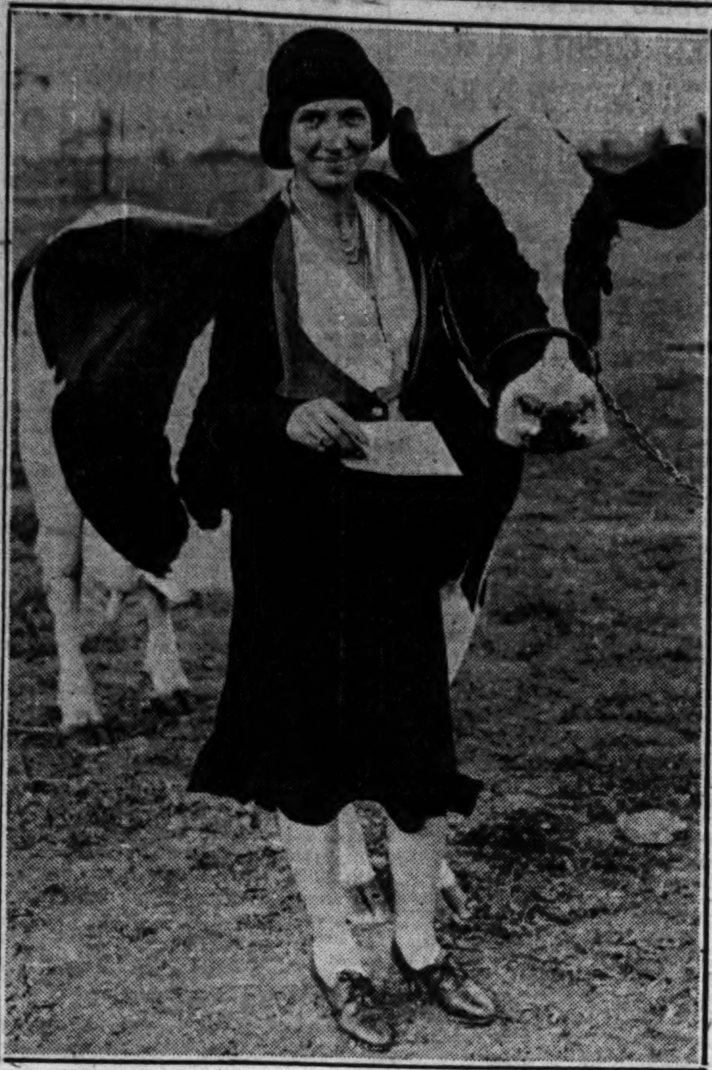
"A senator can vote only to resubmit the eighteenth amendment to the states. If three-fourths of the state legislatures ratified the proposal the secretary of state would then formally proclaim that the eighteenth amendment had been repealed. The matter would not be returned to the congress for action. The final verdict would lie with the states themselves.

"Why Not a Referendum?"

"Why isn't the referendum a good thing? As a dry I welcome it.

"Let us not blind ourselves to the existing evils of present conditions. The Anti-Saloon league, a great organization in abolishing the saloon, today is not correctly named. It ought to be an Anti-Speak Easy league. But it must not become an anti-majority rule association. Nothing can be gained by holding a rump convention."

COW INVITED TO BANQUET



Miss Dorothea Pfister of Chicago presenting invitation to Pabst Creator Korndyke Heather, champion Wisconsin Holstein milk producer, to attend banquet in the grand ballroom of the Hotel La Salle Wednesday, Oct. 1.

To Occupy Stall

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Many are the cows that have been guests of honor at banquets in steak form, but seldom, if ever, has one been accorded the distinction that will fall next Wednesday to Pabst Creator Korndyke Heather, champion milk producing Holstein owned by Col. Fred Pabst of Oconomowoc.

Heather, as she is familiarly called by Col. Pabst and attendants on his extensive dairy farms, was invited today by Miss Dorothea Pfister of Chicago to appear in the living flesh at a luncheon to be given by the Chicago Association of Commerce in the grand ballroom of the Hotel La Salle at noon on Oct. 1.

The function is to be staged in recognition of the increasing importance of dairying in Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Iowa.

Wisconsin, because it leads in dairying, will be specially honored, and Gov. Walter J. Kohler has been invited to give the principal address. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois also is on the speakers' program.

G. O. P. DENIES MAYOR IS OUT FOR 4TH TERM

Thompson Also Replies to Report.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Chicago Republican leaders expressed indignation yesterday over the publication of an assertion that a fourth term campaign had been begun for Mayor Thompson. They branded it as an effort to disrupt the county organization by means of a canard.

The story grew out of a Monday afternoon conference of assistants to Corporation Counsel Ettelson in connection with the approaching primary on judicial candidates to be held by the Chicago Bar association. There, ran the allegation, the city lawyers were told to get out and get busy for Mayor Thompson.

A volley of denials that the mayoralty had been mentioned came from everybody who attended the conference. Corporation Counsel Ettelson investigated and pronounced the story purely imaginative. And Mayor Thompson topped off the answering outburst with a brief statement in which he indicated he will not say until after the November state and county election whether he will be a candidate again next year.

Mayor Issues Statement.

"One election at a time," said the mayor's typewritten statement. "The county election will be held Nov. 4. I am interested in helping my friends."

Since the present county organization and the ticket it is supporting includes all factions of the party—anti-Thompsonites as well as city hall followers—county committee leaders saw in the alleged canard an attempt to pin the Thompson label on the entire state and county slate. And they said so in unmistakable terms.

"Any attempt to inject future elections of any sort into the present campaign," said County Chairman Snow, "is simply an effort to muddy the waters. It is done for ulterior purposes, but the aim is so obvious that it discounts itself immediately."

Attorneys in Conference.

The conference in Ettelson's office was called by John G. Drennan, assistant corporation counsel. First Assistant James W. Breen is one of the nominees for the Superior court. Le Roy Milner, member of the zoning board, is another.

On Monday afternon some two score city lawyers who are members of the Chicago Bar association received by mail the questionnaire sent out by that association asking three groups of questions about the judicial nominees—one group concerning candidates now on the Municipal bench, a second relating to men who are masters in chancery or assistants to the probate judge, and the third concernig th remaining candidates who never have held judicial office.

Conversation among those who received questionnaires disclosed a desire for a comparison of notes about some candidates when it came to answering such question as "Is he patient and courteous?" and "Do you have confidence in his integrity."

"I have asked Mr. Drennan if he mentioned the next mayoralty," said Corporation Counsel Ettelson, "and he tells me he did not. Others present say the same thing."

"The story is untrue," said Drennan. "Somebody lied."

Among the lawyers in the conference were some Democrats. They confirmed Mr. Drennan's declaration of the falsity of the published statement.

The plan of sending a questionnaire to each member of the Chicago Bar association as a basis for the report of its committee on candidates which goes to the membership with its primary ballots is a new one this year. It was one of the reasons for the conference. Neither Ettelson nor Breen attended.

To Ignore Party Lines.

The Democratic county organization announced that in its precinct canvassing this year the workers will ignore party lines and will direct their questions toward ascertaining the leanings of the voters interviewed. They will be asked to say whether they favor the Democratic nominee for senator, James Hamilton Lewis; the Republican, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, or Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, independent.

The organization also has arranged for daily luncheons for all candidates, office holders and organization officials, at which the campaign will be discussed. One of these to be held today will be devoted to plans for getting out the unregistered electors on registration day, Oct. 7.

MOREAU, GOVERNOR OF BANK OF FRANCE, RESIGNS SUDDENLY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—A sensation was created in political and financial circles here tonight by the announcement that Emile Moreau, governor of the Bank of France since 1926 and one of the creators of the world bank, had handed in his resignation to the ministry of finance today.

Although no cause is given for his sudden resignation, which is coincident with the announcement that the Reichsbank is sending $7,000,000 worth of gold francs to the Bank of France, it is believed in certain financial circles that M. Moreau's decision is due to the strong opposition of important banking interests to the almost uninterrupted influx of gold into the coffers of the Bank of France during the last 12 months.

These increased reserves have caused certain anxiety among French economists, who have often issued warnings against the danger of a gold inflation which, it is feared, might result unless an effective means is found to reduce the notes in circulation.

Pilot Agrees to Fly High Over Lake Forest

Evans Spaulding of 123 Onwentsia road, Lake Forest, who last Saturday signed a complaint against Ralph N. Isham of 70 East Cedar street, Chicago, alleging that Mr. Isham flew his airplane too low over his home—or at a height of 25 feet—last night announced he had withdrawn the complaint. He said he had won his point, that Mr. Isham had agreed never again to fly lower than the altitude of 1,000 feet provided by state law.

LEASE OBJECTION CAUSES A NEW AIRPORT DELAY

A new hitch yesterday delayed the enlarging of the Municipal airport by the leasing of 600 acres of school land at 63d street and Cicero avenue. An objection to the lease was filed by John E. Murphy, who has a lease on 109 acres of the school board land for a golf course—the Chicago Meadows. The school trustees turned Murphy's complaint over to the legal department for an opinion.

The airport lease, which has been passed back and forth between the board of education and the city council for many months, was returned to the board three weeks ago by the corporation counsel's office with three minor objections. These were settled. A meeting of the committee on building and grounds was called for yesterday to pass on the amended lease.

Mr. Murphy objected to the lease on the grounds that no specific provision was made for the continuance of his golf course. At present his lease calls for a rental of $20 per acre, with a revaluation clause for 1934.

LYLE CALLS ON JURIES TO JOIN FIGHT ON GANGS

Zuta Death Pistol Traced to Danny Stanton.

the Stanton weapon, declared that beyond doubt the bullets which killed the gangster were fired from Stanton's pistol.

District Attorney Herman Salen of Waukesha, who is in charge of the Zuta murder inquiry in Wisconsin, was reported to have left for Chicago to confer with Coroner Bundesen and the police.

THREATEN RACKET WITNESS

Indirect threats from George [Red] Barker, ex-convict labor agent for coal teamsters' unions, to one of the state's undercover witnesses were reported yesterday to State's Attorney Swanson. It was announced by Assistant State's Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Charles Lounsbury that every precaution will be taken to protect this witness, a business man, and that any other witness against Barker or the racketeering business agents will be guaranteed similar protection.

The identity of the threatened witness was kept secret for fear that he may be further harassed for making disclosures. The manner in which the Barker adherents found out that the man was helping the state is a mystery, according to the prosecutor's office, because the witness never appeared at the state's attorney's office, but was interviewed outside.

Believe Phone Wire Tapped.

A telephone call was made to inform the witness as to where the prosecutors would meet him, and it is thought possible that a tapped wire may have given away the identity of the man.

Soon after the telephone call was received the witness said that he was visited by an acquaintance who inquired as to where he was going to spend the night. The witness said he replied that he was going to take a relative to the theater and his acquaintance then said:

"Well, certain people tell me that Barker thinks you are taking too much interest in this racket investigation. If you go a little farther you might be taken for a buggy ride."

When the safe belonging to the Newspaper Wagon Drivers' union was drilled open yesterday by experts its contents disclosed further evidence of how racketeers take union funds. John [West Side] Barry, now secretary and treasurer of this union, who was one of the men recently arrested with Anthony [Red] Kissane on vagrancy warrants, helped himself to the union funds, it is charged.

Barry, according to the checks discovered, drew out $17,690 from May 1 to Aug. 30. The checks show that within five days—Jan. 30 to Feb. 4—Barry made out and cashed checks for $2,500.

Empty Treasury as It Fills.

The union treasury had a total of $8.54 in the treasury on Aug. 30, according to the bank statement found in the safe. The balance of Aug. 1 was $3,815.29. The prosecutors said that as soon as the union gets a tidy sum in the treasury it is promptly checked out as shown by the May bank statement.

Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court, who ordered the racketeer investigation in a special charge to the grand jury, spoke before the City club yesterday.

"The present grand jury is engaged in the investigation of powerfully entrenched predatory interests," he said. "It has begun an investigation of racketeering based upon violence and sometimes marked by the red line of murder. Succeeding grand juries will be directed to continue the task thus begun."

BANDIT SLAIN; CLEW TO KILLING OF DRUGGIST SEEN

Robbers' Victim Shot as He Lies on Floor.

Chicago and Hammond police last night were trying to link a dead bandit and a live bandit with the murder here of Willis Fiddelke, young pharmacist, who was shot in the head by robbers as he lay face downward on the floor of his drug store at 6560 South Western avenue on Sept. 10. The dead robber, slain by Hammond police yesterday, was John Ashby, 21 years old, a roustabout. His living pal, now under arrest, is Monroe Mullen, 24 years old, of Evansville, Ind. Two girls, their companions, are held.

Ashby and Mullen were barricaded in their hideout in Hammond yesterday, eight hours after they had committed two holdups in one of which their victim was shot in the neck as he lay face downward.

Similar to Other Shooting.

The similarity of this shooting to that of Fiddelke suggested to police that Ashby and Mullen committed both. Their victim on Monday night was Edward Bissa, mechanic in the Lawson garage, 624 State street, Calumet City. He was taken to St. Margaret's hospital in Hammond. His conndition is critical.

Mullen and the girls, Agnes Algaier, 21 years old, 811 East Oregon street, Evansville, and Adeline Lewandowski, 18, 115 154th place, Calumet City, proved stubborn to police questioning, although Mullen finally admitted participating in the Lawson garage holdup. He denied he shot Bissa, and refused to name Ashby as the assailant. Mullen, as well as his slain companion, will be viewed by Chicago witnesses to the Fiddelke murder.

On Monday night, Ashby and Mullen held up Tony Simko, restaurant owner at 825 State street, Calumet City, and robbed him of $30 and a shotgun, according to police. They next entered the Lawson garage, where one of them, police say, shot Bissa. The shooting was prompted by disappointment over the fact that they got only $30 in the second holdup, according to police.

Policemen Trail Robbers.

The robbers were trailed to Hammond by Policemen Tony Hines and Paul Prince of Calumet City. With Patrolmen Charles Plant and Adam Funk of Hammond they secreted themselves in the supposed hangout of Ashby and Mullen at 558 Morgan court, Hammond. The trail was followed to an end yesterday at dawn, when a taxi driver, sent to the Morgan court address for Ashby's and Mullen's clothes, was arrested and compelled to lead the way to the pair's hideout at 660 Trueman avenue.

There Ashby, gun in hand, tried to escape through a rear window. He was killed with a charge of shot from the shotgun of Policeman Funk. Mullen surrendered, as did the girls.

Geisking Held in Indiana Jail Under $21,000 Bond

Rising Sun, Ind., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Theodore Geisking, alleged Indianapolis gangster, was held under $21,000 bond here today following his arraignment in the Ohio county court on charges of aiding in a jail escape. auto banditry and assault with intent to kill. Geisking was arrested in Louisville on suspicion in the slaying of Albert Lingle, CHICAGO TRIBUNE reporter.

EXECUTIVE KILLS WIFE, THEN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Aldridge C. Van Patten, 47 years old, an assistant credit manager of Armour & Co., packers, shot and killed his wife, Maude, as she slept early yesterday and then killed himself with the same gun. The murder and suicide occurred in the Van Pattens' apartment at 6437 Stewart avenue. Business associates and neighbors said they believed Mrs. Van Patten's ill health had unbalanced the husband. His business and personal affairs appear to have been in a satisfactory condition.

A neighbor, R. C. Frederick, who had been a friend of the Van Pattens, became alarmed yesterday morning by the continued silence in the Van Patten apartment across the hall from his own flat. He said that Van Patten in a conversation last Friday evening concerning firearms and the sin of taking one's life had indicated that he was considering suicide. Frederick said he decided he should tell the police to investigate the apartment. This was done, and the bodies were found stretched out on the bed in their bedroom. Van Patten's hand clutched a pistol.

Two notes had been left by the credit man, one addressed to his sister, in which he said: "Overwork and worry have done it; my head is on fire." In the other, addressed to Frederick, he left instructions as to his will and bank accounts.

PUBLIC DEFENDER GETS COUNTY O. K.; TO START IN 10 DAYS

The county board yesterday approved the plan of the Cook county judicial advisory council to speed justice and eliminate legal red tape by the appointment of a public defender to represent indigent defendants. The system will be in operation within ten days, it was said, and will be given a trial until the end of the fiscal year on Dec. 1.

An outstanding attorney is to be appointed by the council. The public defender will have three assistants, a clerk, and a stenographer.

The experiment for the next two months will cost approximately $6,000, which will be paid out of the contingent fund of the county board. Inasmuch as no appropriation for the jobs had been made by the board, it was suggested by J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency expert, that bills for the new office be submitted to the commissioners. If the plan proves successful it will be made permanent by legislation, the commissioners said.

The sale of $5,230,000 in 1930 tax anticipation warrants was also voted by the board. The proceeds of the sale are to be used in paying $1,030,000 in bills and for operating expenses for the remainder of the fiscal year.

The board adopted a resolution, submitted by President Cermak, to join the city council in inviting William Randolph Hearst to visit Chicago as a guest of the city.

CARPENTER FALLS TO DEATH.

Walter Cogswell, 8742 South Wabash avenue, a carpenter, plunged two stories to his death yesterday when he slipped through a floor he was repairing at 23 West Randolph street.

SLAYER SUSPECT NOW CALLS HIS CONFESSION LIE

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—George Sherman Myers, 40 year old junk collector, who last night confessed the kidnaping and killing of Marvine Apple, 8 years old, after he had attacked her, today repudiated all his admissions, which he said he had made under threats of death.

In his cell in the state prison at Michigan City Myers told Captain of Detectives Horace Hamilton, Coroner Chester Crumpacker, and Prosecutor Harry S. Taylor of South Bend that he had been taken from the jail at South Bend to an office building by Constable Basil Strout and Karl Smith, a private detective, who threatened to turn him over to a mob of infuriated citizens unless he confessed.

Myers was arrested last Saturday on suspicion, largely through efforts of Strout and Smith, who had been told by Marvine's playmates that she had gone away with a man whom she called "George."

The South Bend authorities are frankly puzzled over the status of Myers, who admits having served time for arson and adultery. They say that no substantial evidence to link him with the crime has been uncovered outside his now repudiated confessions.

Prosecutor Taylor said last night that he would put the whole matter of investigation of the confessions up to the grand jury probably next Friday.

BANKER TELLS WHY HE THINKS CRIME RAMPANT

Faces Judge Lyle Today Under Subpœna.

Judge John H. Lyle yesterday issued a subpoena for E. N. Baty, executive secretary of the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association, to question him regarding a statement that a case now pending before Judge Lyle is "a horrible example of why crime is rampant in Chicago." Mr. Baty will appear this morning.

The case, Mr. Baty said last night, involves a bogus bond approved by Judge Lyle for Herbert L. McClair, alias Ira L. Anderson, ex-convict, who is alleged to have defrauded the Bowmanville National bank of Chicago out of $1,750 in September of 1928 by cashing worthless checks drawn on New York City institutions. McClair, caught in Maine and returned here at the expense of the Bowmanville bank, escaped punishment and, according to Mr. Baty, the bondsman, Samuel I. Katz, escaped arrest.

Baty Tells of Case.

Mr. Baty explained that the bank retained the services of a private detective agency to search for McClair. He was found serving a sentence in the Maine state prison at Thomaston. When the sentence expired in June he was brought back to Chicago at a cost of $300 to the bank and was indicted by the grand jury on a charge of confidence game.

McClair was released from custody last June 30 on a $3,500 bond furnished by Katz and approved by Judge Lyle. When his case was called on Aug. 14 before Judge D. J. Normoyle he did not appear. He has been missing ever since. Judge Normoyle forfeited the bond. The cashier of the Bowmanville bank addressed a protest to State's Attorney Swanson.

The Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association started an investigation. Katz in his bond schedule had stated the property was worth [illegible] and that a first mortgage of [illegible] was the only indebtedness against it. The investigation disclosed that "the board of assessors had placed a full cash value of $59,700 on the property, and that Katz had committed perjury in signing his schedule by failure to state that a second mortgage of $5,000 was also outstanding and that there were mechanic's liens and tax sales against it," says the Bankers' association report.

"Why Crime Is Rampant."

Early in September Assistant State's Attorney Albert C. De Witt reported to Mr. Baty that a judgment had been taken against the property and an execution and levy delivered to the sheriff—but "foreclosure proceedings were begun Aug. 1 by the holder of the mortgage," and consequently, "the judgment taken by the state's attorney was of no value whatsoever," the report says.

In conclusion, Mr. Baty reiterates that "we think this is a horrible example of why crime is rampant in Chicago. The police were unable to apprehend the man; private citizens financed the efforts, which resulted in bringing him back, and then after placing him in the hands of our law enforcement officials he was allowed to escape by means of a bogus bond."

PURSE ROBBERS CONFESS, BUT ARE FREED IN COURT

One Is Identified by Mother of Judge.

Two youthful purse snatchers, among whose alleged victims was Mrs. Anna Klarkowski, 1952 Evergreen avenue, mother of Judge Stanley Klarkowski of the Circuit court, were freed of one of the charges yesterday in the Criminal court despite their confessions. John Mytnik, 19 years old, 3300 North Avers avenue, was acquitted by a jury of the charge of stealing Mrs. Klarkowski's purse, while the same case against Joseph Dorbrick, 19 years old, was nol prossed by the state's attorney's office.

Mother, Brother Testify.

"All I can say is that you are exceeding lucky," Judge E. I. Frankhouser told Attorney Thaddeus C. Toudor, who defended Mytnik and produced the mother and brother of the defendant as witnesses. They testified that he was at home at the time of the alleged theft, despite the confession made to the police.

The case against Dorbrick presented unusual aspects, the prosecutors pointed out. When he and Mytnik were arrested on July 12, they made a joint confession of nine purse robberies.

Pleads Guilty; Changes Mind.

Dorbrick after his indictment pleaded guilty when arraigned. Attorney J. Frank Wiley was appointed to defend him. When the case was called for trial Attorney Wiley had his client withdraw his plea and substitute one of not guilty.

Mrs. Klarkowski and a woman friend could not identify Dorbrick. They said one of the robbers stayed in the automobile used by the pair. They positively identified Mytnik, however. Assistant State's Attorney Wilkie Ham said he could not use the confession made by the youths because it differed considerably from the testimony of the women.

Charges involving other robberies will be placed against the youths.

WOMAN CASHIER ROBBED.

Mrs. Lilian Sleichert, 5440 South Sawyer avenue, cashier for the Columbia Ice and Ice Cream company, 1025 South Kedzie avenue, was robbed of $281 by two bandits who invaded the company offices yesterday.

Auto Maims Boy, 7; Driver's Release a Court Mystery

Court procedure which allowed a case to be dismissed for want of prosecution when the complaining witnesses had not been notified of a change in dates was disclosed yesterday. The Town Hall court was the scene of the incident last July, and a warrant for the rearrest of the defendants is the move made to reopen the matter.

The warrant charges that Abe Rosenberg, described as a cleaning and dyeing jobber at 4942 North Lawndale avenue, on July 8, ran over and maimed a 7 year old boy and drove away, leaving the child lying in the street. The victim is Thomas Christiansen, the son of Thor Christiansen, a structural steel engineer living at 1929 Morse avenue. The child has just been taken out of a plaster cast and may be crippled for life as a result of his injuries.

Policemen trailed Rosenberg and he was captured and identified by witnesses as the driver of the automobile that struck the Christiansen boy. On July 10 he was taken before Judge Frank M. Padden, who set the case for Sept. 18, on the chance that the child by that time might recover sufficiently to appear as a witness against Rosenberg.

On Sept. 18 the boy's parents appeared in Town Hall court. They were told that the date of the trial had been changed to July 18 and that on that date Rosenberg had appeared in court. The charges against him were dismissed because no witnesses appeared against him. Mr. Christiansen said he had had no notice of the change nor had the police who arrested Rosenberg.

Christiansen retained Attorney Charles S. Dougherty, former assistant state's attorney, and Dougherty had the new warrant sworn out against Rosenberg. Thus far the police have been unable to find him.

Last night Judge Padden recalled that an accident case had been before him early in July and that it had been continued for "about two months." He could not remember having a later hearing on July 18, but said that under the circumstances he would have allowed more than ten days for the recovery of the victim. He promised to investigate the court records and question the clerk.

JAIL OUTGROWN ALREADY; IS ONLY 18 MONTHS OLD

The county board took cognizance yesterday of the fact that the new county jail, built 18 months ago, had already been outgrown. The board members acceded to the request of Sheriff John E. Traeger to equip basement rooms to care for the overflow prisoners. The jail was constructed to hold 1,300 prisoners.

Girl Sues Realty Dealer; Seeks Balm of $100,000

Jacob Grosby, 36 years old, real estate dealer, was sued for $100,000 damages in the Superior court yesterday by Miss Ruth Lauferski, 21 years old, 1506 West 61st place. Through her attorney, Harry X. Cole, Miss Lauferski alleges Grosby proposed marriage on Feb. 10, 1929, but on April 10 of this year said he had changed his mind. Grosby lives at 6414 Newgard avenue.

WAGNER AND LISZT CHOSE THE STEINWAY

VIRTUALLY every musician of note since Wagner has chosen the Steinway. And it is the piano of the important house, of the cultured family. There is little doubt in the minds of informed people as to which piano they would prefer to own. • For there is no other piano that commands the marvelous brilliance of tone that is so notably Steinway's. There is no other piano that will render such perfect service over so long a time. . . . And this great, long-lived instrument is no more difficult to obtain, even for the modest income, than an automobile! Come in to one of the Lyon & Healy stores today . . . and be convinced.

THE STEINWAY BABY GRAND—A Steinway of this size and power . . . at $1425 . . . is an extraordinary value. It is the ideal instrument for the majority of homes. Its beautiful finish harmonizes with any plan of interior decoration. Its size is such as to conserve floor space, and still retain that beauty and breadth of tone which a true grand piano ought to have. There are many Steinway sizes and prices (including period models). Prices range from $875 upward.

not answer them and died without speaking.

When they came to search his clothes later in the afternoon the police found a second 32 caliber gun—of a similar make and age as the other—in Gray's coat pocket. There was one loaded shell left in the chamber.

When Belt finally broke through the door the office resembled a battlefield. There were bullet scars on the mahogany desk and one of the chairs and a large, heavy rug was crumpled. One of the shots that went wild had splintered through a partition window and broken glass had fallen to the floor. The bullet itself fell harmlessly in the outer office, where a score of clerks, some of them women, were working.

Byers' Widow Collapses.

Shortly after the shooting Mrs. Byers was taken to the hospital where her husband's body lay. When she learned that he was dead she fainted and was placed under treatment. Later in the day she talked to the police, but could tell them nothing.

Both men were railroaders of the old school. Mr. Byers, who was born in Pittsburgh Feb. 2, 1878, started his career with the Pennsylvania in 1897. In 1904 he became affiliated with the St. Louis and Santa Fé. Then he left in 1913 to become assistant to the president of the Great Northern railway, resigning a year later to take a similar position with the Western Maryland. In 1920 he became the president of the Western Maryland.

Mr. Byers had five sons, two of them at Lehigh university and three in preparatory school.

Gray B. & O. Veteran.

Mr. Gray was born in Columbus May 15, 1868. He attended Ohio State university and started his railroading career as a Baltimore and Ohio messenger in 1887. In 1910 he was named general freight agent at the Pittsburgh office of the Baltimore and Ohio and in 1913 he joined the organization of the Western Maryland.

He is survived by his widow, who was visiting friends in Columbus. When notified of the tragedy today she started at once for Baltimore.

Six Small Children Are Deserted by Their Mother

The plight of six destitute children, deserted two weeks ago by their mother, Mrs. Marie Sanders, 35 years old, was reported to the police yesterday. The children were in an apartment at 148 South Campbell avenue. Their father, Michael, 38 years old, a world war veteran, gassed and shell-shocked, had been undergoing treatment in the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital and the mother had been earning the livelihood. The couple were married following Sanders' return from France. The children are Albert, 9 years old; James, 8; Loretta, 6; Jack, 3; Joan, 19 months; Patricia Anne, 8 weeks.

SENATOR NYE TOLD 'NORRIS NUMBER TWO' RECEIVED $500 BOND

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Testimony that George W. Norris "No. 2," the erstwhile Broken Bow grocer, had received a $500 bond after completing his filing as a Republican opponent of Senator George W. Norris, was heard this afternoon by Chairman Gerald P. Nye of the senatorial committee investigating campaign expenditures in Nebraska.

A. Paul Johnson, Browen Bow attorney who handled the filing for Norris, the grocer, testified about the bond. In doing so he contradicted testimony he previously had offered.

Without questioning he launched into a long narrative contradicting some of the testimony of Norris No. 2 and admitting the grocer's entrance was "not of his own volition."

"I assume the bond came from Mr. Seymour," Johnson said. He referred to Victor Seymour, now in Denver handling the Republican campaign in western states.

Johnson asserted Seymour had told him if Norris could be induced to run he would have just as good a job after the campaign if he needed one, as he then held.

Norris himself was recalled to the stand for a few questions just before the hearing adjourned until tomorrow. He said at first the $500 bond was "simply placed in his hands," but later said it was from Mr. Seymour, "he believed."

NAVY RECRUITING TO BE SLOWED UP TO CUT EXPENSES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—A temporary reduction of enlisted personnel will be effected by the navy department as a part of its contribution to the Hoover retrenchment program, it was disclosed today. The cut will be made effective through a gradual slowing down of recruiting during the rest of the year. Orders cutting down the normal recruiting rate will go into effect at once.

While secrecy marks the navy's curtailment plans, it was learned that the existing naval enlisted strength of 84,500, approved by congress, will be cut by possibly as many as 2,000 men, a figure corresponding roughly to the number of enlisted men that will be released for other assignments when three battleships are stricken off the navy list next month in accordance with the scrapping sections of the London naval treaty. It is anticipated that a saving of above $2,000,000 will result.

Action Taken to Cut Expenses.

The reduction of personnel is one of a number of steps taken by Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, and Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, in their efforts to avoid the expenditure of approximately $30,000,000 of the 390 millions voted by congress for financing the navy during the 1931 fiscal year. The $30,000,000 represents the amount which the President feels the navy should reduce its spendings in order to insure a balanced budget at the end of the year.

Other economy moves will include reduction of the number of warships in commission, probably some cut in complements of commissioned warships, the closing down of a few shore stations, curtailment of flying activities and flying hours, postponement of purchases of supplies, and delay in repair and shore construction work.

Asks Curb on Naval Activities.

Secretary Adams announced today that an annual savings of $200,000 would be effected through placing the naval station at Key West, Fla., on an inoperative list. The secretary also directed that flight operations throughout the naval aeronautics organization should be reduced to the absolute minimum without undue sacrifice of efficiency.

The total number of flying hours were ordered cut. The naval station is to be placed on an inoperative status not later than Nov. 15.

The secretary's order stated that the personnel of the Key West station should be reduced to a minimum. Personnel at the station now includes five officers and thirteen men of navy, two officers, and forty-nine men of marine corps, and 125 civilians.

The industrial plant will be closed. The headquarters of the 7th naval district, the communications' offices, and the training of naval reserves will be continued.

DEBT RIDDEN FAMILY OF SIX DIES TOGETHER

York, Pa., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Harry Dietrich, 40, a farmer residing near Spry, seven miles south of York, killed his wife and four children with an ax and then hanged himself. He left a note saying the family had decided to die together because of financial worries. The quintuple murder and suicide apparently took place Sunday night.

Coroner Zach said the bodies were not found until late this afternoon when John Eppley went to the farm to inquire why an order of potatoes had not been delivered to him.

Eppley found Dietrich's body hanging from a rafter in the barn. He notified the coroner, who cut down the body and then went to the house, finding the bodies of Mrs. Dietrich and the four children, Mabel, 11; Paul, 10; Anna, 8, and John 5.

Slays Wife and Self.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Victims of murder and suicide, the bodies of David C. Manson, 53, and his wife, Helen Manson, 22, were found today in their apartment in the first block of Academy avenue, Mount Lebanon.

Since Sunday morning, police believe, they have lain dead in the apartment where they lived somewhat turbulently, according to neighbors, for five months.

REIGN OF TERROR RAGES IN POLAND; 57 HOMES BURNED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Sept. 23.—Despite efforts of an increased police force, reinforced by the army, Ukrainian malcontents are continuing their reign of terror and incendiarism.

Further reports of the burning of Polish estates in Galicia were received today. Hundreds of arrests were made. Terrorists set fire to the Polish district in the city of Kozow, near Lwow, destroying 57 houses.

The Lwow police today arrested Julius Holewinski, alleged to be the commander of a Ukrainian terrorist organization. Documents, which were alleged to establish his connection with anti-Polish attacks, were said to have been found. These attacks included the attempt to assassinate former President Stanislaw Wojciechowski, the assassination of Prof. Sboinski, and numerous mail robberies.

GRAND RAPIDS PLANS CAMPAIGN TO REVIVE TRADE

Series of Ads Designed to Disprove 'Hard Times'

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Flinging a challenge to business depression, Grand Rapids has undertaken an advertising campaign which it hopes will receive a national response and be the lever to lift the United States back to normalcy.

The city commission unanimously has authorized City Manager George W. Welsh to make a survey to determine the amount of civic coöperation available in putting the project across. It has declared that if public financing can be secured the city will lend the prestige of its name to advertisements. If public spirit is insufficient for success the commission has gone on record as favoring an appropriation for the purpose.

Psychological Depression.

The scheme involves a series of 26 advertisements based on the reasoning that the only thing which keeps the country from prosperity is that buyers everywhere are psychologically depressed by the cry of "wolf." Create buyer confidence and the remainder of the industry will revive, the sponsors hold.

Examinations of bank balances, savings accounts and other repositories of the country's wealth disclose that there is more money available per person than ever before, backers of the movement contend. The buyer merely is afraid and is hoarding his money against a rainy day that need not arrive if only he will blast the clouds with a spray of gold.

Ask Others to Help.

The advertisements, as tentatively outlined, will appeal to the buyer's instinct of fair play and be written to offset the prevalent impression that times are beyond redemption.

They will appear in local papers and reprints will be sent to approximately 200 key cities throughout the country. Newspapers in the other cities will be asked for editorial comment or to join the movement by sponsoring similar advertising. Radio, magazines, community clubs, chambers of commerce and other mediums of publicity will be furnished information.

No attempt to exploit Grand Rapids will be made. The advertisements will mention the city only in a small line stating, "This business editorial sponsored by the City of Grand Rapids."

Lumber Dealer's Idea.

The idea which the city is undertaking to sponsor came originally from Frederick E. Stiles, a lumber dealer, who already has proven the effectiveness of such a campaign in a small measure.

Impressed with the lack of confidence in the buying public and feeling assured that there was as much money in Grand Rapids now as in the past, he paid for his space and ran a series of ads of the tempo to be sponsored by the city.

Although short the campaign had a notable effect, advertising men who checked it declared. Mr. Stiles, who had written his own copy, became convinced that such a drive would be of national benefit if sponsored by a municipal government rather than a private group.

He carried his appeal to the city commission and was favorably received.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE ASKS CHANGE IN DRY LAW

Concord, N. H., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Millard Tydings, Democratic United States senator from Maryland, attacked President Hoover's administration and prohibition in a keynote speech before the state convention of New Hampshire Democrats today. The convention adopted a platform calling for a new constitutional amendment to permit each state to decide whether or not it will be wet or dry.

TARIFF BOARD SETS DATES FOR PUBLIC HEARINGS

Inquiry Is Under Flexible Provisions of Law.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—In his first announcement of plans of the reorganized tariff commission Henry P. Fletcher, the chairman, today made public dates for hearings in eleven investigations. The action represented a speeding up of the procedure heretofore followed, as from six to eight months usually have been devoted to field work by agents of the commission in advance of public hearings.

The investigations are among those instituted under the flexible provisions of the tariff law at the request of the senate in resolutions adopted in the closing days of the session of congress which ended in July.

Hopes to Speed Work.

Mr. Fletcher said that new regulations for the handling of cases have not been agreed upon as yet but that it is the purpose to expedite matters as much as possible.

The announcement of early hearings was regarded as in line with President Hoover's desire to lose no time in the adjustment of rates which may be too high or too low under the new tariff law. Coming at this time in the midst of the senatorial and congressional campaigns the commission's activities presumably will be stressed by Republicans as showing the purpose of the administration.

Straw hats, Oct. 28; pig iron, Oct. 30; woven wire fencing and wire netting, Nov. 5; ultramarine blue, Nov. 6; smokers' articles, Nov. 7; pigskin leather, Nov. 11; maple sugar and maple sirup, Nov. 12; wood flour, Nov. 13; wool felt hats, Nov. 14; wool floor coverings, Nov. 18; furniture of wood, Nov. 19.

Under the procedure heretofore followed a preliminary statement of information embodying findings of field investigators for the commission has been made public at the time of the announcement of public hearings. These statements have formed the basis of discussion at the hearings. This was not done in these cases, Mr. Fletcher indicated, to save time. It has not been definitely decided, he said, whether preliminary statements of information will be made public hereafter.

Under the flexible tariff system the commission will recommend to the President such changes in duties as are necessary to equalize costs of production in this country and in the principal competing countries.

BROKER IS FOUND GUILTY.

Arthur L. Terrell, who operated a stock brokerage office in South La Salle street until several weeks ago, was found guilty yesterday by Municipal Judge W. W. Damron of selling stocks without a license. Penalty will be pronounced in a few days.

PRESS HUNT FOR HAZEL K. GROVES, MISSING BANKER

The search for Hazel K. Groves, missing treasurer of Lake county, Indiana, and president of the American State bank of East Chicago, went ahead yesterday while state bank examiners and public accountants continued their inquiry into Groves' financial affairs. No trace of the missing official has been found since he was seen last Friday, a short time before he was to have attended a bank directors' meeting.

Thomas D. Barr, chief of the state bank examiners, last night said his audit of the bank probably would not be completed before tonight, and he did not amplify his previous statement that evidence of violation of the banking laws had been found, although no cash shortage has been reported except for a slight overdraft in the banker's personal account.

Examiners for the state board of accounts, which supervises public offices, are at work on Mr. Groves' records as county treasurer, but have reported no irregularities. Oliver Starr, Lake county prosecutor, said no affidavit for Groves' arrest has yet been filed.

It is understood that Mr. Groves went heavily into debt as a result of stock market speculations.

Burglar Falls Two Stories; May Die of His Injuries

An unidentified Negro, surprised in the act of entering a second floor window in the home of Philip Cooper, 1220 South Sawyer avenue, last night fell 30 feet to a concrete walk, incurring injuries which may cause his death. Cooper and his wife had just returned home when they saw the man at the window. The burglar became frightened and slipped from a narrow ledge. He was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

ADMITS KILLING PEACEMAKER IN QUARREL AT INN

Jesse E. Childress, 31 years old, 2363 North Newland avenue, yesterday confessed to Lieut. Lester Laird of the county highway police that he fired the shot that fatally wounded John E. Sowinski, 25 years old, 4636 North Leamington avenue, early Sunday morning.

Witnesses to the shooting, which occurred in front of the Spaghetti inn, 4420 Natchez avenue, gave police the license number of a car which they saw speed away after the shooting. The license was traced and Childress was arrested early yesterday at his home. He confessed the ownership of a gun found in his car and also his part in the shooting. He told the police he was intoxicated at the time and fired wildly during a quarrel which Sowinski was trying to stop, according to witnesses.

DRIVE FOR NEW CALENDAR TO BE PUSHED IN HOUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Renewed efforts to obtain congressional action promoting an international conference to consider worldwide adoption of the new thirteen month calendar are expected at the forthcoming session of congress in December.

Pending before the house committee on foreign affairs is a joint resolution, introduced by the late Representative Stephen G. Porter [Rep., Pa.], chairman, requesting the President either to call or accept an invitation to participate in such a conference. The resolution was introduced last April 29, but, due to the rush of the closing days of the session, it was left in committee to be acted on next winter.

Calendar reform has been placed on the agenda of the next general conference on communications and transit to be held under the auspices of the league of nations in 1931.

United States to Be Represented.

The United States, although not a league member, will be represented at the conference. Passage of the Porter resolution would insure American participation in further sessions designed to make the new calendar effective.

National committees formed to advance the calendar revision plan are at work in a score of countries, including the United States. The American committee, headed by George Eastman of the Eastman Kodak company, is composed of leaders in business, industry, labor, science, and politics.

So rapidly has the calendar reform movement progressed in this country that approximately 100 large business concerns are using the new calendar for their interior operations while thousands have indorsed it.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. of Chicago is one of the latest firms to adopt 13 months periods in its accounting branch, having adopted the new system for the first time in 1930.

List of American Users.

Among the other important concerns listed by the national committee as users of the new calendar are:

Under the most favored new calendar plan all months would be equal, having exactly the same recurring 28 week days. The day of the week would always indicate the monthly date and conversely, the monthly date would indicate its week day name. The complete four weeks would thus exactly quarter all months. These changes it is argued, would remedy the defects in the present calendar, due to the fact that the months are unequal and that the month is not an exact multiple of the week.

NAVAL AVIATORS GET THEIR BEARINGS FROM BROADCASTING RADIO

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Naval aviators have discovered a way to use broadcasting stations without having to listen to them.

SUIT DEMANDS RECEIVERSHIP FOR CELOTEX CO.

Dahlberg Is Accused of Illegal Profits.

A bill was filed in the Superior court yesterday in behalf of William L. McFetridge asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Celotex company on the grounds of insolvency. McFetridge, who owns fifty shares of Celotex stock, alleges in his bill that B. G. Dahlberg, president of the company, "and a hand picked board of directors made more than $10,000,000 in secret profits under the guise of furthering the financial condition of the company."

McFetridge, who lives at 5910 North Rockwell street, is represented by Attorney John F. Tyrrell. His bill also asks that an accounting be made. The Dahlberg Corporation of America, Dahlberg & Co., Mr. Dahlberg and nineteen other directors of the Celotex company were named defendants.

Charges Resale Deals.

Dahlberg and his associates, the bill alleges, when contemplating the organization of the Celotex company, obtained options on land and equipment which they sold to the Celotex company at a cash profit of $5,000,000 and received in addition 82,000 shares of stock worth another $5,000,000. The property cost the stockholders ten times more than its actual value, the bill says.

Sugar mills and plantations in Porto Rico, Cuba, and Louisiana were acquired by Dahlberg and in the face of a ruinous sugar market were unloaded on the Celotex company at a further secret profit, according to the bill.

Large sums of money were spent in developing the West Coast company, a subsidiary, which was later abandoned at a great loss, the bill charges. Another subsidiary, the South Coast company, is in a receivership, it is stated.

Insolvent, Plaintiff Says.

McFetridge declares the Celotex company is hopelessly insolvent and unable to meet its obligations. The last annual statement on Oct. 31, 1929, he alleges, showed advances to affiliated companies of $416,820 and deferred advances of $1,489,421. Patents are carried at $5,225,000 although they have no sale value, it is charged, while plants and equipment are carried at $6,141,000 but are not worth $4,000,000.

McFetridge declares that $11,462,165 should be deducted from the amount set forth in the statement as gross assets, leaving $7,100,000, as against liabilities of $18,000,000. The quarterly dividend on common stock was passed in June of this year, he alleges, because the company was unable to meet it.

Mr. Dahlberg was out of the city last night, but was expected to return today. The firm of Alden, Latham & Young, attorneys for the company, declined to issue a statement other than that "McFetridge is not a stockholder of record of the company."

A similar suit, asking for a receivership, was filed at Wilmington, Del., last May, but was dismissed.

Clear Up That Tongue + Fresh Yeast Will Do It + By Correcting Evils Here

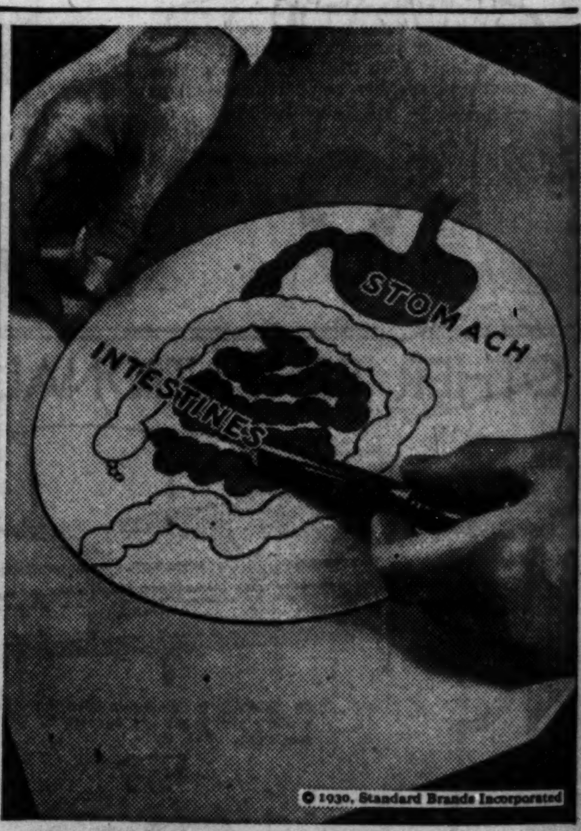
AN INFALLIBLE SIGN of a disordered condition within : : . white-coated tongue with bad breath, and a bad taste.

FAITHFULNESS IN EATING YEAST tones up digestive organs and brings keen appetite by normal means. Adopt the treatment and see what improvement two months bring.



© 1930, Standard Brands Incorporated

THIS IS WHERE 90% of our common ills begin. Keep intestines clean with yeast and your whole body benefits.

Look at your TONGUE . . . is it COATED?

That's almost the first symptom of INTESTINAL FATIGUE . . . a serious condition that causes 90% of our commonest ailments

REMEMBER the kindly old family doctor who used to come to see you when you were a youngster? Remember his first words, his first step in finding out what it was kept you from play?

"All right now," he'd boom. "Let's see that tongue of yours!"

We've come a long way from the simple methods of the old family physician. But that simple test still tells its tale. The coated tongue is still a sign of internal disorder.

And the amazing thing is this: Many of us, even when we think we are well, find our tongues white when we look at them in a mirror.

Why? Because of Intestinal Fatigue! Many of us suffer from it. Miss perfect health because of it. Stay "below par" as a result of it.

In Intestinal Fatigue, foodstuffs from which nutritive elements have been extracted clog the intestines. This waste stagnates. Poisons form and flood the system because elimination is irregular. We lose appetite, lack energy.

Science, however, has found an answer. Fresh yeast . . . such as Fleischmann's Yeast . . . loosens and moistens accumulated waste matter. It stimulates both digestion and nutrition. It fosters normal action of the intestines.

Steadily and slowly it brings back clear skin, renewed appetite, fresh vigor : : : as it cleans, tones and revives the sluggish intestinal and digestive tracts. Yeast is neither a cure-all nor a recent fad. It has been in use for 75 years. It is recommended by leading specialists the world over.

They tell patients, "Eat yeast regularly : : : three times a day, before or between meals. Keep at it. Don't expect to correct, overnight, troubles that have been developing for years."

Surely there's sound advice. It's worth trying. Just ask for Fleischmann's Yeast at any grocery, restaurant, soda fountain. Every cake is rich in three vitamins important to health —vitamins B and G and the "sunshine" vitamin D. Directions on label.

Not a "Cure-all" . . Fleischmann's Yeast is a health food thousands eat three times a day

Remember, it's important to ask your grocer for Fleischmann's fresh Yeast (with the yellow label) : : : the only yeast that contains the Sunshine Vitamin D! Every cake is "irradiated" to give it this added element so important for sun-starved indoor workers. It is rich in Vitamins B and G, too.

HOOVER'S BOARD NEAR SHOWDOWN ON PROHIBITION

Member to Demand It Reach a Verdict.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(AP)—President Hoover's law enforcement commission, when it reconvenes Oct. 8, will be faced with the proposition that it pass judgment on the prohibition problem.

Kenneth Mackintosh, a former Washington state Supreme court justice and a dry, said today he would insist that the commission, of which he is a member, "go to the guts of the prohibition question."

Mr. Mackintosh has been studying exhaustive reports on crime and prohibition with the commission for more than a year. He wants the commission to say whether the dry law is enforceable, and if it is not what could be done about it.

He is convinced the commission will seek to meet the issue, which he regards as one of the most outstanding economic and social problems since the question of slavery.

Await Final Reports.

He also is convinced the ten men and one woman on the commission are still of an open mind on the controversy, awaiting study of the final reports.

New and comprehensive reports on prohibition, touching almost every conceivable phase of the question, await the attention of the membership. Mackintosh said these reports are "interesting and illuminating."

No proposition is now before the commission from any of its members proposing either modification or repeal of the dry law. Persistent reports that the commission favors modification to permit light wines and beer are scoffed at in Washington. Chairman Wickersham himself last spring asserted that he did not believe the American taste regarded 2.75 per cent beer as "authoritative."

May Guide Administration.

Considerable interest attaches here to the report of the commission. It is expected to have considerable influence on the position of President Hoover and the Republican party in the 1932 campaign.

Chairman Wickersham has given notice several times that the commission is not going to report on whether "prohibition is or is not a desirable thing for the country." However, he said the commission has held the view that if it finds the law can not be enforced or that it can be enforced, that should be stated.

IMMUNITY MAY LOOSEN TONGUES IN EWALD CASE

New York City Officials to Be Called.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—After announcing his determination to try Mr. and Mrs. George F. Ewald before election, and probably Martin J. Healy and Thomas T. Tommaney on the indictments for trafficking in public office, Hiram C. Todd, special prosecutor, outlined today some of his plans for continuing the work tomorrow of the special grand jury which recessed Friday after finding the indictments. All city and party officials called before the special jury will be asked to waive immunity.

A number of city officials, including Mayor James J. Walker, are to be called and a great many Democratic district leaders. Former Sheriff Charles W. Culkin wil probably be the first and will be called tomorrow.

For a few minutes this afternoon the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Crater appeared to be on the threshold of solution when a report reached police headquarters that the body of a man resembling the justice had been found in the lower bay off Fort Wadsworth, S. I.

The first information was that the body was 5 feet 11 inches tall, that all the teeth were missing, and that the index finger of the right hand was mutilated. This description tallied with the one sent out in the general alarm by the bureau of missing persons, but it was inaccurate. Investigation disclosed that the corpse had a full set of teeth and that there was no mutilation of either hand.

KILLS HIS WIFE, FOUR CHILDREN, AND HANGS SELF

York, Pa., Sept. 23.—(AP)—After writing a note indicating he had made a death pact with his family, Harry Dietrich, a farmer, killed his wife and four children and then hanged himself at his farm near Spry. The tragedy occurred Sunday, but the bodies were not found until late today.

As the coroner reconstructed the slayings, Dietrich, apparently maddened by financial worries, strangled the members of the family with binding twine, battered their heads with an ax, then hanged himself in his born.

The coroner found a note saying: "Financial worry. Bury at Strinestown. Tell Sol and Alfred to be good to mother. We are out of their way. Also Calvin Runkle. We decided to die together. I could not leave them alone."

Near the note was a notice that payment was due Sept. 27 on an obligation to a bank.

NEW YORK G. O. P. WET, DRY CHIEFS GIRD FOR BATTLE

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—With the opening of the Republican state convention at Albany less than forty-eight hours away lines were being drawn today for a knockdown and drag-out battle on the prohibition question that may result in the elimination of several G. O. P. chieftains, including, perhaps, State Chairman William J. Maier himself.

Wets Ready for Battle.

Scouts, pretending a knowledge of the workings of the leaders' minds, asserted this morning that the wet forces within the party were beginning to make gains.

Such lieutenants as Samuel S. Koenig of Manhattan, Fred A. Bradley of Buffalo, Harry J. Bareham of Rochester and others were preparing to consolidate their gains and march fearlessly into battle with a repeal plank so that the nomination for governor of United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle might be assured.

Want Drier Dry.

Dry leaders such as Maier, William H. Hill of Binghamton, Hoover spokesman; Representative James S. Parker and Bertrand Snell, among others, have lost considerable prestige in the last few days because of their twofold failure to draft a suitable damp platform and to propose a candidate sufficiently dry to stand on such a platform.

Despite the fact that the Republican chiefs insist there are more than 1,000,000 G. O. P. drys in New York state the leaders have been unable to find one dry big enough to fill the shoes of a gubernatorial nominee.

TRAFFIC JAM

On State, Washington, Randolph and Wabash, traffic is moving slower this week . . . but the traffic officers say they expected it because this is the "Autumn Exposition Week at Field's" and the curtains were raised only last Monday in the Exposition windows.

Take the State Street windows, for instance. Here is a promenade of fashion such as we haven't witnessed since the war. Romantic fashions against romantic backgrounds.

The backgrounds are as rich in romance as the clothes themselves.

The connoisseur will recognize the inspiration of Persia, Egypt and Greece in the impressive modern forms. The color schemes are masterpieces of subtlety . . . with primary colors almost wholly absent and the smart intermediate tones flattering the fashions they emphasize.

And don't fail to notice particularly the beautiful new gunmetal figures (or abstractions, we might say). See how magnificently they wear their rich new velvet gowns.

And so, we might proceed around the whole block, telling you of the exciting new things that appear in each and every window . . . but that would spoil half the fun for you. And then, too, we'd probably run out of words before we were half way around.

U. S. GOES TO AID OF FLYERS JAILED IN CHILEAN PLOT

Accused of Transporting Rebels Into Country.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—The state department announced today that the American vice consul at Concepcion, Chile, has taken steps to determine the facts surrounding the arrest by the Chilean government of two American aviators in connection with a revolutionary disturbance.

The two men, Edward Orville De Larin, 562 Hayes street, San Francisco, and Reid Smith, Readsville, N. C., have been detained and placed aboard a Chilean war vessel at Talcahuano, according to a dispatch to the department from William S. Culbertson, American minister to Chile. They are accused of transporting a group of revolutionaries to Chile from Argentina.

Chile Promises Information.

Mr. Culbertson took immediate steps to look after the interests of the two Americans, the department was informed. The minister interviewed the Chilean foreign minister yesterday and was told that more detailed information regarding the imprisonment of the aviators would be furnished. Camden L. McLain, American vice consul at Concepcion, has gone to Talcahuano.

The American embassy reported the situation quiet at Concepcion and Santiago. Mr. Culbertson said the Chilean government in an official communication charged that a group of Chilean exiles landed in the American plane at Concepcion and attempted a revolution, which was squelched.

Army Remains Loyal.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Chile, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The army, which enemies of President Carlos Ibanez had hoped to turn against him, was declared today by Gen. B. Blanche, minister of war, to be absolutely loyal to the government.

Gen. Blanche said he had received assurance of the loyalty of the troops at Concepcion, where Gen. Enrique Bravos and Col. Marmaduque Grove, retired army officer, had hoped to start a revolution.

The government denied today that a censorship existed. Officials also denied reports that there was a revolt at Antofacasta, northern port.

WIFE OF LEGUIA'S SON FLEES PERU WITH HER BABY

Fears Junta Will Kill Her Husband.

BY GERALD MARTIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA CITY, Sept. 23.—"On account of his age they may spare former President Leguia, but I'm afraid they will kill his son, my husband."

Señora Erma Gutierrez de Leguia, only refugee of the Leguia family allowed to leave the country and, who arrived here with her baby from Peru and is sailing for her father's home in Honduras tomorrow, made this statement between sobs.

"My husband is a young man, he is very quick tempered, not at all diplomatic and always says exactly what he thinks," she continued. "They hate him very much and I am afraid his life is in danger."

Eldest Leguia Escapes.

The eldest son, Augusto, fled with his wife before the revolt started and is believed to be in Chile.

Mrs. Leguia said that the trouble had been much worse than the papers stated. She, alone of the presidential family, felt that the revolution was coming, she said.

"The looks on the faces of the people and the awful quiet before the final plunge were all very noticeable to me. I am sure that the statements that the former president had great wealth banked away in New York or London were false. We are all very poor and, for this reason, I am going to my father's home in Honduras.

"The revolution came so suddenly that I took refuge with my little daughter and brother at the Chilean embassy. The rest of the family with the exception of the former president and my husband went to the American embassy.

Shut in Room 18 Days.

"It was awful. We were shut up in one room for 18 days and were not allowed even to show our heads at the window. Since the mob could not get my husband then we feared they would try to seize our child, but 19 months old. Through the diplomatic corps it was finally arranged that we might leave, but the other were still held.

"The papers have not told of the attacks upon Americans and other foreigners employed at the Cerro de Pasco copper mines. Most of their homes were burnt to the ground and they fled to a nearby village and hid."

Mrs. Leguia arrived on the same steamer on which the new dictator's brother was traveling, but did not know it until later. When the ship stopped at Paita she heard of another uprising there during which Gen. Manuel Ponce, who headed the Lima junta and which later surrendered to Col. Sanchez Cerro, was imprisoned.

Feeling Against Aliens Grows.

"During the last few months the feeling against foreigners had been growing very much," she concluded.

"President Leguia had to employ experts upon his irrigation an construction plans and this upset the Peruvians, who thought that they could do the work just as well. In the last eight years Lima has emerged from a village to a city and Mr. Leguia was responsible for it all. They will think better of him in year to come."

Free Mechanical First Aid

A dead battery, fouled ignition points, or a broken axle are a few of the many mechanical troubles that come unexpectedly. Car trouble may find you far from a garage; it may come as you start out in the morning, or it may come late at night, but always it is unwelcome.

One hundred thousand motorists have protected themselves and their families in just such emergencies by means of membership in the Chicago Motor Club. When they are in need of help they call the club. In 1929 members sent in 120,000 calls for free mechanical first aid and towing service. Eighty-six per cent of the trouble cases were remedied by club mechanics on the spot; the remainder of the calls were tow jobs. No charge is made for mechanical first aid or towing service. Like all other services of the club, this service is free to members.

You are as close to help as the nearest telephone. The service is available at any hour of the day or night.

In Cook county members call the club and the service is rendered by club mechanics. In the sixty-one other counties of the club territory in Illinois and northern Indiana the service is rendered by approved service stations.

In addition to mechanical first aid and towing service, the club provides members with such services as these:

Travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions.

Bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases where a bond not in excess of $100 is demanded.

Accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and schoolboy patrols.

Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed.

Insurance service, which provides the following features: The valued form policy, which in the event of total loss pays the face value of the policy. Accessories are covered without additional charge. Last year the "exchange" returned cash savings to subscribers amounting to $711,332.11. Automobile insurance sales amounted to $3,894,706.04.

U. S. SCIENTIST CONFIRMS SHIFT OF STARLIGHT

Its Existence Predicted by Einstein.

Pasadena, Cal., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Further confirmation of the "red shift" of distant starlight—the sign possibly of evolution on its most gigantic scale—was presented the National Academy of Sciences today.

The red shift is a measurement in light which seems to indicate distant objects in the heavens are moving away from earth on all sides at unbelievable speeds, as if the far edges of the universe are expanding. Its existence was predicted to some extent by Einstein.

Tells of Shift Outward.

The discoveries, made through the eye of the world's largest telescope, were reported by Dr. Edwin Hubble, Mount Wilson observatory astronomer. He gave records extending this shift outward uniformly to nebulae seventy-five million light years ago [light year being the distance light travels in one year]. This is the extreme limit at which the great telescope can analyze light, although it records dimly seen nebulae two times farther away.

Dr. Hubble reported the finding without comment and without attempting to clear the mystery whether they are real speeds or evidence on the new ideas of cosmic evolution. They show an average increase in apparent speed of recession of nearly 100 miles a second for each million light years increase in distance.

Speed 6,800 Miles a Second.

Out of the seventy-five million light year limit they show in one instance a speed of about 6,800 miles a second. This nebulae lies near the corner of the bowl of the big dipper.

The speeds are based on spectroscopic analysis of the light from 34 nebulae, and agree with the red shifts found previously at Mount Wilson to a distance of about twelve million light years. In a few of these nebulae stars are discerned.

A few nebulae have "blue" shifts, indicating approach toward earth. This Dr. Hubble attributed to individual motions "superimposed" upon the recession motion, and said the individual motions may be either toward or away from the earth.

The evolution idea arises from discussion of theories by Einstein and De Sitter of Leiden as to how the universe is formed. Einstein held the size of space was limited by the amount of matter it contained. De Sitter held matter tended to scatter more and more with time. Both predicted red shifts, but for different reasons.

High Speed Cold Snap on Moon.

A high speed cold snap on the moon, a drop in temperature from 156 degrees Fahrenheit to 179 below zero in two and a half hours during an eclipse last spring, was reported by Dr. Edison Pettit and Dr. Seth Nicholson of Mount Wilson.

Doctors Pettit and Nicholson reported their latest finding on temperatures of planets reduced the averages about 20 degrees under previous figures. Even so, Mercury's maximum temperature is about 720 degrees. Venus at night is about 26 degrees below zero. This is her temperature on top of the cloudbanks that eternally hide her from view. Her surface temperatures are undetermined.

Mars varies greatly, but at noon in Martian summer it is about 73 degrees Fahrenheit.

The academy meeting ended today.

MICHIGAN RAISES RECORD CELERY CROP IN SPITE OF DROUGHT

Decatur, Mich., Sept. 23.—The Decatur Cold Storage company opened its plant here today to receive a bumper celery crop, estimated to approximate 10,000 carloads, 2,000 carloads greater than the total yield in 1929 and the greatest production in the last decade in the Decatur district.

The current bumper celery crop is achieved despite the fact that producers had one of the poorest years climatically on record. Early frosts necessitated late plantings and this was followed by the driest summer in years.

Dry weather seems to have aided the plants, roots are deeper and stalks are sturdier. Roots have been found measuring four feet in length.

NEW BOND ISSUES WILL RAISE DEBT TO 465 MILLIONS

County Forests and Park Ask $5,500,000.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The principal local governments of Chicago—the city and the county, and the park and drainage boards—now have an aggregate bond indebtedness of approximately $390,335,000. It is proposed to augment this total to $465,705,000, an increase of $75,370,000.

About two-thirds of this boost is almost certain. That part amounts to $49,200,000.

The special session of the legislature called to pull Chicago out of the financial mire authorized the local governments to issue $63,700,000 in bonds without a referendum of the voters. Of this sum, $14,500,000 has already been issued and the remaining $49,200,000 will undoubtedly be issued if the state Supreme court approves of the fiscal plan in the cases now pending before it.

In addition it is now planned to submit to the voters for approval at the November election bond issues totaling $26,170,000. Two days remain within which such proposals may be placed on the ballot and possibly other issues will be submitted, although that seems improbable. Of this $26,170,000 the city government sponsors $20,670,000, the forest preserve commissioners $2,500,000, and the Lincoln park board $3,000,000.

Several other governmetnal agencies desired to submit bond issues for what they considered pressing needs. One of these is the south park board. The World's Fair trustees predict that an unusually large percentage of the visitors to the fair will arrive by automobile and have appealed to the south park commisisoners to build some highway inlets within the city for the expected traffic.

The sanitary district trustees estimate that they will need $40,000,000 to provide for sewage disposal in the next two years. A nurses' home at the county hospital appeals to the county commissioners as a meritorious project.

But these and other projects for which bonds are needed will not be submitted to the electorate in November, principally because bond issues have not been popular in the last three years.

Forest and Park Bonds.

Of the $26,170,000 in bonds to be submitted at the November election, the Lincoln park commissioners and the forest preserve commissioners believe they can demonstrate that their plans have been carefully considered and that the public has been offered complete information.

The $3,000,000 proposal of the Lincoln park board has been before the public for practically two years, and the purpose for which the money is to be spent has received the indirect approval of the public several times. This purpose is the filling in of the lake from Montrose avenue northward. The fill was originally approved by the state legislature and subsequent bond issues for doing the filling have been approved by the voters of the park district. The last regular session of the general assembly authorized the board to issue $9,000,000 in bonds, the estimated cost of doing the filling between Montrose and Foster avenues.

The first $3,000,000 was approved by the voters last year. The second $3,000,000 is up for consideration at the November election. Each time there is a referendum vote the commissioners claim that the whole project is explained to the voters, so that they are well informed on the subject. During the three year period of popular opposition to bond issues Lincoln park has won approval of its bonds.

Urge $2,500,000 for Preserves.

The proposed $2,500,000 bond issue for improvements in the forest preserves, which has heretofore been defeated by the voters, has been canvassed in detail by the preserves advisory committee. The committee is of the opinion that $4,000,000 should be spent for improvements, but has whittled the request down to $2,500,000.

This committee has spent several months investigating conditions. Its members include Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, William S. Elliott, Edward E. Brown, Fred W. Brummel, Daniel H. Burnham, Rufus C. Dawes, John T. McCutcheon and John C. Lewe.

They have estimated in detail the cost of the 121 structures and areas to be constructed or improved. Thus the county commissioners, who are the trustees of the forest preserves, believe that they have the best business judgment available on the projects, and are able to answer any queries concerning them.

The City Bond Issues.

The city's request for $20,670,000 in bonds was the result of council finance committee meetings of one day—Monday. The aldermen called in Douglas Sutherland of the civic federation and Harris Keeler of the bureau of public efficiency, and these men say they desire more than one day to decide upon $20,000,000 of the taxpayers' money. The city plans to spend the bond issue revenue on bridge projects, street lights, public benefits for paving, bridge and playground repairs, and opening of new streets.

No alderman questioned the need for any of the improvements involved in the bond issues, but there were differences of opinion on the urgency of some of the projects in comparison with those not included in the list. Privately some of the aldermen questioned the policy of bond issues for repairs, suggesting that such expenditures should be a part of maintenance expense, although there were plausible arguments in favor of the program.

No Decision on Lights.

Exactly what is to be done with the proposed $2,000,000 for street lighting is yet to be determined. It was explained that the aldermen will decide this question when they make the next annual appropriation, if the bond issue is passed.

That may have been considered good politics, some observers pointed out. They said it left some aldermen expecting that they will get added, or improved, lights in their wards, and consequently they voted for the bond issues.

It is considered probable that the Civic federation and the bureau of public efficiency will later make formal statements of their attitude toward the bond issues and their recommendations for and against particular items. The city, too, is expected to issue a statement explaining the bond proposals.

Bond issues of the city have been turned down oftener and harder than those of other local governments in the last three years.

HALF OF S. SCHINASI'S ESTATE CLAIMED BY ADOPTED DAUGHTER

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—An application for letters of administration of the estate of Solomon Schinasi, cigaret manufacturer, and his wife, Betti, was filed with Surrogate John P. O'Brien today by Mrs. Nettie Schratter Stoeve, who asserts that as their adopted daughter she is entitled to one-half of the estate, which she represents as amounting to "at least $12,000,000."

Mr. Schinasi died on Oct. 4, 1919, and his wife died at Nice, France, on Feb. 28, 1926. Mrs. Stoeve, in her affidavit, says that her action follows the discovery that Leon Schinasi, only son of the couple, who died on Aug. 16, 1930, left her out of his will entirely, in violation of his agreement with her, and left his parents' estate to his wife, Mrs. Ruby Smith Schinasi, and two young children.

Mrs. Stoeve, in applying for letters of administration with the will annexed, asserts that in September, 1908, she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Schinasi.

Permit Ousted Policeman to Win His Reinstatement

A petition for reinstatement to the police force, filed in April by Hugh McMasters, 6002 Wentworth avenue, was granted on Monday by Superior Judge Michael McKinley, it was learned yesterday, after an attorney for the city had agreed with attorneys for McMasters not to produce as evidence the charges filed against McMasters before the civil service commission which resulted in his discharge in 1924. McMasters was accused of standing guard in a soft drink parlor while two companions took $50 from the till.

They will take off for Salt Lake City tomorrow morning.

LEAGUE INQUIRY FINDS SLAVERY EXISTS IN AFRICA

Liberia Fights Scheme to Establish Control.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Sept. 23.—Slavery came up before the league of nations committee on native labor today when Dr. Antoine Sottile, representing Liberia, announced that the investigating committee had completed a report which is en route to the league assembly.

Dr. Sottile denied that there was anything like 500,000 slaves in Liberia, insisting that this estimate was merely based on the assumption that there are 200,000 slaves in Sierra Leone. The Liberian delegate admitted that a certain amount of slavery and forced labor exists, but insisted that the government was determined to stamp it out.

Dr. Sottile, however, is opposed to the British plan to create a league slavery committee, declaring Liberia cannot permit control or supervision of its domestic problems and that it intends to safeguard its sovereignty.

Charles Roden Buxton of Great Britain explained that the proposed slavery committee was merely to obtain information and investigate complaints of the existence of slavery.

AIRMEN POISE AT HARBOR GRACE FOR OCEAN HOP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland, Sept. 22.—Capt. Erroll Boyd and Lieut. Harry Connor, in their monoplane Columbia, arrived here at 7 o'clock tonight [4:30 p. m. Chicago daylight saving time] flying from Charlottetown, Prince Edward island, where they have been weather-bound for more than a week. If conditions are favorable they expect to hop off tomorrow on a flight to England. The two flyers left Montreal Sept. 13 for Harbor Grace to start their trans-Atlantic flight, but bad weather forced them down at Charlottetown.

Unemployment in Britain Shows 36,158 Drop in Week

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A slight decerase in unemployment was shown in figures officially announced by the British ministry of labor today. The total unemployed on Sept. 15 stood at 2,103,413, which is 36,158 less than the previous week. The total is still 955,894 more than a year ago.

ITALY ADMITS NAVY TALK WITH FRANCE FAILED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Sept. 23.—The failure of conversations between France and Italy to reach an agreement over the outstanding naval problems, which were carried over from the London naval conference, was semi-officially admitted by the Rome government tonight. This leaves little chance that the disarmament conference of the league of nations, scheduled for next February, will bear any fruit, according to opinion here, but denials are voiced that Italy's Genevan tactics were purposely calculated to prevent the meeting of that conference.

Following the renewed optimism just after the German elections that France and Italy would be able to settle the dispute over the equality of the fleets, the Italian press tonight is allowed to say that conversations with France are "so much hollow talk."

Official pronouncement is given that Foreign Minister Dino Grandi will have no occasion to return to Geneva. At the same time the press renews the discussion of how many new naval bases France is creating in the Mediterranean along the African coast and Indo-China.

Von Hindenburg Sees No Revolt Peril in Germany

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—President Paul von Hindenburg tonight made known that he does not believe there is any danger of a putsch anywhere in Germany. He is convinced of the sound sense of the German people and awaits the solution of Germany's internal and external problems on the basis of the existing constitution.

ALLOON PILOTS O GREET ANDREE RSHIP 'HEARSE'

mains Due to Arrive in Stockholm Sunday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 23.—The Swedish warship, Svensksund, which is transporting the remains of Salomon August Andree and his two companions to Stockholm, is expected to arrive at Gothenburg Thursday evening, where a huge reception has been planned. The harbor will be illuminated and many vessels will escort the Svensksund into the harbor.

The warship "hearse" is due in Stockholm Sunday, where it will be met by a destroyer flotilla and a squadron of airplanes. A special guard of honor of 20 balloon pilots will escort the remains ashore.

Take Inventory of Relics.

An inventory of all documents found in the White Island camp of the ill fated arctic balloon expedition, which vanished 33 years ago, was announced today by Profs. Lithberg, Gunnar Anderson, and Ahlmann. After listing the discoveries the professors declared that in examining the relics they had subjected them to special treatment with a view of permanent preservation.

The documents include Andree's diary of 111 pages from July 2 to Oct. 2, 1897, Nils Strindberg's logbook, almanac, and notebook, and Knut Frankel's meteorological journal of 23 pages, covering the march across the ice and a number of unopened private letters.

Experts still hope to solve a so-called "second Andree diary," which probably recites how they reached White Island and the manner in which they finally met death. This second diary, corroded and tattered from long exposure, has thus far defied efforts to decipher it.

Plan Scientific Treatment.

Further scientific treatment is planned in the hope the "last story" may be learned.

What is shown in the film negatives of Andree's cameras has not been revealed, as they are considered the private property of relatives. Photographic experts suggest they be sent to American laboratories for examination.

GERMAN TREASON TRIAL IS OPENED; HITLER ACCUSED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 23.—Fascist efforts to win the support of the German army were charged in a trial which opened in the Supreme court here today. Three artillery officers—Lieut. Oskar Scheringer, Hans Ludin, and Hans Wendt—are charged with high treason for conspiring with the Fascists to forcibly overthrow the republic. This is the first time members of the Fascist party have been charged with high treason, and there is widespread interest in the trial owing to the Fascist victory in the recent election.

Adolf Hitler, leader of the Fascist party, was subpœnaed by the attorney general to testify at the trial after the attorney for the defense declared he also was accused by the Germany army of high treason. Herr Hitler was ordered to appear Sept. 25.

Hundreds of policemen were inside and outside of the court when the trial opened today. It was feared the Fascists and communists might seek to create disorders. The accused appeared in civilian dress, but availed themselves of the military right to have a brother officer, Capt. Meindel, assist in the defense.

Shot by His Son-in-Law During Quarrel in Home

William Monteon, 46 years old, 16 South Damen avenue, was shot four times last night by his son-in-law, Peter Berelli, 22 years old. For a time the shooting was a mystery, but when Berelli was questioned he admitted he fired the shots and said he had done it because Monteon was beating his wife. Monteon was taken to the West End hospital. Police said his wounds were not serious.

MURPHY TAKES OATH AS DETROIT MAYOR; BOWLES STEPS OUT

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Charles Bowles stepped from the office of mayor of Detroit today after losing, step by step, a long fight to retain the post to which he was elected last November on a reform ticket.

The swearing in today of Frank Murphy, 37, former judge of Recorder's court, ended Bowles' nine months' administration and completed his recall, which was started July 8 in spite of appeals of the mayor to the courts. A bitter two weeks' campaign resulted in the recall by a majority of 31,000 votes, but Bowles continued in office and became a candidate for reëlection.

Amid the excitement caused by the assassination of Bowles' radio critic, Jerry Buckley, the mayor faced three opponents and came out second in the election of Sept. 9, Murphy winning by 12,600 votes.

Bowles clung to the office for more than a week by demanding a recount, and it was not known until today that he would step aside without a court fight. In his farewell statement he intimated that he might start such a fight yet, and insisted that he "really" is mayor of Detroit.

Bowles, a lawyer, was supported last November by the Anti-Saloon league and similar organizations.

The recall ballots charged that Bowles "tolerated lawlessness, especially in the form of gambling, and that he was seeking to build up a political machine in the city departments."

Spain Orders Quiz in Death of Narcotic Ring's Enemy

MADRID, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The foreign office today ordered the Spanish embassy in Santiago, Chile, to investigate the cause of the death of Dr. Antonio Pagador, member of the league of nations committee for suppression of drug traffic. The government wants to learn whether Pagador, a Spanish subject, was poisoned by narcotic smugglers or whether he died from natural causes.

SURVIVORS TELL HOW LIGHTNING SPLIT SHIP IN TWO

10 Men Drown; 6 Saved in Boat 75 Miles at Sea.

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Six survivors, who fought hunger and storm in an open boat for 72 hours, brought back today the story of a tragedy of the north Atlantic which claimed ten lives.

A bolt of lightning struck the schooner Carranza on last Thursday night, splitting it in two. It sank almost immediately, carrying down with it the captain, eight passengers and the cook. So speedily did the ship go down that there was hardly time for three passengers and three members of the crew to scramble into a dory. They could see two passengers emerge from the ship's companionway just before the waters closed over the vessel.

Rescued 75 Miles Off Coast.

From the position where the Carranza sank, about twenty miles west of Scatari island, off the coast of Cape Breton, the survivors drifted without food or water and with only two light oars until Sunday night, when a sailor aboard the schooner Vinigette heard their cries. They were then about 75 miles west of St. Pierre, Miquelon. Boats were lowered and they were taken aboard, haggard from exposure and weak from hunger.

The Carranza, a Newfoundland vessel, put out from North Sydney Tuesday with her eleven passengers and 180 tons of coal for Burin, N. F. Most of the crew and passengers were in the cabin that night when a sudden electric storm broke. The lightning bolt struck with a crash. The ship filled within a few seconds.

Captain Sinks with Ship.

All who perished were from Newfoundland. Capt. Joshua Matthews, 33, of Grand Bank, went down with the ship, as did the cook, John Robbett, 17, of Push Through. The passengers who died were Thomas White of Fortune Bay and Samuel Moulton, Stephen Grandy, Frank Legge, Joseph Grandy, Joseph Newport, Archie Adams, and John C. Cluett, all of Garnish.

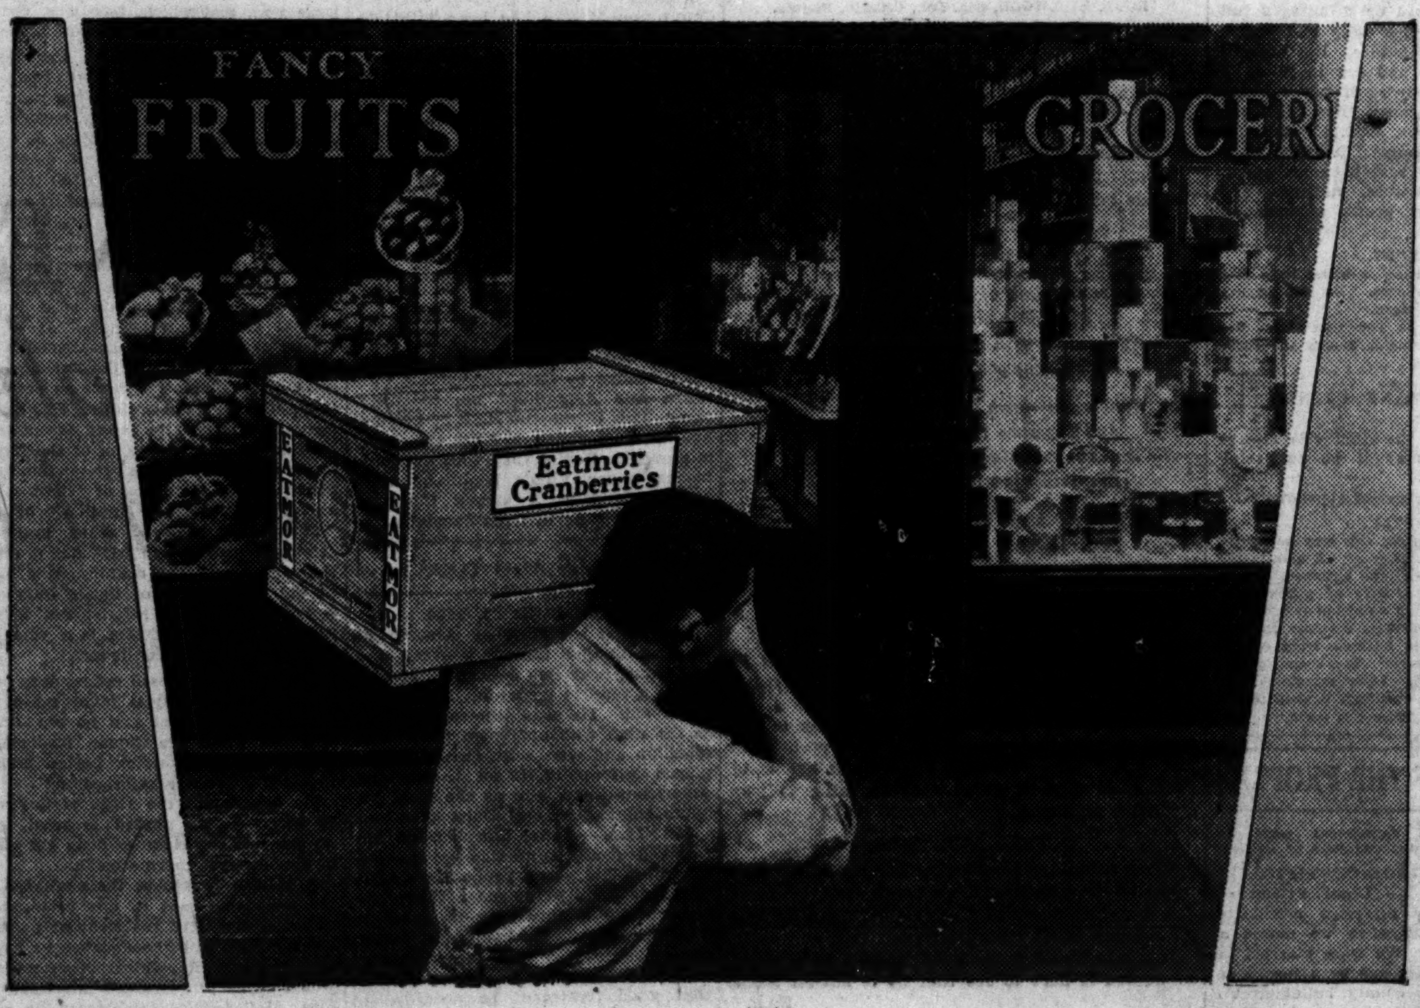
FRESH EATMOR CRANBERRIES NOW IN THE MARKET



HERE come the boxes...into every grocery and fruit store . . . sweet with the tang of the marshes where they are being gathered now . . . red . . . juicy . . . delicious.

And now is the time to buy cranberries for preserving! Inexpensive . . . marvelous for desserts and jelly . . . good at every meal!

Easiest of all cooking, home-made Cranberry Sauce and Cranberry Jelly is the best of all fruit dishes at all times. No peeling . . . no cores . . . no waste . . . just pure, red, delicious tonic food! Eight pounds of cranberries make ten glasses of clear jelly.

See How Easy These Recipes Are:

10-MINUTE CRANBERRY SAUCE

4 cups (1 pound or quart) cranberries, 2 cups water, 1½ to 2 cups sugar. Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes; add cranberries and boil without stirring (5 minutes is usually sufficient) until all the skins pop open. Remove from fire when popping stops. Pour the sauce hot in sterilized jars and seal tightly. Keep in dark cool place.

CRANBERRY JELLY

Cook cranberries until soft with 3 cups of water for each 8 cups of berries. Strain the juice through a jelly bag. Measure juice and heat to boiling point. Add one cup sugar for each two cups juice; stir until sugar is dissolved; boil briskly for 5 minutes. Pour into glass tumblers, porcelain or crockery molds and cover with paraffin.

BOYS and GIRLS! WIN $300

Here is the chance for some bright boy or girl to win $300. Our bank believes in future Americans who daily attend our public schools. It believes they have bright ideas.

To test our theory we have arranged a contest for school boys and girls up to the age of 18 years.

A prize of $300 will be awarded for the slogan which best typifies the Spirit, Progressiveness, Security, Safety, and Character of the Citizens State Bank of Chicago.

Any boy under 18 years of age is qualified to participate. The slogans may be written or typed and should be mailed to CONTEST EDITOR, Care Citizens State Bank of Chicago, 3228 Lincoln Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

The Contest Is Now Open

It Closes Saturday, Dec. 6, 1930

All slogans submitted will be judged by a committee selected from business men in this great North Side district. The winner will receive a prize of $300 in cash. The next 50 best slogans will receive a special prize of $5.00 each.

There are no other conditions. Any boy or girl can take part. Slogans may be submitted by any boy or girl whether a customer of this bank or not.

By this contest we expect to originate a brief, catchy, true to the mark slogan which will be typical of this Bank.

Here are some brief facts to help you build the winning slogan:

This symbol is a constant reminder to thousands of the security of their investments and savings.

The Bank was founded in 1913.

It has had the most rapid growth and development of any Northside Bank.

It has resources of over $12,000,000.00.

It has over 500 stockholders—all prominent people of the Great Northside.

It has an invested capital of over $2,100,000.00.

Its cheerful atmosphere and pleasant service have won for it the name of "Sunshine Bank."

It has absorbed three banks in the past year.

The Addison National Bank was absorbed in September, 1929.

The Marshfield Trust & Savings Bank was absorbed in November of 1929.

The Northcenter Trust & Savings Bank was absorbed in September of 1930.

The absorption of these three banks, together with its own natural growth, has placed it in the position of being one of Chicago's strongest Banks.

Now, boys and girls, ask your parents to explain these outstanding facts; ask them to help you write a slogan which expresses your ideas of the character, spirit, and strength of this outstanding bank. Then write or type your slogan neatly, together with your name and address, and submit it to our Contest Editor.

Start today. Write and rewrite your slogan until it is brief, clear, and rings with a truthful interpretation of a bank which is the pride of the Northside and a Gibraltar of strength and security.

ELECTRIFICATION BY COERCION.

Arthur Henning's recent TRIBUNE article recalling how New York City won electrification of its railroads shows that it required a fight. A determined citizen, Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, took advantage of a state of public mind, caused by the tunnel accident of 1902, and brought sentiment to a head for action. The railroads fought back and they had favorable position to begin with. They had political control and well entrenched interests. Wainwright, a Spanish war veteran then, now with world war service and a public career added, was determined and persistent. The legislature resisted in behalf of the roads, but public opinion gathered against the opposition and by the stages familiar to persons who have seen such conflicts public interest finally prevailed.

The New York terminal lines had better arguments against electrification there and then than can be offered against it in Chicago now. In that day electrical motor power could be regarded as experimental. Now there is the demonstrated success of it. It is a success here with the Illinois Central. The railroads dug themselves in to keep from it in New York and when forced to it turned the consequent results to their credit. They had a dominating position in New York politics when they tried to resist both the demands of the public and the plain requirements of their situation. They haven't such a position in Illinois politics. The railroad authorities there, it is true, were personally within reach of opinion, which is not the case here, but that personal contact was also personal political power.

New York made a success of its fight over a generation ago. Chicago should be able to do so in more favorable conditions. One thing is lacking. That is the proper public attitude. The people of this region must want electric transportation enough to force it. They can. The times are just right for it. Money is cheap. Copper is cheap. Material costs are down. Employment is needed. It isn't an experiment but a perfected method. Public inertia means railroad indifference. Public interest requires coercion. That will mean electrification.

MAKE IT THREE CENTS.

Mr. Hoover, at the suggestion of the postoffice department, will support a half cent raise in first class postage. Two and one-half cents for letters will remove $50,000,000 of the postal deficit, according to official estimate, and legislation will be urged to make it legal.

For the individual who buys a stamp to mail a letter a three cent rate is perhaps less bother and no hardship, and unless government vending machines are generally installed ten cents for three stamps will probably be charged where mechanical venders are used. For the small user of stamps three cents will be no hardship.

With the cheap two cent rate the first class mails today are clogged with matter that belongs elsewhere. The three cent rate will eliminate some of this matter, and for those who still use first class mail will raise the relative value of first class delivery. Three cents for first class mail is better.

LIQUORED AND LACQUERED.

Federal government analysis of the blushful Hippocrene which has been puzzling and paralyzing the dry countryside and the fairest villages of the plain discloses that the potent element is one of the constituents of varnish. Its presence in the fake Jamaica ginger with which the more ardent drys of Kansas, Georgia, Alabama and other teetotal states made merry Saturday nights and on their birthdays accounted for the deleteriousness and possibly for the delights in the drink. It explained why some of the more prominent dry townsmen haven't been able to get about to fetch and carry washings for their wives and why many of the sturdy yeomanry haven't been picking the potatoes or the cotton. After a few shots of the fake ginger they caint lift their feet.

The explanation may be satisfactory to the laboratory, but elsewhere it only makes another mystery. Is it to be understood that the citizenship of Kansas, Georgia and the other dry states can't drink furniture polish and floor varnish and carry its liquor? Has the bone and sinew of the republic so degenerated that prime old prohibition likker is too much for it? This can be no noble experiment.

More robust sections of the country have developed not only an immunity but a fondness for a dash of varnish, lye, wood alcohol, buckeye, gasoline, garden spray or other piquant mixture with the tipple procurable under the experiment. The finer tastes can detect when the furniture polish is a little under a good standard and the American palate no longer is easily pleased by the more pallid drinks of nonprohibition countries. It is noted as a disadvantage of travel in Canada that the government controlled supplies lack a real body. Many experimenters have complained that Canadian whisky does not take holt of a person the way it should. It does not break anything when it kicks.

The increasing taste for good prime mule has been making it dubious that the United States would now give up prohibition if it could. A return to the old days of government inspected liquor would be regarded by many hale and hearty American citizens as too much of a sacrifice. They don't want the government stamp on the bottle but the government poisons in it.

It is not believable that the robust Kansans, Georgians and other drys have been affected as they say they have been by furniture polish. The lazy scoundrels have found an excuse to quit work by saying they couldn't hitch their feet along.

SCIENCE AND CRIME.

Through use of the new scientific tests it has been established that the revolver taken from Danny Stanton, a gangster associated with Al Capone, was used in the killing of Jack Zuta.

This finding upsets one of the police theories of the crime, it is said, but is also of importance as illustrating the need for bringing to bear in the detection of crime the resources of science, as is done in Europe. These resources are already highly developed and in systematic use in European police practice, and it must seem strange to the foreign observer of America that in a country which makes such general and profitable use of science in industry it has been so long ignored in dealing with our problem of criminal control. Our police methods are haphazard and far behind the times and should be brought up to them without further procrastination. The establishment of two departments of scientific crime detection, at the University of Chicago and Northwestern university, and the recent proposal for an institute for this purpose under the auspices of the state university are welcome signs of an awakening to this need.

We hope the subject will not be allowed to rest at this preliminary stage, but that the public authorities of the state and the cities will take action to establish systematic use of science in this field. The police and prosecuting authorities should be induced to work out such a system with existing agencies and improve their methods with their aid.

THE DEMOCRATIZATION OF BASEBALL.

Mr. Wrigley has taken one doubt from the minds of his customers and has given them something to quarrel about. Mr. McCarthy will be succeeded as manager of the Wrigley players by Rogers Hornsby, who will endeavor to be civic next season. The customers who blame Mr. Wrigley may form to the left, those who blame Mr. McCarthy to the right. For good sportsmanship it is hoped that none will carry lethal weapons and that everything may be all in the order of a nice clean fight.

Mr. McCarthy, taken on when the Cubs were a rather shameless lot, has had the advantage of Mr. Wrigley's intensive marketing and, nearly making good, did not quite. He was three games shy of the world championship last year and may be about that number shy of the National league championship this year. It has been a close thing. The breaks were what baseball ought to expect. A dependable pitcher died. Another threw his arm into the hospital. A good batter broke his leg. Accidents by sea and land, illness and mental anguish wore down the civic band. It sagged in the middle and could not buck up. Mr. McCarthy may recall how often fortune might have been brighter if a pinch hitter had hit or if a pitcher had been able to bear down, if he had taken one performer out or if he had left another one in, but these reflections are common to all management and there is only one manager in each league who does not have to think of them. Mr. McCarthy's is the common lot and Mr. Wrigley wants a world flag.

In these columns there is a willingness to experiment with the game. Obviously Rogers Hornsby is only being turned loose on the same old road. Connie Mack has one idea. If he doesn't like his season he can kick himself, a satisfying proceeding. The other idea, the suggested experiment, is not to have a manager. In line with notable tendencies, indorsed by forward looking thought, baseball could be managed by the customers. If Mr. Root is to be taken out of a game let the cash contributors decide in an interval for voting as to his recall and for the election of his successor. A referendum on a pinch hitter would leave no residue of animosity if the pinch hitter struck out, and with a recall of umpirical decisions the democratization of the game would be complete. If the freemen are to be polled on the question of war, as is proposed in important bills considered by congress, there can be no doubt as to the workability of baseball management by referendum. It may lengthen the playing time, but new interest will be added and the game will still remain speedier than cricket.

Editorial of the Day

THE LAW'S PARALYSIS.

[Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City.]

Law and justice are opened to general ridicule if not positive contempt by the action of the Chicago authorities in filing charges of vagrancy against notorious gangsters. When men suspected of corruption and assassination can be charged with nothing more serious than loafing and convicted of nothing more heinous than lacking visible means of support, the entire law enforcing machinery of Illinois stands convicted of an impotency that is both pitiful and infamous.

Every act of violence and corruption known to modern criminology has been committed in Chicago. Murder for motives of revenge or for a stated compensation has become commonplace. Bribery without disguise has become a recognized vocation. Racketeering has run rampant. In high places and low runs the slimy trail of the defiant criminal. But all that the agents of justice can do—all that they even undertake to do—is to file charges of vagrancy against suspected bribe givers, bribe takers and murderers.

Red handed murderers have no fear of the electric chair, but possibly they may be warned to leave town. Men who have organized criminals and terrorized society may be forced to pay a nominal fine for vagrancy. Men who have coined fortunes from corrupt practices may be dragged into police court and fined for lacking a visible means of support. Justice is more than blind in Chicago; it is completely paralyzed.

War upon law and society has been declared and bitterly waged by Chicago's gangland. Defensive war without armistice, truce, or quarter should be waged in return by the organized forces of society. Unless the law and its agents destroy the hosts of evil, they themselves will be destroyed. Catering to crime and coddling its minions will merely aggravate the cancer which is eating out the heart of Chicago.

TWO MILK DELIVERIES.

DR. H. A. HARDING tells us that the plan of delivering milk twice daily is coming into general use in the southwest. The object is to chill the product to fifty degrees within two hours after it is milked and, thereafter, to hold it below that level. He credits Kansas City with having originated the plan.

The writer does not know where the plan of a double daily milk delivery started but he guesses that it gradually evolved. When getting milk from a neighbor was something of a custom there was a double delivery and prompt consumption. When the milk business was put on more of a commercial basis certain health departments exerted their influence to have milk delivered twice daily.

Richmond, Va., achieved considerable reputation for a good milk supply and a low baby death rate. Double daily delivery of milk by farmers to the milk plants was an important part of the Richmond plan. As a part of the story is an experience with the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis. There was an epidemic among the student body which was charged against the college milk supply. The college authorities decided to put a refrigeration plant in the dairy adjoining the cow barns. This made it possible to chill the milk almost to the freezing point within an hour after it was drawn from the cows. This change stopped the digestive disturbances charged against milk and, as a side product, made milk the favorite beverage of the student body.

Just where, in point of time, Kansas City figured in this particular the writer does not know. The history shows the necessity of prompt and thorough chilling of milk; now appreciation of this has slowly spread across the country. In some places the farmer has a choice between chilling the milk on the farm on the one hand, or hauling it to the milk plant twice daily on the other. Dr. Harding tells us that in some sections they have a third alternative—delivering milk once daily but hauling back enough ice to keep the night's milk cold.

The increasing use of electricity and refrigeration on farms is improving the quality of the milk supply.

TREATING PYORRHEA.

J. C. writes: I have a moderate amount of pyorrhea. Had my teeth scraped and polished, but having that done is expensive beyond reason. I have read that pyorrhea is a form of scurvy and is cured by drinking 2 full cups of orange juice daily and eating a quarter head of lettuce. But oranges are high in price and dry in juice.

I read that 11 ounces of raw cabbage equals 1 pint of orange juice. Cabbage fits my pocketbook best. I take 14 ounces of raw cabbage, 1 lemon, 1 glass tomato juice, and raw bananas, onion, melon, berries, lettuce, radishes, and fruit. Even this grows monotonous. What can I do?

REPLY.

The diet you mention is better as a preventive than as a cure. Do not neglect keeping your teeth clean.

Continue dieting as you now are. Get variety by shifting about among the foods now used.

MAY BE MANY CAUSES.

Miss M. writes:

1. Is a pain in the right side always appendicitis or may it be something else?

2. What is the cause of appendicitis?

REPLY.

1. A pain in the right side may be due to any one of a dozen disorders. A pain in the lower right quarter of the abdomen, colicky in character, is suggestive of appendicitis. If nausea follows, the suspicion is strengthened. If later tenderness develops in that region and the pain changes from colicky to cutting in character, the suspicion becomes stronger still. Later symptoms are: leucocytosis, fever, vomiting, constipation.

2. Infection with some pus germ.

DOG GETS ON HER NERVES.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—[Friend of the People.]—Thank you for your attempt to abate the noise of the barking dogs near us on Ingleside avenue. It lasted about a week, but again we are having solos and duets from the dogs between 10:30 and 12 o'clock almost every night. The dogs can bark by the hour and the owners will do nothing to stop them.
MRS. K.

The commanding officer of the 7th district reports that an officer again warned the owner of the dog about the barking. In the event that two warnings from the police do not have any effect it would seem that the proper thing would be to obtain a warrant for the owner of the barking dog.

LOST AND FOUND.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A lost a bracelet and advertised for its return, stating a reward would be given. B, the finder, called A advising him to call at B's home. B had the bracelet appraised and demanded a larger reward than A could pay and refused to return it until A met his demand. 1. Can A have B arrested for theft? 2. If not, what procedure must A follow to get the bracelet?
W. D.

1. No, but B is liable. 2. We would advise the employment of an attorney.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

HORSES VS. GRAIN SURPLUS.

THAT decrease in the number of horses and mules used in this country is directly responsible, in part, for the surplus of farm products is the theory of a treatise issued by Secretary Wayne Dinsmore of the Horse Association of America. Figures to sustain that conclusion are submitted.

According to Mr. Dinsmore, horses or mules on farms consume per head annually the product of about two and one-half acres of fertile corn belt land or equivalent feed from lands of lesser productivity. Horses or mules engaged in nonagricultural work consume the output from about four acres. The difference is the pasture land, stubble, cornstalks, etc., available to animals on the farm.

Then are presented figures that the loss in horses and mules from 1920 to 1930 on farms is 6,327,000 horses and 110,000 mules, and the acreage required to feed them 16,092,500 acres. In cities the loss is 600,000 horses and mules and the acreage required to feed them 2,400,000 acres. This gives a total of 18,492,500 acres formerly used to maintain these animals, now devoted to producing surplus farm products.

Even more impressive is the computation if the ratio of horses and mules to population in 1900 were maintained in 1930. Under such figuring 107,162,500 acres would be devoted to producing and maintaining animal motive power, contrasted to the present total of 52,905,000 acres. The plea is that farmers use animal motive power for their own benefit on such work as can be done with equal economy.

We have not seen the theme presented in this way before and pass it on to our readers. Those wishing to read the whole treatise no doubt could secure a copy from Mr. Dinsmore, who is located at Union Stockyards, Chicago.

What am I searching—dawns that light the west
Or stars that march across the sky by day?
What am I needing that the subtle way
Of beauty leaves a throbbing in my breast?
Am I wanting flowers in the snow
Or winter's glory in the summer heat?
Or am I sad to hear the steady feet
Of time go by with muffled steps, and slow?

Much as I cry for, all I really love
Is flaming trees against a dark blue sky
And winds that roar and tremble as they fly
And pale and icy stars hung out above.
So, heart, bow down and fill yourself with this:

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 24, 1914.

LONDON. — The great battle in France between the Germans and the allies continued today without decisive advantage to either side, and military experts here predicted that it may be several days before the result is made definite. The official announcement from Paris said that the allies had advanced on the western wing and had repulsed the German attacks on the eastern wing. Berlin messages asserted that the offensive spirit of the allies is weakening, that the center is retreating, and that the fortress of Verdun is being successfully bombarded.

PARIS.—A son of Field Marshal Count von Moltke has been killed in the fighting at Esternay.

LONDON.—A Times dispatch says the Germans are moving two 16.4 inch siege guns from Maubeuge toward Brussels. The hauling requires 26 traction engines.

LONDON. — A Petrograd dispatch says that the main Russian forces pursuing the Austro-German army have reached the River Vislok. This means that the plan of the Austro-Germans near Przemysl to effect a junction with other armies further west is now impossible.

EL PASO, Tex. — Gen. Francisco Villa, dominant leader in northern Mexico, denounced the central government headed by Gen. Venustiano Carranza and announced his independence. This places the state of Chihuahua in open revolt against the party in power in Mexico City. All available troops under Villa's command were rushed to meet a strong Carranza force moving north from Zacatecas.

SEPTEMBER 24, 1900.

LONDON. — Marshal Arsenio de Campos, Spain's famous general, died at Zarauz, near San Sebastian, according to a Madrid dispatch. He was 66 years old. He was known to Spain as the man who put down the Carlist rebellion and who, with Gen. Joyellar, placed Alfonso XII. on the throne. Americans know him as the most humane captain general Cuba ever had.

MANILA. — Señor Buencamino has received from Aguinaldo an answer regarding his peace proposals. Aguinaldo declines to consider them and declares he is unwilling to agree to a compromise. An insurgent proclamation, signed by him, directing that American prisoners be set at liberty, that good treatment be accorded to captives, and that $40 be paid to each American surrendering, has reached Manila. Insurgent demonstrations last week prove more extended than at first reported. American casualties in killed and wounded during the last ten days approach 100.

MANSFIELD, O.—Two Dowie elders, Silas Moot of Lima and Ephraim Bassinger of Bluffton, were stripped of their clothing and painted with tar by a mob of 6,500 Mansfield citizens. Elder Moot, who showed a disposition to resist, was kicked and beaten into submission.

ANTHRACITE STRIKE SITUATION.—Collieries around Shenandoah, Pa., will try to resume operations today under military guard; the result is likely to settle the strike if the mines are successfully worked. Several Chicago pastors preached in sympathy with the strikers. The Second Congregational church of Oak Park voted to instruct their pastor, the Rev. Sydney Strong, to send a telegram to Gov. Stone of Pennsylvania urging him to do all in his power to bring about arbitration.

ST. LOUIS.—Fifty miners returned from Montana and brought with them $150,000 in gold. It is the first large party of miners that have come back this fall. They report no trouble with the Indians.

WASHINGTON. — Mrs. Mary L. Longstreet, wife of the rebel Gen. Longstreet, was pardoned by President Johnson.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The state convention passed the ordinance abolishing slavery by a vote of 89 to 3.

NEW ORLEANS.—Carl Schurz has arrived here from an inspection tour in the interior of Georgia and Mississippi. He is en route to the north. Gen. Osterhaus has assumed command of the department of the Mississippi and Gen. Slocum has gone north.

MRS. M'CORMICK AND PROHIBITION.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—On Sept. 10 you published what appears to be a full report of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick's reply to the Anti-Saloon league's refusal to accept the proposed referendum on the 18th amendment. In this reply Mrs. McCormick unfurls the precious banner of constitutional rights and proceeds in valiant St. George fashion to slay the Anti-Saloon league dragon, which, she alleges, seeks to destroy our constitutional right of petition.

I do not here desire to defend the well known A. S. L. I simply want to examine this issue which Mrs. McCormick thinks as important as the slavery issue was, and which, therefore, draws her into the class of Abraham Lincoln.

Mrs. McCormick states the issue plainly as follows: "That issue is whether we shall maintain the right of the people to petition our government." Later she says: "The object of such a referendum is simply to ascertain whether a majority of the citizens of Illinois favors the repeal of the 18th amendment or whether a majority opposes such a repeal."

The issue is not quite as simple as Mrs. McCormick would make it appear. The proposed referendum is a hypocritical and deceitful snare. It is an appeal to all who are dissatisfied with the present operation of the 18th amendment to take snap judgment on prohibition and wipe it out entirely. The referendum offers no alternative except prohibition or new regulation of the liquor traffic whatsoever. The referendum does not even offer the choice of "light wines and beer," "state regulation," or the "Canadian state dispensary system." It simply proposes to wipe out prohibition and throw the country wide open to the exploitation of liquor interests. A vote, under this referendum, to repeal the 18th amendment is a vote for free and unregulated liquor.

Suppose the proposed referendum read as follows: "Do you favor repeal of the 18th amendment and no regulation whatsoever of the liquor business?" Would Mrs. McCormick pledge herself to abide by such a referendum?

No one denies the right of any one to vote on this absurd proposal, and no one has the right to deny the right of any one not to vote on it.

A refusal to accept the challenge of the wets expressed in this referendum is not a denial of the right of petition but a refusal to be hoodwinked by hypocritical city hall political hijackers. It would be an unwarranted indictment of Mrs. McCormick's intelligence to suggest that she does not understand that this is a deliberate attempt by wet Republicans to deceive the voters of Illinois and to deceive the people of the United States by winning a victory on a referendum so absurd that people of dry sentiment, and even people of "modification" convictions, have no alternative but to ignore.

When Mrs. McCormick attempts to convert this clever bit of political chicanery into such an important issue as "denial of the right of free petition" she only adds another chapter of deception to that practiced when she ran as a dry in the primaries, and won her nomination by her appeal to drys, then deliberately deserted them and bowed down before the Chicago city hall buccaneers and received their blessing the campaign for election.

The paramount issue in this senator campaign is not prohibition, is not t right of petition, is not the methods the Anti-Saloon league, but political tegrity—the political integrity of M McCormick and the methods of the R publican organization. Mrs. McCormi and the Republican organization m succeed by demagogic appeals in hood winking the voters this autumn, but s and the Republican party will have return another day and face the iss on common honesty.

ILL-MANNERED SCHOOL BOY

Chicago, Sept. 18.—I am glad some one else has noted the antics of the Tilden Tech boys. Their utter di regard for a woman is enough astound even the most calloused in vidual. Take, for instance, yesterd morning: the Halsted street cars go north had been delayed for perhaps fi teen minutes. When the first one ca along, the boys going to the Tild school made a rush for the car, knock ing women [two of them elderly wome right and left, with the result th when the car pulled out, practical every boy that had been standing the was on board and the women we standing in the street.

This morning I got on a Halsted stre car at 69th street. It was crowded wi these same boys. The man besi whose seat I was standing got up get off at 63d. I had stepped to o side to let him out and a boy wi three school books in his arm slid in the seat to be greeted by another b already in the seat with "Atta bo Ed."

In criticizing these boys no reflecti is meant on their school. I feel th consideration for their fellow men a women should be inborn in every one them, and that no teacher or teach can be held to account for the ear training they have apparently miss

LIGHTNING ON THE LAKE

Chicago, Sept. 15.—In a volume pu lished in 1860 the author in a footno refers to the great lakes.

"Visiting the lake country in 18 he says, "I was struck with the fa that so few trees bore the mark lightning. The rule appeared to be, t nearer the lakes the more rare was for one of these ornaments of the f est to have been defaced by lightni and, on inquiry from the Lake Board Underwriters, I was informed th among the records of lake disast there was not a single instance of vessel having been struck by lightnin on the great American lakes."

I am wondering whether these sta ments could still be made today.

INDIA DELEGATES PREPARE UNITED FRONT TO BRITAIN

Will Draft Demands for Future Government.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Indian delegates to the round table conference which meets in London on Nov. 10 to discuss the future government of India have determined to make every effort to present a united front to the British. With this in view they are arranging a series of informal meetings in London before the real conference begins.

Already a number of committees have been tentatively appointed to study the various questions which must come before the conference and if possible to reconcile conflicting Indian opinion. The first and most important of these is the committee on the future Indian constitution, on which all the legal brains of the Indian delegation are concentrated. This committee will discuss the constitution itself and the relations between the Indian states and between India and Great Britain.

Another committee will attempt to settle the Hindu-Moslem relations, after which it will deal with the questions of the various minorities. It will seek the coöpération of the landholders, the minorities among the mercantile interests, both Indian and European, and of Anglo-Indian and European domiciled communities in discussing what safeguards, if any, are necessary for the protection of these interests and sections of the population.

Quick Action Is Planned.

A third committee will cover the whole ground of India's finances, both internally and in relation to the British empire. Still another committee will consider matters of defense organization. The fifth committee, on India's foreign and dominion relations, will have charge of drafting the various committee reports and putting them into resolution form for presentation to the conference.

If unanimity is reached on the future constitution of India the demand will be presented at the first meeting of the conference by chosen delegates from all Indian sections, and an effort will be made to get the views of the British delegation as soon as possible.

It is reported that 25 of the Indian delegates are determined that unless a satisfactory reply is given to their demand they will retire immediately from the conference.

Halt Speculation in Bombay.

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The government today approved a proposal to extend the moratorium on the Bombay stock exchange for three months, during which no speculative dealing will be permitted. The action was intended to prevent further bear raids and price collapses owing to the current trade depression and disturbed political situation. Only actual cash dealings will be allowed, in recognized securities.

STOP FIGHTING! MANCHURIA WAR LORD TELLS CHINA

Troops Post Peace Orders in Seized Peiping.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEIPING, Sept. 23.—Military occupation of Peiping, one time Chinese capital and until yesterday headquarters of the northern military alliance, has been completed by Manchurian troops under the direction of Chang Hsueh-liang, dictator of Manchuria.

Troops, which entered the city yesterday and today on the heels of the fleeing rebel armies, posted proclamations demanding China's civil war cease, as well as assuring peace to north China.

Hold Entire Province.

Entire Chihli province, containing the seized cities of Peiping and Tientsin, is now in the hands of the Manchurian war lord. It was accomplished without firing a single shot. It is not certain whether the northern politicians intend to continue a separatist government at Taiyuenfu, Gen. Yen Hsi-shan's capital in Shansi province, but the importance of such a move is considered slight.

The Manchurian troops are excellently equipped and disciplined, and are apparently settling for a permanent stay. Three battalions are occupying the city with a large reserve force stationed in the suburbs.

The soldiers have taken over the municipal and provincial governments and are repairing the barracks. Fighting between Nationalist forces, led by Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, president of China, and Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang, is expected to end shortly with Feng's withdrawal into the famine provinces of Shansi and Kansu.

60,000 Head for Peiping.

TIENTSIN, China, Sept. 23.—(AP)—It was estimated today that 60,000 Fengtienites have marched toward Peiping, but the Tientsin administration had not yet been taken over by the Manchurian authorities and the Shansi officials continue to hold office pending arrival of their successor.

Lennox Simpson, customs commissioner at Tientsin, continued to carry on his work, and the Nanking nominee, Mr. Grierson, declared he would wait to take over the work as soon as transfer of control of the city had been completed. Simpson declared in an interview he would hand over the customs only to the official who can produce proper credentials.

Begin Work for Road from North to South America

PANAMA CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A party of engineers set out today to begin the first actual field reconaissance for the proposed highway to connect North and South America. The preliminary work will be done in a virgin forest between the Panaman town of David and the border of Costa Rica. The engineering party was headed by D. Tucker Brown and Marcel J. Bussard, who had come here from Washington, D. C.

GERMAN WOMAN FLYER ARRIVES IN CITY ON TOUR

Antoine Strassman, German aviatrix, arrived in Chicago yesterday to be the guest of the Steuben club for two weeks during her good will tour of America. The tour is sponsored by the German government. Miss Strassmann was in Chicago last month during the national air races.

Yesterday afternoon she addressed the women of the Steuben club, stressing the growing interest of women in aviation.

"Women are rapidly taking their place in this field, which previously has been considered exclusively masculin," she said.

Miss Strassman will give several talks while she is here, all of which will be in the interest of feminine participation in aviation and the furthering of good will between America and Germany.

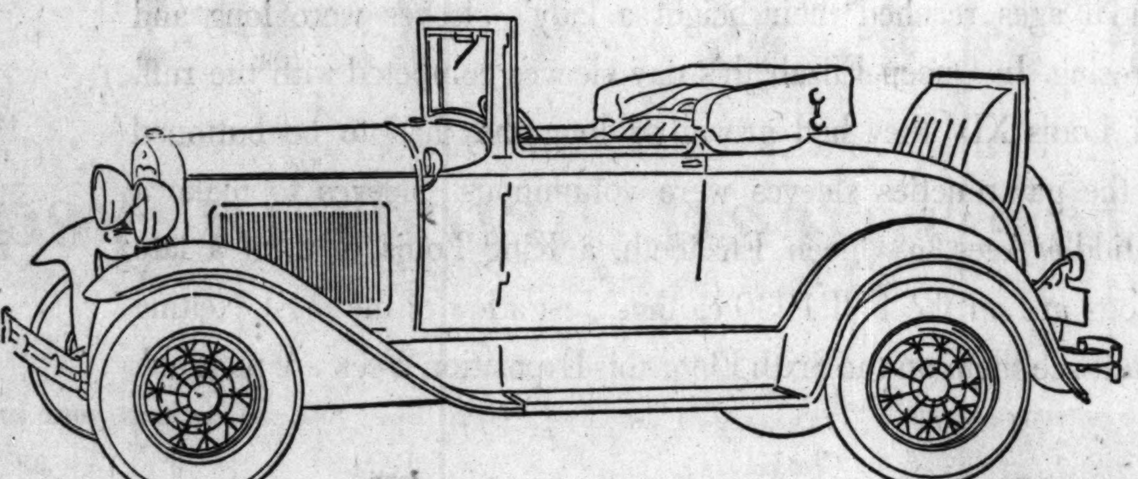
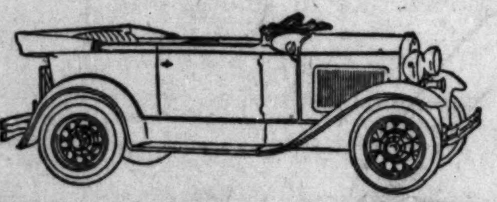
BEAUTIFUL NEW

Ford De Luxe Bodies

NOW ON DISPLAY

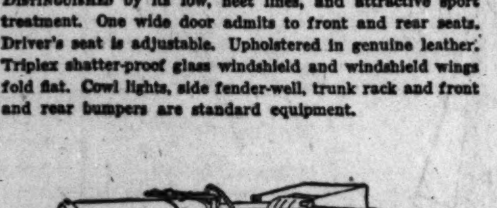


NEW FORD CABRIOLET (CONVERTIBLE)



NEW FORD DE LUXE PHAETON

Distinguished by its low, fleet lines, and attractive sport treatment. One wide door admits to front and rear seats. Driver's seat is adjustable. Upholstered in genuine leather. Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and windshield wings fold flat. Cowl lights, side fender-well, trunk rack and front and rear bumpers are standard equipment.



NEW FORD DE LUXE ROADSTER

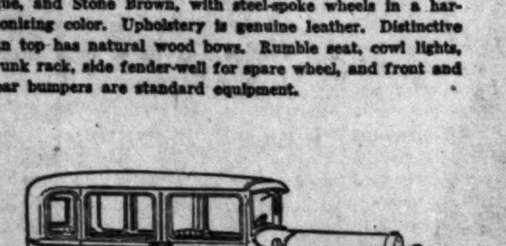
A striking sport car. Finished in Raven Black, Washington Blue, and Stone Brown, with steel-spoke wheels in a harmonizing color. Upholstery is genuine leather. Distinctive tan top has natural wood bows. Rumble seat, cowl lights, trunk rack, side fender-well for spare wheel, and front and rear bumpers are standard equipment.

The words De Luxe are a fitting description of the beautiful new body types now on display at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Everywhere they have met with distinguished favor because of their striking lines and colors and the quiet richness of the upholstery, trimming and appointments.

These new de luxe bodies are offered in addition to the standard Ford line and include the De Luxe Roadster, De Luxe Phaeton, De Luxe Sedan, De Luxe Coupe, Town Sedan and Convertible Cabriolet.

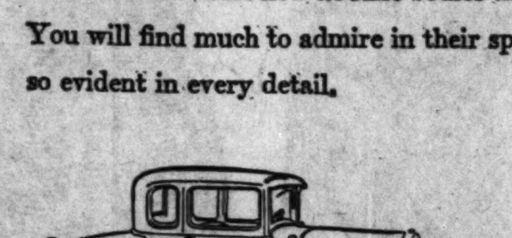
The De Luxe Roadster and De Luxe Phaeton are upholstered in genuine Bedouin grain leather, in tan harmonizing with the swagger tops. The spare wheel is carried forward on the left. The new colors for these two types are Raven Black, Washington Blue, and Stone Brown. The wheels are finished in a complementary color. The De Luxe Sedan, De Luxe Coupe and Town Sedan are upholstered in soft luxurious mohair or Bedford cord, optional with the purchaser.

Plan to see these new de luxe bodies this week and arrange for a demonstration. You will find much to admire in their sprightly appearance and the high quality so evident in every detail.



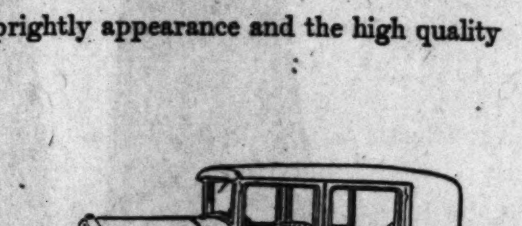
NEW FORD TOWN SEDAN

A popular family car because of its reliability, economy and easy-riding comfort. Equipped, as are all the Ford cars, with four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers. Other features include quick acceleration, ease of control, 55 to 65 miles an hour, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, and Rustless Steel.



NEW FORD DE LUXE COUPE

Women will be quick to note the rich interior of this beautiful closed car. You may choose upholstery of brown mohair or Bedford cord. Hardware is of distinctive scroll design. Dome light and cowl lights are standard equipment. Selection in body colors includes Maroon, Kewanee Green, Chicle Drab and Black. Seat is adjustable.



NEW FORD DE LUXE SEDAN

A striking example of the rich finish that characterizes all of these new Ford de luxe bodies. For upholstery you may choose either fashionable Bedford cord or luxurious mohair. Driver's seat is adjustable. Wide rear seat has a folding center arm and side arm rests. Cowl lights are standard equipment. There is a wide variety of body colors.

LOWDEN SPEAKS AT DEDICATION OF DIXON BRIDGE

Statue of Lincoln Will Be Unveiled Today.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Dixon, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Frank O. Lowden, war governor of Illinois, today dedicated the Lee county memorial bridge over the Rock river. The dedication was the day's feature in Dixon's centennial celebration.

The bridge, which is 300 feet long and 47 feet wide, stands on the site of the ferry over which John Dixon, founder of the city, poled the first bag of mail to Galena from Peoria in 1830. On the north bank of the river, scarcely a hundred yards east, is the site of Fort Dixon, stronghold during the Black Hawk war, in which Abraham Lincoln served. A statue of Lincoln the soldier is to be unveiled on the site tomorrow.

After looking to the past for the first two days of the 100th birthday party, Dixon devoted this day to the future. More than 1,000 high school children gave promise in a parade interpreting the future of Dixon of carrying on the city's tradition. The present development of the city's industry and commerce was represented in the line of march.

Where Lincoln Fought.

"A hundred years is not a long time as history measures events," said former Governor Lowden," and yet the hundred years that lie behind Dixon are years of unusual significance in the history of the new world. Had not Lincoln come here in the Black Hawk war the historians might now portray a different story of our country, for his presence here linked him to the stormy years beyond.

"The Black Hawk war was not a great war, but it was the greatest little war in the history of the world, for here met men who had a profound influence on history of the next half century. With Lincoln were Jefferson Davis, Zachary Taylor, Gen. Winfield Scott, Robert Dement, Robert Anderson, and others. Here was a meeting that echoed around the world. The echo is heard as we dedicate the bridge to the veterans of Lee county, the successors to the early band of heroes."

Frank Stevens, authority on the Black Hawk war, reviewed the city's history. Other speakers were Jack [illegible], state commander of the American Legion, and Howard Gillette of Chicago, director of the National Council of Boy Scouts. Joseph H. [illegible] was chairman.

Unveil Statue Tomorrow.

The unveiling of the statue tomorrow night will close the centennial celebration. Gov. Louis Emmerson will be present. The statue, the work of Leonard Crunelle, portrays a Lincoln of the prairie years, a lanky figure in his uniform. In contrast with the youthful face, the hands of the statue are veined and lined with age. The anachronism was deliberate on the part of the sculptor, who copied the casts made after the President's death.

In the official stand with the speakers Brig. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, Probate Judge Horner, Lorado Taft, all of Chicago, will sit persons who heard Lincoln speak in Dixon in 1856 and two years later in debate with Stephen A. Douglas. Among these will be Joseph Shelhamer, civil war veteran, who was born in a log cabin near the site in 1841.

It isn't merely that it is fresh coffee, newly come from the seven great roasting plants strategically located to serve all America.

It isn't merely that it is modern coffee, its intrinsic nobility enhanced by every aid and safeguard of science.

No, it is more than these: it is the hint and promise of fulfilment of subtleties of taste, of inspired harmonies of fragrance, of cordial and satisfying flavor, that could have come only from the time and place and people of the Old South where Maxwell House was born.

Try Maxwell House tomorrow morning—it has never been so good as now.

Coffee prices are the lowest they have been in seven years, and at the present price of Maxwell House anyone can afford this noble coffee.

Maxwell House Coffee has been reduced 11¢ a pound to the wholesale trade since July 1, 1929. This reduction parallels the reduction of green coffee, and you may now enjoy Maxwell House Coffee at the lowest prices in years.

COURT CONTEST IN $50,000,000 RUGGLES ESTATE

Michigan Relative Starts Manistee Action.

Manistee, Mich., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Legal contest to upset the will of Charles F. Ruggles, disposing of an estate estimated at $50,000,000, is scheduled for tomorrow in court here. Ruggles died in August, leaving trust funds of $330,000. Three relatives—a nephew, Harry Ruggles, and a niece, Addie Brundage, both of Benton Harbor, and a nephew, Reginald Ruggles of McMillan—were to share $230,000. The other trust fund, $100,000, was to aid persons in need, preferably residents of Manistee.

The balance of the estate was left in the hands of two trustees, Ewald J. Pfeiffer of Manistee and Charles McPherson of Grand Rapids. They were to select as beneficiaries such educational and charitable institutions as they saw fit.

Chicago Relative Omitted.

Nothing whatever was left to Fern Ruggles, a relative who works in the Ford assembly plant in Chicago. It was largely because of that neglect that the fight was undertaken, though Harry Ruggles, an heir, is plaintiff in the suit.

The plaintiff charges that the will is not legal, declaring that Pfeiffer, a business associate, and McPherson, Charles Ruggles' attorney, used undue influence at a time when Ruggles did not appreciate the value of his properties. It is charged further that he was not mentally competent to make a will. It also is charged that Ruggles was incited against his relatives.

Charles Ruggles, who died at the age of 84, came to Michigan when he was 22 years old in the days of the lumber boom, and therein gained millions. As the lumber business declined he sold out his Michigan interests, founding the Ruggles & Rademaker Salt company. He acquired, however, timber land in California and Florida.

Lived Like Lumberjack.

He dressed much after the manner of a lumberjack, and in late years lived in the office bulding on Main street, where he had his business. There he scrubbed his floors and put up food supplies, much as if he were making himself snug for a winter in the north woods. Around Christmas each year he made candy and gave it away to children.

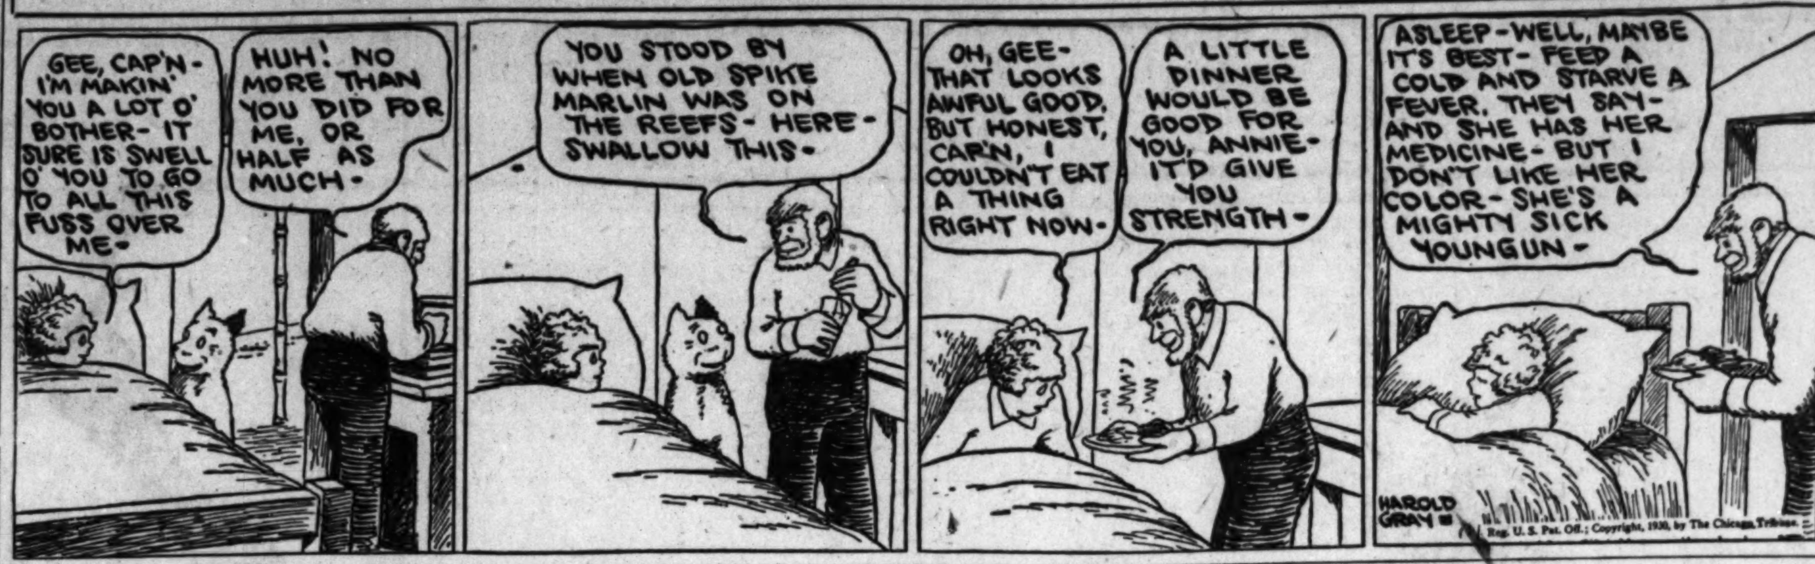
When business took him to Chicago he appeared dressed in his usual manner, but his interests extended to simplified legal procedure, and he founded the American Judicature society, of which Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court took the chairmanship.

His desire to promote learning led him to make an offer both to the University of Chicago and Northwestern to leave them his fortune for a special purpose if either of them would invest meanwhile $2,000,000 in his western lumber enterprises. His offer was not accepted.

Funeral on Thursday for Benjamin Bissinger

Funeral services for Benjamin Bissinger, 82 years old, former resident of Chicago, who died on Monday in Louisville, Ky., will be held on Thursday afternoon in Rosehill cemetery. Mr. Bissinger was engaged in the real estate business in Chicago until a year ago and was a director of the Iroquois Memorial hospital. He is survived by his widow, Leah, and a daughter, Mrs. Tessie Bernheim.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Turn About



GEE, CAP'N - I'M MAKIN' YOU A LOT O' BOTHER - IT SURE IS SWELL O' YOU TO GO TO ALL THIS FUSS OVER ME -
HUH! NO MORE THAN YOU DID FOR ME, OR HALF AS MUCH -
YOU STOOD BY WHEN OLD SPIKE MARLIN WAS ON THE REEFS - HERE - SWALLOW THIS -
A LITTLE DINNER WOULD BE GOOD FOR YOU, ANNIE - IT'D GIVE YOU STRENGTH -
ASLEEP - WELL, MAYBE IT'S BEST - FEED A COLD AND STARVE A FEVER. THEY SAY - AND SHE HAS HER MEDICINE - BUT I DON'T LIKE HER COLOR - SHE'S A MIGHTY SICK YOUNGUN -

STEDMAN DIES; LAST CIVIL WAR MAN IN CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The last of the men who fought and marched in the heroic days of the sixties is lost to congress. Representative Charles M. Stedman of North Carolina, who was a major in the army of the confederacy, died at Mount Alto hospital at the age of 89. He was stricken with apoplexy two weeks ago.

Maj. Stedman and the late Senator Francis E. Warren were close friends for years and loved to recall the days when Stedman wore the gray and Warren the blue. Warren's death in November, 1929, left Stedman the sole survivor of the great conflict of the states.

The two remained to see the passage of companies and battalions of men who served under arms for what they thought the right and later carried the battles into the legislative halls of the nation.

Thinning Congress Ranks.

For decades after the civil war, continuing almost up to the world war, the great majority of the Republican members of house and senate were those who had worn the blue.

Representative Stedman was probably the oldest member ever to serve in congress, although the length of his service did not equal that of many others. The late "Uncle Joe" Cannon died at the age of 90, but had retired from the house at the age of 87.

With Mr. Stedman's death the number of house members who have died during the seventy-first congress is brought up to 19. Three senators have died during the same period.

From College to Battlefield.

Representative Stedman was born in Pittsboro, N. C., on Jan. 29, 1841. Graduating from the University of North Carolina in 1861, Mr. Stedman at once plunged into the war as a private in the Fayetteville Independent Light infantry company of the First North Carolina regiment, and later as a major in the Forty-fourth North Carolina regiment.

He served with Lee's army during the entire war and surrendered at Appomatox. He was wounded three times. After the war he taught school and read law, and commenced to practice in Wilmington, N. C., in 1867.

Mr. Stedman was just 70 years of age when he first took his seat in congress in 1911. If he had lived until the expiration of his term next March he would have served 20 years.

PHILO A. OTIS, PIONEER CIVIC LEADER, IS DEAD

PHILO A. OTIS.
[Koehne Photo.]

Mr. Otis was born in Berlin Heights, O., in 1846. He came to Chicago with his parents in 1857 and succeeded his father in his real estate business in 1895. He was one of the founders of the Theodore Thomas orchestra, now the Chicago Symphony orchestra. He was a member of the chorus that sang as the body of Abraham Lincoln lay in state in the Chicago courthouse.

Throughout his life in Chicago Mr. Otis was an active member of the First Presbyterian church and in 1912 published a history of the church dating from its founding in June, 1833, six weeks before the organization of Chicago as a village.

Mr. Otis is survived by his widow and a son, J. Sanford Otis, vice chairman of the Central Illinois company, investments. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the residence with burial at Graceland cemetery.

A. J. GROESBECK WINS POINT IN HIS FIGHT OVER VOTE RECOUNT

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Legal forces of Alex J. Groesbeck, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for governor at the primary, Sept. 9, won a preliminary skirmish late today when the State Supreme court issued an order to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not be issued to compel the board of state canvassers to reform its procedure complained of by the Groesbeck adherents in connection with the state-wide recount of the primary vote now in progress.

The Court order is returnable at 2 p. m. Wedneseday. Nearly half of the 3,317 precincts of the state had been recounted up to late this afternoon with a net gain for Groesbeck of 170 votes.

Jury Convicts Attorney of $10,000 Embezzlement

Samuel J. Hachman, 7623 Yates avenue, an attorney with offices at 11 South La Salle street, was found guilty of embezzlement yesterday by a jury in Judge Peter Schwaba's court. He was charged with embezzling $10,000 from Joseph Harry Crane, 1006 North State street, a tailor. Crane said he turned the money over to the attorney to purchase stocks for him and that Hachman failed to do so.

Expert Investors Are Buying Bonds Now

FAT ladies used to be the envy of thin ones. The envious then ate heartily and when that didn't produce results, put on bustles to pad out their deficiencies. Now, the slender ones are envied—and the envious go on diets. Boys used to wear short pants and men long ones. Frequently now, it's the other way around. Honeymooners took excursion trains to Niagara Falls. Now they ride luxuriously to California, Colorado or Florida. Whether it's food, apparel, amusement or travel, style is the controlling influence.

It's even true of investment. Several years ago, it was the fashion to get rich quick. The style changed last year in October and November. What is expected of an investment in 1930 is not that it makes you rich quickly, but that it pays you a regular income with safety. Buying good bonds is decidedly in vogue. Leading Chicago banks alone have 100 million dollars more of their own money invested in bonds than a year ago. Similar statements could be made about the leading banks elsewhere and about insurance companies.

Individual investors, however, have been slow to make purchases because the bonds most prominently traded in yield such small returns. However, as one of the best informed bond men in the country put it: "There are many companies, ably managed, with a long history of successful operations and with excellent prospects for the future, whose bonds may be obtained at very attractive prices." A survey recently conducted by the Chicago Tribune has revealed that the consensus of experts is that a general rise in the price of such bonds is imminent. We believe it is a good time to talk over investments with your banker or a good bond house.

HORNSBY TALKS ABOUT CUBS' 1931 SEASON

JONES' 142 WINS MEDAL HONORS IN U. S. AMATEUR

JOHNSTON FAILS TO QUALIFY FOR TITLE DEFENSE

Von Elm Shoots 143; Takes 2d Place.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 23.—It will be no news that Bobby Jones qualified for the national amateur golf championship today at the end of the second trial round of eighteen holes, but there may be some interest in the young man's disposition, in view of recent reports from this place which depicted him as snarling at the passersby. Contrary to such advices, the young man seemed uncommonly sweet and patient this afternoon and, though he played his round of golf pursued and hemmed by a mass of customers equal to a couple of regiments, he covered his assignment in 73 shots.

Having carried over a score of 69 from the first day's play, Mr. Jones, qualifying total was 142, the best in the field of 162 aspirants. These golf eliminations are unlike the heavyweight elimination bouts of the Garden corporation in the respect that once a man has been eliminated he stays eliminated.

Johnston Drops Out.

Thus, Mr. Harrison Johnston of Minneapolis, who inadvertently won the championship last year and promptly apologized to Mr. Jones for his presumption, ceased to participate in the tournament of 1930 this afternoon. He, too, toured the Merion Cricket club's valuable suburban property in 73 today, but he had dubbed his way around in 83 on the opening day and his 156 placed him among those who will now fall in among the common patrons and tag along behind the further matches, with only a rooting interest in some friend.

A champion who fails to qualify for the competitive matches is in somewhat the same position as a football captain who can't make his own team, as has happened sometimes, though not often. For that matter, some persons of historical bent have been telling your correspondent that Mr. Johnston is only the second amateur golf champion to fall out in the qualifying round in his defending year.

Next behind Mr. Jones in the qualifying list came George Von Elm, formerly of Salt Lake City where he once entertained some amateur pugilistic ambitions or delusions, but now of Los Angeles. Von Elm's score for the day was 70 but his total was 143. He is a short, slim party, about 30 years old at a guess, with damp stringy yellow hair combed straight back over his skull and a profile reminiscent of the early photographs of the erstwhile crown prince of Germany.

Jones Is Noncommittal.

There seems to be a rivalry amounting almost to a feud between Jones and Von Elm, but the latter young man has now announced his retirement from the national amateur tournament, beginning next year, so if they meet again it must be in the open or perhaps some European tournament. Incidentally, there is a jumpy expectancy around the press headquarters, which is situated on the second floor of a whitewashed stone extension or barn, adjoining the clubhouse, regarding Mr. Jones' plans for the future. He meets inquiries, or perhaps it were more accurate to say that he evades them in the noncomittal manner of a lawyer determined to admit nothing and it just seems that if he hasn't any interesting intentions, he might say so.

The purpose of the qualifying round

MISS VAN WIE SETS NEW MARK IN WOMEN'S GOLF

Miss Virginia Van Wie, Beverly star, and one of America's "Big Four" in women's golf, was out in front all by herself in the first round of the Women's Western 72 hole medal play event over the Glen View course yesterday with 39—38—77, a new course record for women.

Miss Van Wie's 77 was seven strokes ahead of Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, who turned in 41—43—84, and eight better than Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, with 45—40—85. Mrs. Lee W. Mida, Butterfield, scored 43—43—86, as did Mrs. E. T. Nichols Jr., another Beverly player.

From there on through the field of about 75 it was only a matter of how much Miss Van Wie was ahead. Mrs. Melvin Jones, Lincolnshire, had some fearful experiences with her putter, and turned in a 94. Mrs. Stanley Jaicks, Oak Park, finished 44—45—89, and was presented with a full set of irons by Jock Hutchison for winning the blind bogey.

Miss Van Wie had a remarkable round, shooting two eagles and five birdies. On five other holes she was over, suffering the general complaint of all the women, too many putts.

The tournament will close with Friday's 18 holes. The scores:

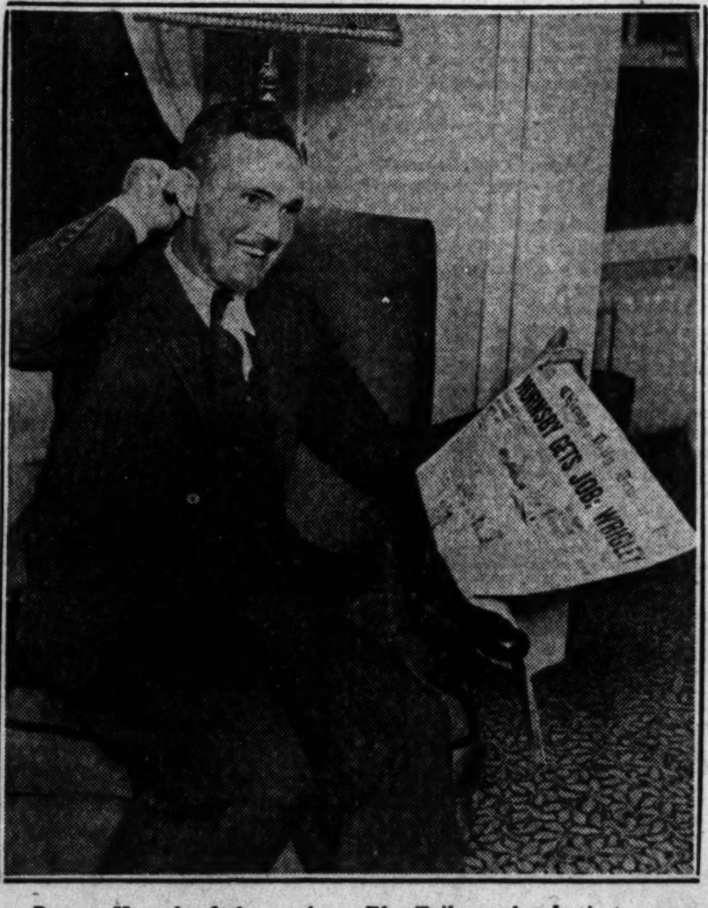
GOOD NEWS



Rogers Hornsby finds out from The Tribune that he is to manage the Cubs next season. He will take the reins from Joe McCarthy after the city series and begin rebuilding for another pennant.

IS IT BASEBALL? A'S WONDER AS CARDS WIN, 19-16

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Connie Mack and his Athletics looked over the St. Louis Cardinals as they played the Phillies here this afternoon, and left Baker bowl somewhat confused as to whether they must play baseball or cricket in the world series.

When the two teams finally drew wickets in the mellow September sunset the Cardinals had pasted out 26 hits for a 19 to 16 victory, and increased their lead to three full games over the idle Cubs. It gave them four out of five for the series. Twenty-six hits is a season record for a nine inning game.

The Cards started off by running up an 11 to 0 lead off fidgety Phil Collins and Elliott, and the Phils retaliated by hammering out eight runs off Rhem and knocking him from the box.

YANKS TO HIRE JOE M'CARTHY? THEY KEEP MUM

Ed Burns, Tribune baseball writer, who was first to notify Joe McCarthy that William Wrigley had announced a change in the Cubs' management, last night said McCarthy was hopeful of landing a job with the Yankees. Announcement of negotiations would be withheld until the expiration of McCarthy's contract with the Cubs, according to baseball etiquette.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Joe McCarthy, who, according to William Wrigley Jr., owner of the Chicago National league club, is completing his last season as manager of the Cubs, may become pilot of the New York Yankees to succeed Bob Shawkey for next year. If this is the case, neither Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, nor Secretary Ed Barrow feels inclined to confirm or even discuss the report.

"I have seen McCarthy only once in my life," said Col. Ruppert today, "and that was a great many years ago. I know absolutely nothing about his being through as manager of the Cubs except what I have read in the papers. I have had no talk with him about managing the Yankees nor have I had any talk with Shawkey regarding next season."

Asked whether he had any comment to make on Wrigley's statement that the latter intended to help McCarthy land a job "either with the Yankees or Pirates," Col. Ruppert declared there was nothing he could say on that point, as he had received no communication from Wrigley regarding McCarthy.

DREYFUSS TELLS WRIGLEY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Baseball club, today said he had given no serious thought to the Pirate manager for 1931. In connection with news from Chicago that Rogers Hornsby is to succeed Joe McCarthy as pilot of the Cubs, William Wrigley, owner of the Chicago club, was quoted as follows:

"I understand several clubs, including the Yankees and the Pirates, want McCarthy."

When Dreyfuss was told of this statement he replied:

A Manager's a Swell Fellow—as Long as He Wins Games

BY ARCH WARD.

What will be the reaction to the change which brings Rogers Hornsby into Joe McCarthy's job as manager of the Cubs?

According to officials of the club it is all up to Hornsby. If he develops a winning team, disgruntled fans, they predict, will climb aboard the Cubs' bandwagon.

A winning team—that's what you must have to make money in baseball, an official of the north side team said last night. The personal popularity of a manager or player makes little difference. The public loves a winner.

The Cubs feel that McCarthy has a host of admirers, perhaps more than Hornsby will have. But Joe in their estimation did not measure up to the requirements of the office. Consequently he had to go. Hornsby probably will find himself in a similar predicament a year hence if he fails to come through with a championship team.

"No one can say Hornsby isn't big enough for the job," our informant remarked. "He made good at St. Louis and we have confidence that he can repeat here. If the club is out in front on Memorial day next season and gives evidence of carrying on, Hornsby probably will be as popular as any manager we have had.

"Rogers has only one fault, if you can call it that. He lacks tact. He speaks his mind at all times. If you asked him how he liked your new necktie, he would take you at your word and tell you how he liked your new necktie. Sometimes that isn't diplomacy.

"Hornsby has no other interest than baseball. He will talk any angle of the game you want him to discuss from early morning until retiring at 11:30 p. m."

At no time since it was decided that McCarthy must go have the Cubs' officials hesitated in choosing his successor. It was Hornsby all the way.

CONFESSIONS OF A FIGHTER.

How does a fighter feel when he is "out on his feet" trying gamely to go the route?

The former lightweight champion, who now is campaigning for the welterweight title, last night looked back to a 15 round bout he fought with Jack Bernstein in New York six years ago when he first entered the 135 pound ranks.

"That was the toughest fight I ever had," Sammy said. "I had been hit harder once before and several times since, but never have I taken more punishment.

"In the first round I broke my left thumb. You can imagine what kind of a battle I could put up with my left useless. Bernstein cracked me on the whiskers two or three times and the far side of the ring seemed to be bobbing up and down. I could see two or three faces on my opponent, each about twice its normal size.

"Then Jack shifted his attack to the body and I want to tell you he cracked me with everything he had. I was almost helpless to defend myself. But I kept thinking to myself: 'I can't quit. What will the folks back in Rockford say if I lose this fight? It's the biggest opportunity I've had. I've got to keep going.'

"At the end of the first round I braced myself and tried to walk as straight as I could to my corner so the fans wouldn't know how I really felt. My head began to clear rapidly and when I left my corner for the second round I was able to sidestep, duck, and clinch until I had entirely regained my senses."

"The hardest blow I ever caught was from the glove of Frankie Garcia on the S. S. Commodore in 1923. I stepped into it and while I got up and finished the bout I didn't know what had happened for an hour."

Sammy fights Tommy Herman at the Coliseum Friday night.

DENIES WILSON WILL GO IN DEAL FOR NEW STARS

Schalk to Help in Handling Pitchers.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Chicago Cubs, near champions of the National league, arrived home last night from the eastern fields of disillusionment. Joe McCarthy, the man who has been their boss for five years, was not of the sad homecoming party, but Rogers Hornsby, the player who has been named as McCarthy's successor, was present, though still saying that the appointment is "all news to me."

Even after Hornsby had received word of the Wrigley announcement in THE TRIBUNE he still claimed that he never had discussed a contract covering the management of the club, nor had Mr. Wrigley or President William Veeck even so much as hinted at the proposition.

Hornsby Had Hunch.

The fact remains, however, that if Hornsby didn't actually "know something," he had a strong hunch as to what has been in the air, for he quietly has been theorizing on possible changes to be made before the Cubs trot on the field in 1931.

Indications are that the changes will not be confined to the inefficient players on the club. There will be a general weeding out of the incompetents, of course, but some of the stars also face a change of scenery.

The stars are the chattels with whom it is hoped to enter the trading mart, now that Wrigley gold has lost its lure, in so far as such formerly helpful organizations as the Braves and Phillies are concerned.

Rumors About Hack.

This general information has led to a brand new crop of rumors, chief among them being one that Hack Wilson, the 1930 home run king, despite his great talent, does not fit into the new scheme of things and that he may be traded for a whole ball club or something of the sort.

Hack is a social lion of the first degree, but his social engagements never have been known to interfere with his great playing ability and Manager McCarthy, so far as public information goes, never was known to slap a fine on Hack on occasions when he has spoken at banquets past the regulation curfew hour.

It is said that if anything is done to curb Hack's attendance at banquets it will not be at the instance of the new Cub manager.

When questioned about rumors in Chicago that Hack would be used as the precious bait to get stars from other clubs, Hornsby let out a big roar.

"Don't talk about strengthening a ball club and getting rid of Wilson in the same conversation," Rogers said. "There isn't another Hack Wilson in baseball, and his power and color are priceless to the team, in my estimation."

No Trouble Between Them.

It unquestionably is true that there hasn't been an especially close bond between Hornsby and Wilson since the former joined the Cubs, but there has never been any misunderstanding between them as the ever-flying rumors have had it for the last two years.

For several seasons it has been known that Hornsby considers Kiki Cuyler and Taylor Douthit the two best center fielders in baseball in so far as the defense is concerned, and it would not be surprising to see Hack in right and Cuyler in center field next season.

But if Hack gets the notion that he would rather continue in center than in one of the wing fields, it is our

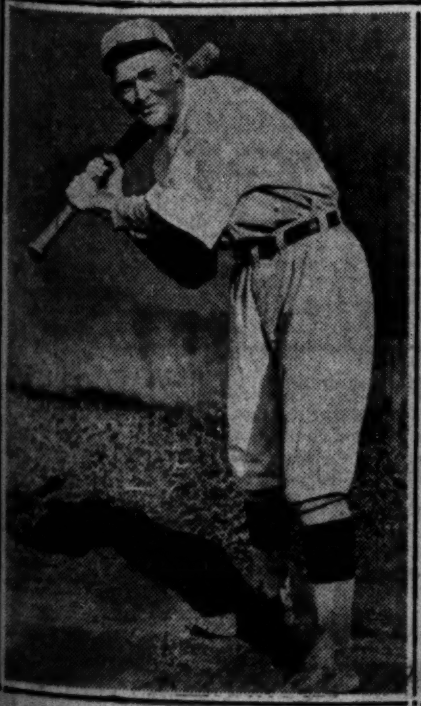
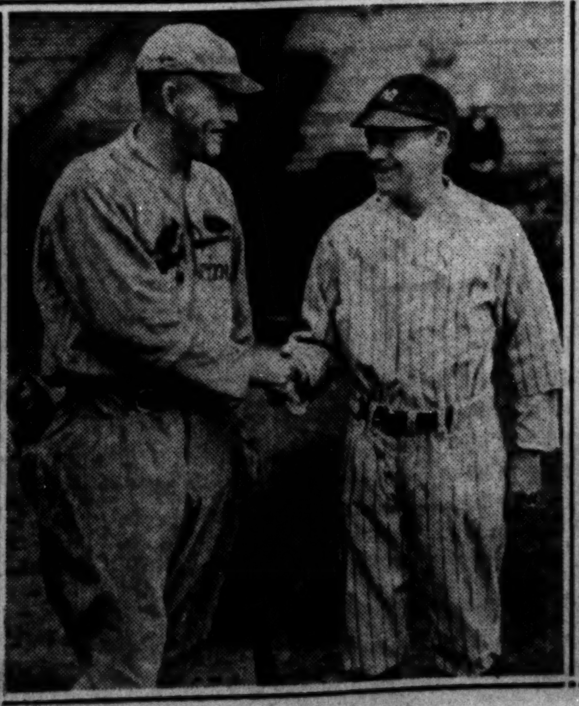
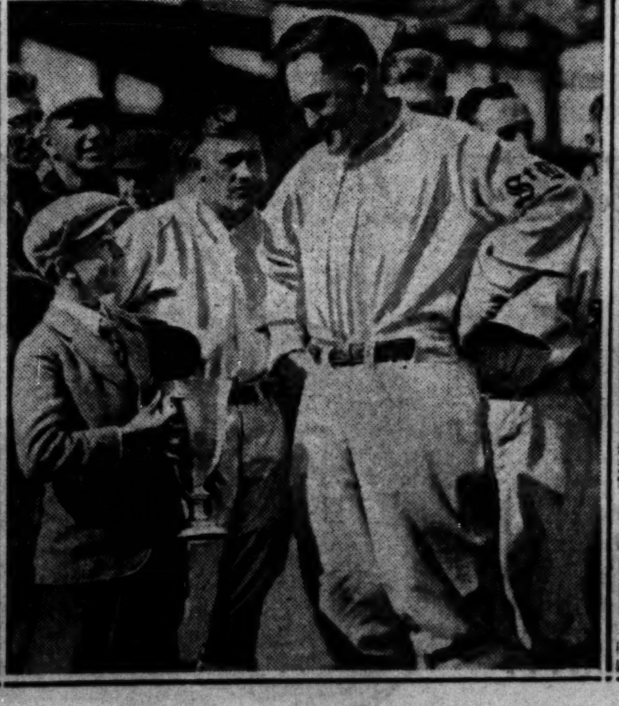
HIGHLIGHTS IN CAREER OF CUBS' 1931 MANAGER



The young Rogers Hornsby in 1917, his third year in the major leagues. The 21 year old shortstop of the Cardinals hit .327 that season.



Rogers, manager of the Cards, greets the late Miller Huggins, pilot of the New York Yankees, just before the start of the 1926 world series. Rogers made history in that series, bringing St. Louis its first world title.



When the new Cubs manager made a hit with Young America. A youthful admirer presents Hornsby with a cup during the 1926 season, after boys' clubs had voted him baseball's most popular player.

President John Heydler of the National league presents Rogers with the award as the most valuable player in the league last year. It was the second time he had been awarded this distinction, havnig won it in 1925 also.

Rogers and William Wrigley Jr., owner of the Cubs, arriving in Chicago just before the opening of the 1930 season. Hornsby was here for an examination of the growth on his heel which hindered his play last year and during spring training at Catalina.

HORNSBY WILL BE OFFERED TWO YEAR CONTRACT

McCarthy May Ask for Immediate Release.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Rogers Hornsby, next manager of the Cubs, will be tendered a two year contract. The man whose appointment as successor to Joe McCarthy was revealed by Owner William Wrigley's formal announcement, printed exclusively in yesterday morning's TRIBUNE, will be summoned inside a couple of days to talk terms with President William Veeck.

Meanwhile McCarthy is expected to continue at the helm until after the season and the city series with the White Sox has been completed. Then McCarthy will be paid off on his contract, which calls for a monthly salary up to Jan. 1, 1931, and Hornsby will take over the matter of rebuilding for next year's race. It is possible that McCarthy, upon his arrival here tomorrow from Buffalo, may ask to be relieved immediately.

McCarthy Won't Squawk.

Talking over the telephone from his Buffalo home last night McCarthy, in reply to a question as to whether he would finish out the season, started to say something about being in an embarrassing situation. Then he quickly added that he preferred not to make a statement.

"In five years with the Cubs I have been treated very nicely and I am not going to do any squawking," he said. "All I know is that they have announced a new manager. I hadn't asked for a new contract. Both Mr. Wrigley and Mr. Veeck talked to me on the phone this morning and we are to have a conference when I reach Chicago."

At this conference it would cause no surprise if McCarthy should ask the club officials to place Hornsby in charge during the series with Cincinnati starting here tomorrow and during the city title games with the Sox. These probably will open next Tuesday.

Wrigley Commends Joe's Stand.

"Joe is taking a manly attitude toward the whole thing," said Owner Wrigley. "He assured me that he wasn't going to complain now after five years in which there never was a cross word between us. He has been in baseball long enough to know that a club has the right to make changes if it sees fit. One thing about Joe is that, win or lose, he never quit trying and I say this because of the booing he was subjected to in some of the recent home games. He didn't deserve that."

Wrigley, when asked if he thought it likely that Hornsby might make some changes as already intimated, replied he wouldn't be surprised by such happenings.

"A new manager always has different ideas from his predecessor," said Wrigley. "Any trades or purchases Hornsby advocates will have to be sanctioned by President Veeck, not by me, but Hornsby will be held strictly responsible for what happens on the playing field. There never was any business office interference with McCarthy and there is not going to be any while Hornsby is in charge."

Veeck Denies Trouble.

President Veeck, who had known for many weeks that Hornsby was slated for the management, confined himself yesterday to statements on Rogers' physical state and denial of the rumors that Hornsby had stirred up trouble for anybody.

"In his two years with the club I never heard Hornsby comment on McCarthy's management," declared Veeck. "He simply played the game to the best of his ability. He hasn't sought the job. It is being offered to him. It is possible that because of the many rumors flying around for the last month a slight chill may have arisen between the pair, but I have McCarthy's word that when it was a matter of playing the game Hornsby never questioned or balked at orders."

Veeck is confident that next spring will find Hornsby assuming the second base as well as the pilot's duties. The infection that caused the hornlike growth on his heel has been located in the tonsils. These will be removed during the winter. The other ankle, which was fractured in a slide to third base the morning of May 30, is counted upon to be as strong as ever after a winter of rest.

Joey Freeman Outpoints Borglio in Eight Rounds

Joey Freeman was awarded an eight round decision over Nick Borglio in the main attraction last night at Shewbridge field. Seven hundred people sat through the rain to watch Freeman slug Borglio. Bud Soltis knocked out Buddy Ferran in the sixth round, Dick Sisk beat Bobby Stewart in six rounds; Al Derose and Georgie Stokes went four rounds to a draw; Harry Roberts lost a six round verdict to Joe Barlow, and Eddie Speaks outpointed Paddy Walteir in the six round opener.

Hornsby Talks About Cubs of 1931; Denies Wilson Trade

guess that Hack will be right back there in center. On the other hand, Hack wouldn't have to do so much running in either left or right field, and this might protect Hack's ankles, the part of his anatomy that is expected to give him his first trouble when he starts to slow up.

Rogers Admires Ki's System.

Hornsby is known to be a great admirer of Cuyler's careful training routine and frequently has cited him as perfection in the matter of conditioning. This, with Hornsby's previous record as a manager, has led to the opinion that he will be a disciplinarian in some matters, including that of getting plenty of rest. Rogers is not a backer of the "early to bed and early to rise" doctrine. The early to be idea is all right, in his opinion, but he feels that an athletic should stay in bed till he feels like getting up, providing he gets to the ball park on time for practice.

There are several other McCarthy protégés and ever loyal McCarthy performers who also rate high with Hornsby. Rogers makes it clear that there is no reason for proceeding on the theory that to have been a friend of McCarthy is to be unpopular with Hornsby.

Woody English, for instance, was brought to the majors by McCarthy and always has been one of Joe's most energetic supporters. Hornsby says he is a great shortstop and will get better as he matures and takes on weight.

Aside from the changes in personnel the biggest changes in policy probably will come in the matter of handling pitchers. Hornsby is not a subscriber to the strong arm or brute strength type of pitching. He believes in intensive study of batter's weaknesses, both by the pitchers and catchers, and argues that use of the head is as essential as employment of physical strength.

Cracker Schalk, who has been little more than a bat boy since he joined the Cubs last winter with the title of coach, is said to be in line for a more important part in the handling of the team. Cracker was a bust as a manager of the White Sox, but there's no one who contends that his troubles arose from his handling of the battery men.

Cracker Can Handle Pitchers.

Schalk, it will be remembered, had no great skill as an offensive player, but he had an ingenious ability for calling for what the opposing batsmen didn't like, this art, of course, depending for its success on the ability of pitchers to pitch what Cracker called for.

The way that some of the pitchers pitched to the strength of the Phillies' hitters in the late lamented eastern trip was held by some observers to be appalling, and it is possible that instances in this wild, pennant wrecking series will be cited as object lessons during expected revision of Cub pitching technique.

McCarthy, who spent yesterday at his home in Buffalo, is expected in Chicago this morning. He said upon leaving the Cub train that he expected to have a conference with Cub officials shortly after his arrival.

GREENTREE WINS POLO MATCH, 10-9

Westbury, N. Y., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The Greentree polo team advanced to the semi-final round of the Monty Waterbury high goal polo tournament at Meadowbrook today by defeating the Hurricanes, 10 to 9, in the tenth chukker.

Old Aiken, made up of youngsters, defeated the Shelburne team 16 to 8, although the Shelburnes with 31 had the highest handicap in the tournament.

Public Has Its Say on Release of Cubs' Boss

A group of Chicagoans, picked at random from the telephone book, were asked last night what they thought of William Wrigley's action in releasing McCarthy and offering Hornsby the job of managing the Cubs. This is what they said:

Alex Bell, 3354 Lincoln avenue—It is not fair to McCarthy. I am satisfied with the present management.

Mrs. Harry Carlson, 1930 Fletcher street—I think it is fine. Why? O, I don't know; they just ought to have a change.

Daniel Carroll, 3231 Drexel boulevard—McCarthy lost some good hitters and got bad breaks. I don't believe that he is to blame.

Otto Dietz, 211 Addison street—Personally I think it is all right. A change might make a big difference in the number of games won.

Royal Allen, Medinah Athletic club—I think McCarthy is one of the best managers in the country; he just has had a bad break.

A. H. Barnard, 1263 Pratt boulevard—Poor management and dissipating a seven and a half game lead after he struck the east playing the tail enders is a bad score against McCarthy.

Alexander Fyfe, Hamilton club—Mr. Wrigley has shown good judgment in picking Rogers Hornsby to pilot the Cubs. He is the outstanding baseball player of years.

F. E. Lally—The north side front office gave the best manager they ever had the rawest deal in the history of baseball.

Mrs. George Arms, 2629 Hampton court—Seems to me a scarcity of pitchers instead of poor management.

Mrs. Herbert Anderson, 2018 Greenleaf avenue—As he hasn't been doing so well why not let them get another manager?

Mrs. William Beck, 415 Fullerton parkway—McCarthy is a good manager. He has made a few mistakes, but we all do that. He has been fairly successful.

Lawrence Eagan, 4712 North Kilpatrick avenue — They should keep McCarthy. It has been the fault of the pitchers—not the manager.

William McBroom, Geneseo, Ill.—McCarthy was a good manager, but I think Hornsby will be a better one.

Louis Elman, 4828 West Jackson boulevard—I think it is a good idea. I believe McCarthy is to blame for all the trouble the Cubs have had.

Albert Bernacchi — McCarthy is one of the greatest managers the game has ever known. I doubt if Hornsby will be half as good.

Frank Moulds, 4029 West End avenue—I believe McCarthy has done all he can. Hornsby no doubt will prove very successful.

BOBBY JONES' 142 TAKES AMATEUR MEDAL HONORS

is to eliminate a lot of people who think they can play golf much better than they actually can on a given day. Out of the field of 162 who set out today only 32 were to be retained for the matches beginning tomorrow. There were 24 who covered the ground twice, Monday and Tuesday, in a total of 154 strokes or fewer but this left eleven players with scores of 155 to play off for the eight other places.

Former Champions Fall.

The play-off began in the evening and only three men were elected before dark. Two were eliminated, leaving six to play for five places in a further playoff in the morning. Chick Evans was one of the two eliminated and such is the way of this unsteady game, four other past champions were put out during the day, Max. Marston, Jess Guilford, Dave Herron, and Chandler Egan.

This runs into a confusing process of mental addition and subtraction, but there seems to be no other way.

Golf must be a mitigated pleasure to such a one as young Mr. Jones, for he draws the crowds away from all the other players and there were three jams today in which he was compelled to wait from fifteen to twenty-five minutes between shots. Nevertheless, he strolled along outwardly placid, though he may have been muttering some private damns within, and made no sign to alienate the affections of his public.

At the seventeenth hole in the afternoon, after waiting a long time, his tee ball curled away in a hook, which is a Scotch name for an outcurve, and landed in a sand pit. He lost a stroke blasting it up and out to a spot about thirty feet from the hole.

Then, coming to the eighteenth amid a migration of people, his drive went too far for the best effect, coming to rest in a hollow from the depth of which he couldn't see the green. Hitting by blind reckoning, he lifted the next one a little ways past the green, chipped back, and took two putts, losing another stroke, whereupon Mr. Tom Paine, one of his friends from Atlanta, wagged his head gloomily and said it was too bad, because Mr. Jones had wished to shoot a good score today.

Jones Is Well, Thank You.

With a sergeant of the United States marine corps as an escort the great Jones then made his way to the locker section, threw his clammy clothes in a pile, drew on some others, and drove away to a quiet place where he fired a peck of balls for a friend who wanted to make some photographs. He said he wasn't ill of rheumatics, and it was hard to see what more civility he could show the people who drew him into conversation. A man doesn't jump into a strange gentleman's lap and smother him with kisses just to show his democracy.

Dr. O. F. Willing, a dentist from Portland, Ore., and Fay Colman of Los Angeles, were the next two after Jones and Von Elm, with 145 strokes each. The doctor is not what you would call a popular hero on the golf course as it seems that he has some odd little manners which some people hold to be not quite cricket, such as waving his opponents aside peremptorily on the greens and gazing at them when they are shooting out of the traps. It is very trying to shoot out of traps and the best etiquette holds that an opponent should avert his gaze or at least assume a sympathetic expression.

Johnny Goodman, the college youth from Omaha, who had the effrontery to lick Mr. Jones and put him out of the 1929 tournament, to the great detriment of the commercial aspects of the show, was well up in the qualifying list with a total of 149. This boy worked his way to one of his early tournaments as butler to a carload of beef cattle, and there is a tendency to depict him as a little roadside bum touring the country with his spare clothes dangling from his mashie in a bandanna handkerchief. But he is traveling on the cushions this year and is no more picturesque than any of the others.

Old Gold most Appealing Cigarette

Completes taste-test of 4 leading cigarettes at New York Athletic Club . . . Believe it or not, OLD GOLD WINS!

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Himself

"'Believe-it-or-nots' have always stopped me. Any story too good to be true pulls me up short. Now comes one of the biggest thrills I've had yet.

"OLD GOLD has always seemed to me to be one of the biggest 'believe-it-or-nots' to be found anywhere.

"That's why I accepted OLD GOLD'S challenge to conduct a series of taste-tests in public places, with the distinct understanding that they would publish the results . . . WIN, LOSE OR DRAW.

"I've just completed the first test at the New York Athletic Club. Fifteen guests at the Club each smoked the four leading brands of cigarettes, with names concealed by metal bands. When each tester had made his choice I took off the bands . . . tabulated the score.

HERE'S WHAT X'S AND O'S IN GRID PUZZLES MEAN

Warner System of Play Explained.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Wing backs and unbalanced lines. Back field shifts and flanking backs. These words are the jargon of the initiated student of football. They express methods of attack. But to the average fan the words are meaningless. Even if his attention has been called to different offensive lineups, the reason for the formations, generally speaking, is unknown. He watches the player carrying the ball and cheers if he gains, groans if he loses ground.

Coaches rate their fellow workmen on their contributions to the game as much as on the success of their teams. The college coach is inventive. He scrawls crosses and circles on innumerable sheets of paper, figuring new plays and defense formations in his spare time. Show any two coaches a blackboard and a piece of chalk and at once they are drawing plays and arguing over them.

Spectators recognize the formations popularized by Rockne and Warner, but their arguments as to the values of either rest on the records of the teams using these plays. When Dick Hanley assumed charge of football at Northwestern in 1927 he installed the Warner system. He has worked with the veteran Sanford coach each year in expanding the possibilities of the formation.

Uses Unbalanced Line.

The Warner system of offense provides for an unbalanced line either to the right or left. That is, the tackles play side by side and are shifted together from one side of the line to the other. This leaves two men, a guard and an end, on one side of the center. Hence the line is called unbalanced in that the customary formation had three men on each side of the center.

Formation A of the Warner system has two flanking or wing backs, each playing to the rear and a step outside of the end. The other backs are in position to receive the ball from the center.

 0  0  X  0  0  0  0
1                      0
             0
1                      2
          0
```

The cross represents the center. Nos. 1 and 2 are flanking backs, while Nos. 3 and 4 are the tackles. When the formation is shifted to the left the tackles cross to the left side of the line and play between the left end and the left guard.

Causes Defense to Spread.

The primary value of this formation is that it causes the defensive line to spread out. The defensive tackles, who ordinarily play in front of or half a step outside of the offensive ends, now must play opposite the flanking back.

The formation also places two eligible pass receivers, an end, and the flanking back, at each end of the scrimmage line.

The third possibility for the formation is a series of deceptive delayed plays. Double pass plays, where two backs handle the ball, fake end runs with a spinner into the line frequently gain.

Gives Defense One Chance.

The defense has one advantage in meeting this attack which, as it will be shown later, it does not have against the Rockne shift. It may be stationed permanently as soon as the formation is assumed and the line and backs need not shift until the play develops.

Last year Coach Zuppke of Illinois played a six man defensive line with a three man secondary line and two men in a third defense. Illinois was defeated, 7 to 0. The Illinois defense looked like this:

ILLINOIS.

```
   X                  X

  X         X            X

X X     X      X      X     X
  0  0  C  0  0  0  0
  0                    0
            0

            0

NORTHWESTERN.

As the game was played Illinois had an excellent defense for wide running plays and passes, but it did not have sufficient strength in the line to prevent short gains by direct plunges and delayed thrusts.

Charmer Wins the Flossmoor by Early Speed

BY FRENCH LANE.

Charmer, a son of Lucullite-Siren which races for Harry F. Sinclair's Rancocas stable, won the Flossmoor purse from a band of stylish 2 year olds at Lincoln fields yesterday.

Charmer all year has been threatening to reach greatness. At Arlington he ran the mighty Insco to a head but was beaten. On other occasions he has trimmed the best of second flight western juveniles, but because he ran a bad race in the Dearborn handicap of last Saturday he wasn't given much consideration in the Flossmoor. The crowd rushed to the support of those frequent failures, Frigate Bird and Schooner.

Schooner gave his backers a run for their money, for he was coming fastest near the end and was only beaten a nose by Charmer. Frigate Bird, a son of Man o' War which works fast in the morning and runs slow in the afternoon, never could get into strides. He finished fourth, beaten by nearly four lengths.

Charmer didn't run as if he is going to be a great stayer as a 3 year old next year. Rather it was his tremendous burst of early speed which decided the issue as Schooner, who until a few weeks ago was a stable mate of Charmer, was getting to him at every jump in the late stages and would have won if there had been a few more strides to go. Wise Lee was also quitting near the end, but hung on to be third.

In the betting, despite a heavy plunge on him, Charmer paid $13.66 to win, $5.84 to place, and $4.62 to show. Schooner was at $3.50 to place and $2.98 to show, while Wise Lee paid $8.52 to show. Charmer ran his six furlongs in 1:12 and carried 111 pounds. It was the fastest race run during the day and a very creditable performance.

Two year olds also went into action in the Cottage Grove purse and it brought another upset when Michigan Girl beat Scotland Wise by three lengths with Regal Lady third. There was a heavy play on Michigan Girl right at the last minute, and after she raced Scotland Wise into submission on the turn she never left the result in doubt.

Today's Crop of Mudhens Just Advance Guard

BY BOB BECKER.

Although most of the mudhen population in the lake country of northern Illinois is going to be taken this morning by hunters who will start in at sunrise, there will be other waves of coots coming down later in the season.

The birds, which at this time of the year are shot, dressed and placed in the baking ovens for a meal, are really the advance guard of the real mudhen migration. The Canadian birds will linger in the north feeding with the redheads, bluebills and canvasbacks on some of the lakes until cold weather drives them southward.

So common is this association between the coots and the canvasbacks that in some shooting localities hunters mix wooden mudhen decoys in their stool of canvasback decoys. We have seen this layout while hunting with Dean Swift and the springer spaniels on the shores of Lake Koshkonong, Wis.

There are jacksnipe and rails in the northern Illinois country, judging from what we saw on our recent trip through that region with Ed St. Clair, district game warden. We found a dandy flock of jacks in rather an unusual place.

At Spring Grove the state fish hatchery is being rehabilitated for an expanded fish production program. Some of the ponds have been partially drained, so that workmen could put concrete walls around them. Around the edge of such a half dried up pond the rich black soil is mucky and soft.

We stepped to the side of a pond the other day to look it over. As we stood on the new concrete wall, Scaip! called the jacksnipe and five darted into the air from within eight feet of us. Wet swales suitable for the jacksnipe are few and far between this fall, so the birds are not a bit backward about taking over a fish hatchery to get a meal.

Wildcats Lose Six Players by Faculty Rule

Five Northwestern football candidates were declared ineligible yesterday, after failing in make-up examinations, and a sixth, Bob Sinks, veteran guard, was permitted to return to school only on condition that he does not play football this year.

Those who failed in examinations were Egbert, Massey, and Witzel, all letter winners at end last season, and Schoettle and Schaegren, two sophomore linesmen.

Building speed in running and passing became the principal objective of Coach Dick Hanley yesterday. He also paid some attention to kickers. Bill Griffin appears to be the best drop kicker on the squad, while other leading kickers are Capt. Hank Bruder, Marvil, Baker, and Lee Hanley.

VAN NICE'S INJURY SLIGHT.

Every one from Coach A. A. Stagg down had the scare of their lives yesterday at the University of Chicago football camp when Capt. Erret Van Nice, 200 pound half back, failed to jump to his feet after a pile up. The Maroon leader had been kicked on a nerve in his leg, and though the injury was painful it is not serious and he should be back in harness within a day or two.

Van Nice is the white hope of the Midway, and without him the offense would be almost hopelessly crippled. It will be his left handed passes and off tackle drives that gain most of the ground this season.

The line is developing very slowly. The heat yesterday slowed things up considerably, and though scrimmages were held at both sessions, no one was worked very hard. Stagg handed out some new forward pass plays in the morning session.

A few freshman candidates reported yesterday, but the first scheduled drill for the yearlings will be Thursday afternoon, at which time Lonnie Stagg and Jim Pyott will take charge.

ILLINI LOSE KAWAL.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—With Eddie Kawal of Cicero, who made a reputation as one of the best centers in the country as a sophomore last season, declared ineligible by an interpretation of the Big Ten rules by the conference faculty committee on eligibility, Bob Zuppke began a frantic search today for a center for the Illinois eleven.

Giants Knock Brooklyn Out of Pennant Race, 8-2

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The New York Giants eliminated Brooklyn from the 1930 National league pennant race today and drew within one point of the Robins in the struggle for third place as they won the last clash for the season between the two clubs, 8 to 2. It was Brooklyn's sixth straight defeat and left the Robins five games behind the league leading St. Louis Cardinals, with only four to play.

MANDELL, SINGER AGREE TO BOUT IN STADIUM OCT. 14

All That Remains Is for Boys to Sign Papers.

Sammy Mandell will meet Al Singer at the Stadium Oct. 14 if present plans mature. Nate Lewis, Stadium matchmaker, has the verbal agreements of the fighters for the match and expects to have their signed contracts within a few days.

Mandell hopes to vindicate his knockout by Singer which deprived him of his lightweight crown in New York. The Stadium match will be at catchweights, so the title will not be involved.

Herman's a Puncher.

Following Mandell's workout Herman took the ring at the same gymnasium. He boxed first with Jimmy Moore and then stepped with Hershie Wilson.

It may be Mandell's comeback as a welterweight will crash in the Herman bout Friday. Tommy is a puncher and has gradually worked back into top physical shape after a year's vacation. He weighed 144 pounds after yesterday's drill and believes he'll weigh a pound less for Sammy.

Herman, whose real name is Gilbert (he's a brother of Phillip E. Gilbert, a commissioner of the west park district), is only 21. Like many of the present crop of fighters, he began boxing at 17, giving his age as 21 to sidestep the rule of the New York commission prohibiting boys under 21 from boxing more than six rounds.

Was Sammy's Sparmate.

Herman is not unknown to Mandell, for Sammy engaged him as a sparring partner when he was training for his fight at the Stadium with Jimmy McLarnin.

"Herman's a hard puncher," Sammy said yesterday. "He's just the type of opponent I need in making a comeback."

"Perhaps many fans think Tommy will be a setup for Mandell," Joe Glazer, who manages the west side fighter, argued yesterday while waiting for Tommy to change into his ring clothes. "But I think Herman is a real fighter, and against Mandell he has everything to gain. Tommy doesn't have to fight; he's financially independent. When he was active he established a trust fund of $85,000, part of which is a membership on the Chicago Board of Trade."

Studied at Illinois.

Herman was graduated from Crane Technical High school in 1925 and in the fall of 1928 matriculated at the University of Illinois. After a semester he returned to Chicago and only recently determined on reëntering the ring.

WOLCOTT BLAIR BUYS FORMER RYERSON HOME

Purchases Residence on Lake View Avenue.

BY AL CHASE.

Wolcott Blair yesterday purchased the eighteen room residence at 2700 Lake View avenue, in the same block with the Elks' memorial, from Mrs. Forsythe Sherfesee for an undisclosed price. Mr. Blair rented this house from Mrs. Sherfesee, widow of Arthur Ryerson, in August of 1928. The lease called for approximately $1,000 a month rental and also contained an option to purchase within two years. Mr. Blair has now exercised this right.

The residence just bought by Mr. Blair has an interesting history. It was erected several years ago as one of a group of four individual houses, all fronting on Lake View avenue, and having a community heating plant. David Adler was architect.

Two Houses Have Changed Hands.

The four families who built and occupied the quartet of homes were those of Arthur Ryerson, David Danglar, Abram Poole and Ambrose Cramer Jr. Two of the houses have changed hands and are now occupied by Walter Brewster and Thomas Howell.

The corner property, just acquired by Mr. Blair, fronts forty-three feet on Lake View avenue and 110 feet on Wrightwood avenue. Stella F. Polk, who was broker for Mr. Blair when he rented the property, was also broker in yesterday's purchase. Caroline Hazzard represented Mrs. Sherfesee. Walter Wolf of Wolf, Tuthill & Lynde and Laird Bell of Fisher, Boyden, Bell, Boyd & Marshall, were attorneys.

To Remodel Midway Theater.

Tom Chamales, owner of the old Midway theater property, a three story building at 6242 Cottage Grove avenue, has had plans drawn by Jens J. Jensen for remodeling the entire structure at an expense of $100,000. Two stores will be installed on the ground floor. The upper stories will be converted into loft space.

E. W. Gruling has leased the store at 2337 Devon avenue from Rudolph Lederer for a term of years for use as a bakery. S. E. Terman & Co. were brokers.

The Brandt Jewelry company, now at 1225 East 63d street, has leased the adjoining store at 1223 for ten years at a reported term rental of $42,000. The lessee will remodel and continue doing business there. Sidney M. Kanne was broker.

CHICAGO CURB EXCHANGE STOCKS

Interest was centered in Rustless Iron on the Chicago curb yesterday, the issue finishing ⅛ lower at 1⅛, after settling momentarily to a new bottom price at $1. McWilliams Dredging stocks lost another point apiece on light sales and Hammond Clock and Nehi were down more than a point. Ford Ltd., United Gas stock and warrants and Canadian Marconi were fractionally higher, while North Continent Utilities gained more than a point.

Making Security Salesmen

There are three groups of Security salesmen.

1. Those who are making good now.
2. Those to whom making good always seems "just ahead."
3. Those who are discouraged to the point of admitting failure.

Near failures are making good; near successes are being turned into actual successes; fellows who were making good are being given the means toward even better accomplishment.

Babson Institute Course of Training in Investments and Security Salesmanship is accomplishing these things—it is truly "Making Security Salesmen."

Erie Railroad.

I have been told that equipment trust certificates are a conservative form of investment. I should like information about Erie railroad 4½ per cent equipment trust gold certificates, due June 15, 1945.—F. E. G.

Erie railroad $6,690,000 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates of 1930, dated June 15, 1930, and due semi-annually, Dec. 15, 1930, to June 15, 1945, which were offered in July at prices yielding from 3.50 per cent to 4.625 per cent, are sound.

They are secured by new standard railway equipment costing $8,425,000, of which $1,735,000 is paid by the company. The title to this equipment is vested in the trustee and the equipment is leased to the company at a rental sufficient to pay certificates and dividend warrants and other charges.

Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis.

Please forward information on Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis 4s, due Jan. 1, 1953.—B. H.

Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis owns and operates extensive railroad terminals in St. Louis, including belt lines and branches, and a tunnel 4,910 feet in length.

They are secured on the entire property of the company, subject to prior liens.

Interest charges on the company's funded debt were covered 1.49 times in 1929 and 1.65 times in 1928.

Stock Held in Trust.

I have a small son 3 years old for whom I wish to buy some stock. Will you kindly tell me just how I can have this stock read so that if at any time I wish to do so I can dispose of the stock.—T. E. G.

Stock purchased in the name of a minor should be issued in the name of the parent as trustee for the minor and a trust agreement should be prepared covering the terms and conditions on which the same may be sold. We suggest you consult an attorney for the preparation of such an agreement.

When the Big Fellow Fails It Really Hurts

To firms with a limited credit rating you extend but a limited line of credit. Therefore, losses from these customers seldom are serious. Usually they are anticipated in your profits.

To others, rated high by best financial services, you extend unlimited credit. You ship thousands of dollars in merchandise. Then something happens — something which no one could really foresee. A crash! A credit loss that really hurts.

American Credit Insurance

protects Manufacturers and Wholesalers from just such an unforeseeable situation. It insures against abnormal bad debt losses. It safeguards net profits, surplus and capital. It promotes confidence; eliminates worry.

Have our representative call and explain the many features of this broad protection and service. You will be surprised to see how little it costs and how much it offers.

RAIL LOADINGS, EARNINGS PERK UP SOMEWHAT

Autumn Hails Signs of Improvement.

BY O. A. MATHER.

It may not be long until "million car weeks," which were wont to be regarded as a sign of railroad well-being, will return after a lapse of months. At least, the railroads in the second week of this month came close to that mark, and it is generally acknowledged that the autumn season has hardly begun.

The car service division of the American Railway association reported last night that loadings of revenue freight for the week ended Sept. 13 totaled 965,713 cars, which marked an increase of 109,076 cars over the preceding week, when traffic was reduced somewhat by the Labor day holiday. It must be said, however, that freight traffic is still considerably below a year and two years ago, as the current figures show a decrease of 187,161 cars from a year ago and 172,347 cars from two years ago.

The main cause for gratification is that traffic is improving and in consequence earnings are picking up. The first eleven carriers to report for August showed net operating income aggregating $16,724 000, compared with $12,930,000 in July, making an increase of 29.3 per cent. However, the August total fell 24.3 per cent below the $22,111,000 of August, 1929, and also 10.8 per cent below the $18,757,000 of August, 1928.

Report Earnings.

Among the larger railroads, the Union Pacific reported August net operating income at $4,529,500, compared with $5,309,099 in August, 1929; the St. Louis-San Francisco reported $1,707,472, against $2,507,921; Norfolk and Western, $3,262,506, against $4,244,134; Wabash, $638,079, against $1,865,020, and Soo Line, $805,802, against $1,211,006.

Illinois Central officials estimated August net operating income at $1,815,000, compared with $2,397,439 a year ago. Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, placed net income at $2,200,000, against $3,980,515 in August, last year. He said that total traffic for this year will probably be 6 or 7 per cent below the average of the preceding five years, as business continues slow in the northwest and with little indication of a change for the better this year.

Although petroleum production increased slightly last week, the refiners made further progress in reducing stocks of refined products in storage. The daily average gross crude oil output was 2,421,800 barrels, an increase of 2,[illegible]0 barrels a day, according to the weekly summary issued by the American Petroleum institute last night. An upturn of 14,500 barrels a day in Oklahoma and smaller gains in the costal Louisiana and New Mexico fields were almost offset by declines in Kansas, Wyoming and the Texas fields. California production remained practically unchanged.

At 69.2% Capacity.

Refineries took somewhat less crude oil than during the previous week, and operated at 69.2 per cent of capacity, compared with 69.4 per cent. Gasoline stocks were reduced by 572,000 barrels, bringing the total to 37,260,000 barrels. Gas and fuel oil stocks were curtailed by 499,000 barrels, bringing that total to 140,376,000 barrels.

Some hope for a recovery in the building construction industry was fostered by data on new building in New York. Contracts awarded for new construction in the metropolitan areas of New York during the week ended Sept. 19 totaled $28,932,200, F. W. Dodge corporation reports. The figure brought the total for September to $57,626,200, a rate of $3,602,300 a business day, compared with a daily rate of $2,953,000 in August and $2,310,700 in September last year.

For the first time in months contracts for residential building were in the lead. For the year to date contracts awarded in the area total $715,702,200, compared with $885,312,300 in the like period last year.

Pennsy Would Enter Peoria Over Nickel Plate Tracks

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(AP)—A new method of entering the city of Peoria, Ill., is being sought by the Pennsylvania railroad, which asked the interstate commerce commission today to allow it to use six miles of Nickel Plate line near Peoria for entry to the city.

Who's to Stop Interference of Soviet in World Marts?

BY SCRUTATOR.

A question that needs clarification is: whose business is it to stop the soviet government of Russia from its efforts to demoralize the world's agricultural commodity markets? The authority of the secretary of agriculture is sufficient to indicate that this intention is guiding the Russians in their grain selling.

The secretary has passed the responsibility over to the Chicago Board of Trade. This organization is investigating. But it is unlikely that it will be able to fix a formula which will enable its members, or compel them, to refuse either buying or selling orders from Russian sources. Manipulation must be apparent before there is warrant for a commission house declining to take orders.

Intent of the seller, if the ethics of the trader are to govern, the barring of the Russians from the market, would have to be known in each case. It has always been contended that this market is open to the world. Foreigners without number in the past have traded here. Even the Canadian wheat pool has conducted operations, it is said, without incurring rancor.

Customer Protection.

Board of Trade members are loath to set any precedents that would require in future the disclosure of what customers are long or short of wheat. They assume that such things are confidential and it is no more proper to make a customer tell the world whether he is buying or selling than it is to require his bankers to disclose to the world whether he is well or ill supplied with money in accounts.

Indications are that the Board of Trade will stand by its guns, insist that it is in fact a world market and, while taking such action as the facts in this instance may warrant, decline to take responsibility for barring traders who are allowed to buy as freely as they like in the United States.

The soviet government could, conceivably, be using the Chicago market for legitimate hedging operations. An answer to this is that no government really needs to hedge grain sales. The profits or losses the administration of any country could make in the turnover of a few million bushels of grain would be negligible, as government finances go.

May Be Mischief Makers.

On that showing the soviets would be revealed as mischief makers on a world wide scale. So many explanations are given for their actions, ranging from the strictly business to deep dyed plots, that actuality is probably compounded of several motives. It is generally assumed that forced labor on confiscated land enables the Russians to produce wheat without much consideration of ordinary costs. Some in the wheat trade believe they would even ship into the United States and pay the tariff if it were not more feasible to accomplish the same end by sales of cash grain abroad at prices ruinous to other producers.

Much more demoralization of grain markets has been done through cash sales by Russia abroad than by short selling here. The Chicago grain trade feels that in view of this it is the business of the governments whose farmers are injured to take remedial steps.

PIERCE-ARROW 'A' STOCK MAY GO ON $2 BASIS

A. R. Erskine, president of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car company, stated yesterday that directors expect to put the class A common stock on a regular dividend basis of $2 annually at their quarterly meeting on Oct. 21. He estimated net profits for the first nine months would approximate $1,300,000 and was cheerful over the outlook for the balance of 1930.

A. R. ERSKINE.

REPORTS INCREASE IN 1929 GROSS FARM PRODUCTION INCOME

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—(AP)—An increase in the gross farm production income from $11,741,000,000 in 1928 to $11,851,000,000 for 1929 was reported today by the department of agriculture.

The gross income from live stock and live stock products for 1929 was estimated at $6,249,000,000 and that from crops at $5,603,000,000. As compared with 1928, the crop income declined $73,000,000, but the gross income from live stock and live stock products increased $183,000,000.

Department economists said the decrease in the crop income last year was largely due to declines in incomes from grains and cotton, which more than offset an increase of nearly $200,000,000 in the gross income from vegetables. In the live stock and live stock products group wool was the only commodity to show a decrease.

Operating costs of farming during 1929 were virtually the same as in 1928. After deducting operating costs, wages to hired labor, taxes, interest on debts, and rent paid to non-operating owners, the balance available for capital, labor, and management was $5,578,000,000, compared with $5,478,000,000 for 1928, an increase of $100,000,000.

The average farm family income available for capital, labor, and management was $882 for 1929, compared with $864 for 1928. These figures, it was added, do not represent the total income per farm family, inasmuch as they do not include that derived from sources other than agriculture.

REPUBLIC STEEL OMITS PAYMENT OF $1 DIVIDEND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 23.—Directors of the Republic Steel corporation omitted today the quarterly dividend of $1 a share on the common stock due at this time. In the previous quarter the company paid an initial quarterly dividend of that amount on the new junior issue following the consolidation of several smaller units into the present Republic Steel organization.

TOM GIRDLER.

The company is the third unit in the industry within the last fortnight whose directors decided to forego payment of quarterly dividends on the common stocks. The boards of Gulf States Steel and Ludlum voted recently to omit dividend payments.

"During the early months of its existence the corporation has been under heavy organization expense incident to the effecting of a large industrial merger," Tom W. Girdler, chairman and president of the Republic Steel, explained.

"At the same time the period has been one of severe recession in trade, and directors do not regard a dividend on common stock advisable now. The outlook for the corporation is favorable with the revival of business, which now seems to be getting gradually under way.

"Nearly $10,000,000 is being expended this year for completion of the new electric welding pipe mill and for other plant betterments designed to round out the corporation's products and increase plant efficiency. The improvements, together with the building up of an effective operating organization, have placed the corporation in a position to benefit from a return of more normal conditions."

Chicago Stocks Turn About, Prices Close on Upgrade

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A measure of encouragement was found by most speculators in yesterday's stock market proceedings. After a week or more of almost steady decline in prices the market turned about and made moderate headway on the up side.

To the dyed in the wool professional, of course, it is of little consequence which way the current carries him, but the small speculator is seldom short and he needs reassurance in a declining market. So a rally is always welcome.

On the Chicago exchange the recovery was featured by a 5 point runup in Majestic, which was the most active issue on the board. There is little evidence that the stock will surrender its position as the speculative favorite of the exchange. The sharp advance in Majestic overshadowed the less spectacular improvement made by Grigsby-Grunow. The latter issue advanced a fraction to cross 8 and was in reasonably good demand and firm throughout the day.

Recovers Loss.

U. S. Radio recovered most of the 3½ point loss it sustained on the previous day and closed at 24⅞. Polymet exhibited weakness, dropping over a point to a new low below 5 on sales of approximately 1,000 shares, an abnormal volume for the issue.

J. R. Thompson was another issue which lost ground. The stock which is not heavily traded in was quoted on an odd lot transaction 3¾ points under the last previous sale.

Insull Utility received most of the attention among the utility shares. On steady demand throughout the day the price was bid up to 54. While most of the other issues in the group scored some improvement, Missouri-Kansas displayed an easier trend and closed down to 17¾.

Auburn Advances.

Motor shares followed the general trend with Auburn striking the way with an advance of around 3 points. Investment trust shares were irregular within a narrow range. Chicago corporation gave a fraction on fair volume.

The symbol for Illinois Central which is IL appeared on the Chicago tape for the first time this year yesterday when an odd lot of 50 shares was made at 112⅛. The last sale in the stock here, which is traded on the New York exchange, was made some time last year at 144½.

TELLS OF BOARD OF STRATEGY FOR STEEL COMBINE

Youngstown, O., Sept. 23.—(AP)—President Frank Purnell of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company today revealed from the witness stand further details concerning the strategy board which worked here last March and April in behalf of the merger of Youngstown with the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Testifying as a defense witness in the suit brought by the Cyrus S. Eaton interests to block the merger, Purnell disclosed that he was named chairman of the strategy committee, which was formed in New York on March 28 at a meeting in the offices of Eugene Grace, Bethlehem president.

The witness said Mr. Grace spoke of the lack of coördination among those favoring merger and the vast amount of publicity which was being put out by the opposition committee prior to the April 8 stockholders' meeting.

Along the line of Judge David Jenkins' questioning of Henry G. Dalton last week, Defense Attorney Newton D. Baker pressed Purnell for some recollection as to any specific thing the strategy committee set out to do, but Purnell was unable to recall anything beyond general policy. Dalton, a director in both companies, attended the New York meeting.

The witness said that George O. May of Price-Waterhouse was placed on the committee to determine what figure should be used in the pro-merger literature sent out.

Chicago City Railway Co. to Elect Three Directors

Chicago City Railway company has called a special meeting of stockholders to be held at the general offices in the First National Bank building on Oct. 20 for the purpose of electing directors to fill the vacancies created by death and resignation. At this meeting directors will be elected to succeed L. A. Busby, president of the company, and Frank O. Wetmore, who both died recently. Another vacancy to be filled is that caused by the resignation of Frank W. Thomas.

ESTIMATES YEAR'S LOSS OF BILLION IN BANKRUPTCIES

A billion dollars will probably be America's loss through bankruptcy this year, director of the National Association of Credit Men were told yesterday by William Fraser, president.

"The annual loss has been approximately $750,000,000 for the last several years," he said. "Judging from the increased rate of business failures it will likely reach a billion for 1930.

"To this must be added the losses arising from many failures which never get into the bankruptcy courts. Even the richest nation in the world cannot go on marking off such a tremendous bad debt loss year after year. Annually it amounts to more than the total value of the nation's wheat crop and is only slightly under the net operating income of the railroads."

Mr. Fraser said the bankruptcy investigation recently ordered by President Hoover "promises to be one of the most constructive undertakings in years."

Berlin Boerse Enjoys Improvement in Tone

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—There was a friendlier tone at the opening of the boerse today. There was still some selling but most of the offerings were quickly absorbed and a general improvement was marked of 2 or 3 points, while some issues gained 8 or 9 points. Demand for foreign currency, especially French francs, abated somewhat, the Reichsbank making no further transfers of gold.

SEES SHORTAGE OF GOLD FOR MONEY BY 1934

GENEVA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The report of the gold delegation of the league of nations financial committee, published today, indicates the probability of a shortage of new gold for monetary purposes by the year 1934.

The gold delegation has been studying all fluctuations of the purchasing power of gold. Its work is not yet complete.

The delegation is composed of financial experts of many countries, including George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City bank of New York.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 23.—Some of the boys who follow the stock market for a living got to thinking today that maybe the world wasn't going to pot after all and set about, with that notion in mind, to lay in their winter's supply of shares while the prices were down.

The idea got to be quite the thing eventually. The buying started with the pivotals and certain speculative issues which had suffered most keenly from continued bear play in the last few days and were therefore most attractive as bargains. It spread to the rank and file of one group after another until finally virtually the whole list with the exception of the coppers and some of the rails were included.

Wipe Out Losses.

Yesterday's losses were wiped out in a large number of cases and the closing gong found the list generally up from a fraction to 2 points more. Here and there the recoveries were quite sharp. Allied Chemical and Dye, one of the outstanding victims of the new bear offensive, came back for a 4 point gain. American Can recovered 4¾ points of its recent losses, American Water Works skipped up 4⅛, Underwood Elliot Fisher Rose 4¼, Diamond Match 10, A. M. Byers 3⅝, Columbia Carbon 3¼, and Dupont and Case Threshing 3 points each.

At that, there were enough weak spots to force the bull element to keep their feet on the floor. Besides the coppers and the big-time rails various specialties lagged on the selling side all day, some of them sinking to new low price levels for the year. These "weak sisters" were to be found throughout the list and were numerous enough to give the final tables a pretty ragged look.

Selling in Coppers.

Selling of the red metal shares went on steadily and at times became quite heavy. Large scale offerings in that quarter of the list were influenced by expectations that the Anaconda directors would vote a further reduction of the dividend rate of the company when action is taken on the next payment at noon on Thursday. The com-

A Message to Bond Buyers

THE point of view of this company with regard to the bond market is expressed in the following quotation from an interview with Mr. Lawrence Stern which recently appeared in the press:

"It appears to be inevitable—from numerous indications—that a strong bond market is in the making.

"A study of the action of the market during recent weeks furnishes a number of significant indications which confirm this conclusion. Ever since last March there has been a rising price tendency among the higher grade bonds. This has been largely due to institutional buying. In recent weeks there has been noticeable a distinct tendency for this strength to spread to junior liens and securities other than the higher grade of institutional bonds. This is particularly evident in the utility and railroad classifications. Past history shows that such a spreading of strength from the higher grade issues downward is the first stage of a general advance.

"As further encouraging factors, it may be noted that both savings and commercial deposits are increasing, and that there has been a curtailment in the volume of new issues. Still further favorable items are found in the present situation in the commodity markets and in the trend of money rates.

"All of these indications combine to form a basis for the confident expectation that a strong upward movement in the bond market will become evident this autumn."

Acting in accordance with our belief that intelligent buying will create a strong demand for bonds this autumn, Lawrence Stern and Company has placed upon its list an unusually diversified selection of sound investment bonds—chosen with the view of meeting the needs of the far-sighted investor who wishes to take advantage of present conditions.

We suggest that you write today for our current bond recommendations.

Which Stocks Today?

The price of many an individual stock may appear temptingly low today from an investment viewpoint.

The more important point to be considered is: Which common stocks will show the largest gains during the next period of prosperity? This is more important than present price.

The common stocks behind American Composite Trust Shares are those of 40 of the foremost successful corporations of the country which have shown the most consistent rise in earnings, surpluses and dividend payments during the last score of years.

WOOL.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The wool auction sales were continued today with offerings amounting to 11,789 bales of which 9,000 were sold. There was active bidding at current rates for superior grades, but lower sorts and slipes were irregular and in buyers' favor. A few lots of Cape of Good Hope and Natal choice snow whites were sold to the home trade pany maintained a $7 rate from May, 1929, until May this year, when it was voted to halve the rate. Since then payments have been made on a $3.50 basis. It is now expected that a cut to at least $2 annual basis will be voted on Thursday.

HERE'S CHEERFUL ITEM: STOCKS BOUNCE UPWARD

Inspiration directors, who are also scheduled to meet shortly, are expected to omit further payments altogether. Anaconda and Kennecott, the leaders of the group, Calumet and Hecla and Calumet and Arizona all sold to new price bottoms for the year today.

Share in Rally.

A modest amount of investment buying was reported in some of the better grade stocks—notably National Biscuit, American Telephone, and some of the other so-called "rock bound investment" shares.

Amusement shares shared prominently in the rally, Fox Film and Loew's rising about 2 points each, and Warner Brothers trailing along for about half as much. Radio Keith was up about 1½ at the finish.

Public utility shares were uniformly higher, American Power and Light, Consolidated Gas, Foreign Power, Standard Gas, and others of the group making up from 1 to 2 points or more of their recent losses.

Oils were steadier. Houston Oil jumped nearly 3 points, but the others were satisfied in the main to hold their own.

Republic Steel was found to have discounted the omission of the dividend. Pierce-Arrow responded with a price spurt to official predictions that the class A would be put on a $2 annual basis next month.

Trading was at a more leisurely pace even than yesterday, the total of transactions falling considerably below the 2,000,000 share mark. Call money renewed unchanged at 2 per cent, but accommodations were liberally offered in the "outside" market as low as 1½ per cent.

RAW SILK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—SILK—Raw futures closed barely steady; sales, 610 bales. September, $2.61; December, $2.51; March, $2.51. Open market quotations [sixty day basis] Shanghai steam extra B, $3.10. Canton double extra A, 14-16s, $1.89; Japanese crack double extra, $2.96.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF STOCK MARTS

Auto Production.

Department of commerce figures on automobile production during August corresponds closely with the recent estimates of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, and consequently were no surprise. Output was less than half that of August a year ago, and the lowest since last November. It is freely predicted that production this month is unlikely to exceed that of August, and, of course, nothing much is expected for the remaining months of the year. Motor shares are down to levels which discount most things likely to happen this year and which merely register the hope of stockholders for better times in 1931.

U. S. Steel.

United States Steel remains the leader of the stock market, although it sometimes is crowded out of the foreground for a short while by other stocks. By and large, the action of Steel is the action of the market. One body of opinion has maintained all summer that U. S. Steel was selling too high on its earning prospects, which were set at $12 to $13 a share; but, inasmuch as the dividend was known to be safe, investment buying was sufficient to overcome the selling pressure from bears. However, some downward revision of Steel's value seems to have taken place on the basis of unsatisfactory third quarter earnings.

Would Cancel War Debts.

John F. Harris of Harris, Upham & Co. feels that the European situation is not particularly encouraging. He points out that England has over 2,000,000 people receiving the dole and Germany has over 2,000,000 unemployed. He also cites the political unrest in Germany. To counteract Russian propaganda in Germany, Mr. Harris recommends the cancellation of all war debts.

May Act Soon.

In announcing the regular dividend on the preferred stock yesterday directors of the Paepcke corporation indicated that action on the common dividend will be taken soon.

Plans Stock Issue.

Great Lakes Pipe Line company, owned by Continental Oil and Barnsdall corporation, has made application to the Illinois commerce commission to issue $100,000 of its capital stock. The company was formed to pipe gasoline from Oklahoma to Minneapolis.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was easier today under increased offerings, evening up in the spot position, trading in which ceased today, had a depressing effect in the raw futures market with that month selling down to 1.01c, or 6 points below the previous close and the lowest level ever established since trading in raw futures was inaugurated. This decline was due to liquidation as a result of the circulation of 43 notices, but after they were stopped, that position rallied sharply, regaining all the early loss, with last sales at 1.10, or 3 points above the previous close. Approximate sales, 32,900 tons. Prices follow:

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—COFFEE—Futures were steadier early on Brazilian and trade buying, but advance were not fully maintained and partial reactions occurred under some near month liquidation. No. 7 contracts closed 2 lower to 12 higher. Sales, 18,000 bags. Santos contracts closed 6 lower to 15 higher. Sales, 33,000 bags. FINANCIAL NOTES

First Detroit company and American Securities company are offering $190,000 Alhambra City, Cal., school district 5 per cent bonds. The issue matures in $10,000 amounts each year from 1931 to 1949. The bonds are selling to yield 3.50 per cent to 4.20 per cent.

Halsey Stuart & Co., Inc., will offer shortly a $15,000,000 issue of 4½ per cent bonds, due 1970, and $8,000,000 ten year 5½ per cent notes of the Chicago District Electric Generating company. The financing is for refunding purposes. The company formerly was named the State Line Generating company and is jointly owned by several of the more important Insull utility companies.

The First Union Trust and Savings bank has purchased and placed with institutions and private investors three issues of bonds of stock yards companies. Included in these bond issues were $1,250,000 St. Louis National Stock Yards first mortgage 5 per cent bonds; $1,000,000 Sioux City Stock Yards company first mortgage 5 per cent ten year bonds, and $1,000,000 St. Joseph Stock Yards company first mortgage 5 per cent sinking fund bonds.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Cotton gray goods markets were quiet today. Prices were firm at the higher levels of the previous day, although not all of the print cloth advances were being paid. Sheetings were of greater interest in a few constructions. Burlaps for future shipment were higher on stronger offerings from Calcutta, the better levels being reported based on further appreciation in the price of raw jute. Spots were steadier. Inquiry for carded cotton yarns for deliveries into 1931 were reported. Silk merchandise was moderately active.

Another sharp break was recorded in hogs yesterday. Light weights led the way down, closing 25@50c below the general selling the previous day. Local demand was fairly good at the sharp reduction, but 6,000 were still in the pens at the close, the low point.

The top fell 30c at $10.70, while the general average came down 25c at $9.75. Packing sows were not as plentiful, but shared in the decline. While shippers have purchased about the same number of hogs as a week ago, receipts for the first two days show an increase of 8,700.

Armour, Swift and Wilson handled nearly 10,000 head, including 5,000, mostly 160@200 lb averages that were bought at Chicago at $10.00 and slightly below.

September Hogs Active.

Trading in the hog futures market yesterday was confined mostly to September contracts. Offers outnumbered bids and prices sagged 10@15c, but closed firm. September light opened at $10.25 and closed at $10.30. Mediums for the same month sold at $10.75. October light and mediums were offered at $9.80@9.85 and November mediums at $9.60. December light and mediums were offered at $9.05 and January contracts at $9.15@9.25.

Sellers enjoyed the advantage of light supplies on the cattle market again yesterday and held prices firm at Monday's advance in spite of the attempts of buyers to erase some of the gain. Choice yearling steers averaging 1044 lbs topped the list at $12.85, while 1005 lb averages brought $12.60, and 890 lb. yearlings $12.50. Some 1564 lb beeves reached the $12.00 line. The bulk brought $9.75@$11.75. Cows and heifers were slow but mostly steady. Calves were unchanged. Stockers and feeders of good quality held firm, while others were weak.

Native Lambs Are Steady.

Native lambs held steady yesterday, while westerns lost 10@15c more. Most ewe and wether natives sold at $8.00@8.25, top to city butchers making $8.50. Best Colorado range lambs sold to shippers at $8.35 and others cleared at $8.00@8.25. Aged sheep declined 25c and yearlings sold steady.

Feeding lambs of good to choice quality were scarce and quoted steady at $7.50@7.75, but few were good enough to bring more than $7.00. While Chicago receipts are smaller than a week ago, other points report increases.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 9,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs and 21,000 sheep, against 13,059 cattle, 16,203 hogs and 25,854 sheep on the previous Wednesday and 14,840 cattle, 20,180 hogs and 29,371 sheep a year ago.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Market was depressed by easiness in all other markets today, but only a little local selling developed and the market closed with a fairly steady tone, with old contracts 10 to 15 points lower and new 5 points higher to 5 lower. Total sales were 2,700 brls, including 600 in the old contracts and 2,100 in the new. Prime crude, 6.25c; prime summer yellow, old, spot, 7.65c; September, 7.55c; October, 7.56c; December, 7.60c. CASH·GRAIN N·E·W·S

China was in the market for cash wheat and sales around 1,000,000 bu Manitobas were reported, with further bids in the market. European demand, however, showed no improvement with Russian wheat equal to No. 3 Manitobas reported offered at 85¼c at Hamburg, Germany.

PRICE BREAK HITS WORLD'S LEADING WHEAT MARKETS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Demoralization prevailed in all of the leading wheat markets of the world yesterday as the result of general selling induced by the continued pressure of Russian cash grain abroad, and the circulation of a bogus message received from some unknown person in Winnipeg by several Chicago and Liverpool houses to the effect that the Canadian pool was in difficulty.

The report was immediately denied. The American and Canadian governments, as well as the Chicago Board of Trade and the Winnipeg Grain exchange, started an investigation to determine who sent the message. Nevertheless it had the effect of starting longs to liquidating holdings in all markets.

Prices crumbled away steadily before the wave of persistent selling in small lots, with all deliveries here and in other markets dropping rapidly to new low figures for the season and to the lowest levels at this period of the year since 1906 on the nearby futures. Chicago was off 2¼@2½c; Winnipeg, 2⅝c; Liverpool, 1½@1⅞d, and Buenos Aires over 3c at the inside.

A small rally came in Chicago before the close, but the finish was 1⅞@2c lower, with September at 78⅜c; December, 82¾@82⅞c, and May, 89⅛@89¼c.

Winnipeg Leads Decline.

The Winnipeg wheat market was especially weak and closed at the bottom with a loss of 2⅝c. October there was 5⅛c under Chicago September at the last. Liverpool also finished at the bottom and Buenos Aires was off 2¼@2⅝c. After the markets started downward it was more a question of finding buyers than anything else, and the undertone was weak the greater part of the day. At no time did Chicago rally as much as ¾c until shortly before the finish, when sufficient buying appeared from holders of bids and from shorts to make a small upturn, which was partly lost later.

Pit brokers said there was evidence of buying of wheat on scale orders in Chicago all day long, which accounted for the resistance of the market to the continued pressure. There was also considerable spreading between the local market and Winnipeg.

A ray of light for the bulls in the development of an active demand for cash wheat from China, with sales of 1,000,000 bu Manitobas and bids for more, failed to have the slightest effect on the market. The failure of Europe to come in as a buyer caused considerable comment, as the latter has been expected to take the bulk of the North American surplus. A press dispatch claimed that Russia had chartered room to take out 7,000,000 quarters of grain, equal to 56,000,000 bu wheat, which led some operators to express the belief that perhaps the amounts that would be shipped from that country were being underestimated.

An increase of 27,322,000 bu in the world available supply for the week also attracted attention, as it swelled the total to 413,343,000 bu, compared with 393,493,000 bu last year.

Corn Breaks Sharply.

Liquidation, which started in wheat, quickly spread to corn and, with a lack of aggressive support, prices dropped 2⅝@4c from Monday's finish to a new low on the present movement for the nearby futures and to a new low on the crop for May. Short covering and commission house buying made a fair rally from the inside figures, with the close at net losses of 1⅞@3c, with September leading. The latter finished at 85¾c; December, 82@82½c, and May, 84⅝c.

The trade had the impression during the day that a leading local long went out of his line during the day. Bullish statements from the department of agriculture and Chairman Legge of the farm board on the scarcity of feed had no effect on values, nor did an advance of ¼@¾c in the spot basis and a better shipping demand, with feed manufacturers taking a good part of the small local arrivals.

New Low on Oats.

Deferred deliveries of oats sold at a new low for the season, with liquidation in evidence, in sympathy with other grains. Commission houses and local longs were persistent sellers. The finish was at net losses of 1⅛@1⅞c, with September closing at 35½c; December, 38@38⅛c, and May, 41⅛c.

Numerous stop loss orders were uncovered in rye and, with a lack of support, all deliveries dropped to a new low on the crop and closed within a fraction of the bottom, with losses of 3⅜@3⅝c. September was 46⅛c and December 49⅞c at the last. Early there was buying of rye against sales of corn by spreaders. The Canadian pool has lowered its initial payment on both oats and rye 5c per bu.

SUGAR MELT.

The total melt of 15 United States sugar refineries from Jan. 1 to Sept. 13 was 3,430,000 long tons.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

With general liquidation under way in all market a majority of commission houses and local professionals said they could see nothing in the world's situation to cause more than a temporary upturn due to an oversold condition. The utter absence of a European demand for North American wheat as they see it is counting heavily against the price. There are some observers, however, who feel that the decline is putting the market into a much healthier condition, and call attention to the fact that if Russia ships all the wheat rumored that it will clear the total would equal about one month's requirements of importing countries.

Corn traders were generally bearish, feeling that scattered liquidation was under way, and that there was no use in taking the buying side until the downward movement has run its course. J. K. Riordon, however, believes that at prevailing prices for corn the incentive to substitute other feeds no longer exists, as new corn is not worth over 70c per bu in the country. There is better than a 10 to 1 feeding ration between the price of December corn and hogs for December delivery.

BUTTER AND EGGS

A selling movement at the opening sent November eggs down to within ¼c of the all time low on the Chicago mercantile exchange yesterday. Before the dip had been arrested November touched 23¼c, the all time low being 23c. The selling pressure ran its course before the session ended, however, and a good recovery was made toward the end. November closed at 24c, off ½c from the previous close. December finished at 24¼c, off ¼c. Butter futures were under the same pressure from which eggs suffered and shot downward rapidly at the opening, reaching to 37⅛c, a new low on the present movement. November closed at 37⅝c, off ⅛c. December closed at 27¾c, off ¼c.

A strongly bearish run of statistical information brought about the selling pressure at the opening in eggs. The weekly 26 market report showed 44,600 cases less removed than a year ago; the day's four markets report showed 13,300 cases less taken out; the spot market was sharply lower and eastern markets declined. The weekly report in butter was fairly bullish in tone, 557,000 lbs more being removed than in the same period a year ago, with holdings 13,000,000 lbs under the supply on hand a year ago. Sales: Butter, November, 204 cars; December, 20 cars. Eggs, November, 218 cars; December, 6 cars. Receipts, butter, 10,444 tubs; eggs, 8,444 cases. Prices follow:

ST. PAUL WOMAN SUES, CLAIMING HALF BILLION ON RAIL BOLT PATENTS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Litigation involving about a half billion dollars bobbed up in federal District court here today in the suit of Mrs. Katherine Ryan, St. Paul, against the Inland Steel company and the Great Northern railway.

Mrs. Ryan in her suit asks unpaid royalty which she claims the defendant companies owe her for her alleged infringement on two patents for a self-locking railroad bolt she invented. She asks punitive damages which would triple the amount she claims is due her.

Besides the two defendants today Mrs. Ryan also filed suit against many of the country's largest steel companies, including the United States Steel corporation, Carnegie Steel company, United States Steel Products company, Illinois Steel company, and others. Her total claims, she said today, would aggregate about $500,000,000.

Previous suits she has prosecuted in federal courts were dismissed or settled out of court.

Subpœnaed in the case called for trial today are 47 witnesses, including Louis W. Hill Sr., chairman of the board of the Great Northern; Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific; T. Jaffray, president of the Soo line, and Horace Lowry, head of the Twin Cities Street Car lines.

By special permission of the court Mrs. Ryan will be aided in presenting the case by her nephew, Kingsley Ryan, a graduate of the St. Paul college, but not yet admitted to the bar.

FOREIGN ISSUES AGAIN FEATURE BOND TRADING

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—While the day's trading showed a continued strong demand for high grade domestic issues, the pressure exerted on foreign loans was again the feature of the bond market today.

There was a faint sign of stability in the list of German bonds, in common with the better tone in other world markets, but most of them remained under pressure, and while showing some recovery from the lows of the day, nearly two dozen issues closed at new bottoms for the year. Best support was attracted to German International 5½s, which finished ⅜ higher. But German 7s, after rallying more than a point at the outset, skidded to a new low and its performance was duplicated by municipal and industrial issues on declines of from 1 to 4 points.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter was weak and 1@1½c lower, while fresh eggs broke 1½@2c. Live hens were off ½c, with spring chickens 1c higher. Receipts, 4 cars by freight. Potatoes, easier on russets. Jewish holidays tended to restrict trading. Receipts, 67 cars, with 349 cars on team track.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE

Cotton established new low levels for the season yesterday as the result of selling induced by the weakness in the grain markets and on a ginning report that was somewhat larger than general expectations. The census bureau reported 3,730,000 bales ginned to Sept. 16, compared with 3,352,000 bales last year. Texas was given 1,842,000 bales, against 1,363,000 bales last year. There was a fair rally after the ginning report was issued, but the market gradually weakened and the finish was well toward the inside with net losses of 5@9 points in Chicago and 3@9 points in other markets.

World's consumption of American cotton is continuing at a very low rate, totaling 863,000 bales in August, compared with 1,108,000 bales during the corresponding month a year ago. The Indian crop is estimated at 6,250,000 bales, the largest ever known. Better trade reports were received from abroad during the day. Spot in New York were 10 points lower at 10.65c; New Orleans, 5 points lower, 10.40c; Galveston, 10.55c; Houston, 10.50c. Prices follow:

LONGS SELL LARD FREELY

Tired longs were on the selling side of lard yesterday from the start and found support in the deferred deliveries slow in developing, while cash interests and packers bought the nearby months. The finish was at net losses of 12½@35c on lard with May leading, while bellies were dull and finished unchanged to 30c lower. Weakness in the grain markets, and a break of 25@35c in hog prices also had some effect on the market. Liverpool lard closed unchanged to 9d lower. Prices follow:

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS.

Mr. Clement is vicar of a country village in England. His wife, Griselda, is nearly twenty years his junior. The vicar's young nephew, Dennis, lives with them.

Col. Protheroe, a pompous parishioner, who makes life miserable for his daughter, Lettice, and his second wife, is expected at the vicarage at 6:15 one evening. At 5:30 the vicar is called to visit a dying parishioner and leaves word for the colonel that he will wait for him. On returning at 7 the vicar meets Lawrence Redding, an artist who is living in a studio on the vicarage grounds, coming out of the house in an agitated state. The day before the artist and Mrs. Protheroe had confessed to him their love for each other. In the study the vicar finds the colonel dead, murdered apparently. No weapon is found. Dr. Haydock is called and he says Protheroe has been dead half an hour and summons the police. A note which the colonel started to write to the vicar is headed 6:20. A clock, overturned when the colonel fell forward, stopped at 6:22, but it was always kept fifteen minutes fast.

Lawrence Redding and Mrs. Protheroe both confess the murder.

Miss Marple, a near neighbor, saw Anne Protheroe go to the vicarage about 6:15 and go on to the studio. She had no place to conceal a weapon. Redding came along shortly after and joined her at the studio. They came out a little later and walked towards the village.

Lawrence and Anne admit they had confessed the crime thinking the other had committed it. Lawrence said he had come back to see the vicar, after leaving Anne, and had found his pistol and thought Anne must have taken it.

Mrs. Lestrange, a mysterious newcomer in the village, called on Col. Protheroe the night before he died. Lawrence, anxious to clear his name, questions the servants at the Protheroe home.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

THE SERVANT'S STORY.

"Yes, Mrs. Lestrange," Lawrence said. "I can't help feeling there's something rather odd about that visit of hers."

"Yes, indeed, sir, that's what we all said," agreed the maid.

"You did?"

"Coming the way she did. And asking for the colonel. And of course there's been a lot of talk—nobody knowing anything about her down here. And Mrs. Simmons, she's the housekeeper, sir, she gave it as her opinion that she was a regular bad lot. But after hearing what Gladdie said, well, I didn't know what to think."

"What did Gladdie say?"

"Yes, sir."

"I believe you know, Rose."

"Me? Oh no, sir. Indeed I don't. How could I?"

"Look here, Rose. You said you'd help me. If you overheard anything, anything at all—it mightn't seem important, but anything . . . I'd be so awfully grateful to you. After all, any one might—might chance—just chance to overhear something."

"But I didn't, sir, really I didn't."

"Then somebody else did," said Lawrence acutely.

"Well, sir——"

"Do tell me, Rose."

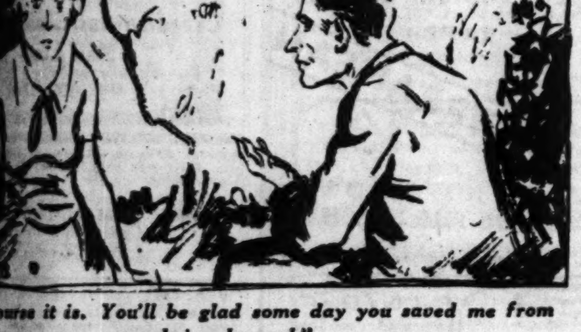
"I don't know what Gladdie would say, I'm sure."

"She'd want you to tell me. Who is Gladdie, by the way?"

"She's the kitchen maid, sir. And you see, she'd just stepped out to speak to a friend, and she was passing the window—the study window—and the master was there with the lady. And of course he did speak very loud, the master did, always. And naturally, feeling a little curious—I mean——"

"Awfully natural," said Lawrence. "I mean one would simply have to listen."

"But of course she didn't tell any one—except me. And we both thought it very odd. But Gladdie couldn't say anything, you see, because if it was known she'd gone out to meet a—a friend—well, it would have meant a lot of unpleasantness with Mrs. Pratt, that's the cook, sir. But I'm sure she'd tell you anything, sir, willing."



"Of course it is. You'll be glad some day you saved me from being hanged."

"Well, can I go to the kitchen and speak to her?"

At last the matter was settled, after a lot of discussion over difficult points. A clandestine meeting was arranged in the shrubbery.

Here, in due course, Lawrence was confronted by the nervous Gladdie. Ten minutes were spent in trying to put the girl at her ease, the shivering Gladys explaining that she couldn't ever—that she didn't ought, that she didn't think Rose would have given her away, that anyway she hadn't meant no harm, indeed she hadn't.

"And it won't be brought up against me in a court of law?"

"Never."

"And you won't tell the mistress?"

"Not on any account."

"If it were to get to Mrs. Pratt's ears——"

"It won't. Now tell me, Gladys."

Gladys gave a little shriek.

"Oh indeed, I wouldn't like that, sir. Well, it's very little I heard—and that entirely by accident, as you might say——"

"But the master, he was evidently very angry. 'After all these years—' that's what he was saying—'you dare to come here—— It's an outrage——' I couldn't hear what the lady said—but after a bit he said: 'I utterly refuse—utterly——' I can't remember everything—seemed as though they were at it hammer and tongs, she wanting him to do something and he refusing. 'It's a disgrace that you should have come down here,' that's one thing he said. And: 'You shall not see her—I forbid it——' and that made me prick up my ears. Looked as though the lady wanted to tell Mrs. Protheroe a thing or two, and he was afraid about it. And I thought to myself: 'Well, now, fancy the master. Him so particular. And maybe no beauty himself when all's said and done. Fancy!' I said. And: 'Men are all alike,' I said to my friend later. Not that he'd agree. Argued, he did. But he did admit he was surprised at Col. Protheroe—him being a church warden and handing round the plate and reading the lessons on Sundays. 'But there,' I said, 'that's very often the worst.' For that's what I've heard my mother say, many a time."

Gladdie paused out of breath.

"Did you hear anything else?"

"Well, it's difficult to remember exactly, sir. It was all much the same. He said once or twice 'I don't believe it.' Just like that. 'Whatever Haydock says, I don't believe it.'"

"He said that, did he? 'Whatever Haydock says?'"

"Yes. And he said it was all a plot."

"You didn't hear the lady speak at all?"

"Only just at the end. She must have got up to go and come nearer the window. And I heard what she said. Made my blood run cold, it did. I'll never forget it. 'By this time tomorrow night, you may be dead,' she said. Wicked the way she said it. As soon as I heard the news: 'There,' I said to Rose. 'There!'"

Lawrence wondered. Principally he wondered how much of Gladys' story was to be depended upon. True in the main, he suspected that it had been embellished and polished since the murder. In especial he doubted the accuracy of the last remark. He thought it highly possible that it owed its being to the fact of the murder.

One thing was clear, Mrs. Lestrange's interview with Col. Protheroe had certainly not been a peaceful one and it was one which he was anxious to keep from the knowledge of his wife.

I thought of Miss Marple's church warden with his separate establishment. Was this a case resembling that?

I wondered more than ever where Haydock came in. He had saved Mrs. Lestrange from having to give evidence at the inquest. He had done his best to protect her from the police.

How far would he carry that protection?

Supposing he suspected her of crime—would he still try and shield her?

She was a curious woman—a woman of very strong magnetic charm. I myself hated the thought of connecting her with the crime in any way. Something in me said: "It can't be her!"

Why?

And an imp in my brain replied: "Because she's a very beautiful and attractive woman. That's why."

There is, as Miss Marple would say, a lot of human nature in all of us.

When I got back to the vicarage I found that we were in the middle of a domestic crisis.

Griselda met me in the hall and with tears in her eyes dragged me into the drawing room.

If movies were all like the little girl with the curl "right in the middle of her forehead" a reviewer's job would be made easy. When they're "very, very good" it's a simple matter to record their virtues, and when they're so bad that they're "horrid" it's equally easy to rate them.

"The Sea God," on view this week at the Oriental, is one of the countless pictures that lie between these two extremes. It's an average program picture. One star would underrate the film, but it just manages to make the two star class because of the work of Richard Arlen and Eugene Palette.

* * *

The plot has plenty of action, some humor, and several tried and true situations that under better direction would have created suspense. The locale is the South seas. There the climate is supposed to play havoc with white men's souls.

"Pink" Barber, played by Richard Arlen, and a gentleman called Schultz are natural enemies. Every time they bring their sailing boats to a trading post there's a battle. Both strive to win Daisy, one of the few white women on the islands. Daisy foolishly turns down "Pink," who's a nice diamond in the rough, for the smooth, unscrupulous Schultz.

* * *

As the wedding date approaches she changes her mind and decides she doesn't want to marry anybody. To get away from Schultz she stows herself away in "Pink's" boat, which, due to a strange turn of fortune, is headed for a pearl diving expedition. Schultz, getting word of their object and destination, follows them. The last reel is a free for all battle with Schultz, "Pink," and a tribe of cannibals.

There are some good scenic effects showing coral islands in the placid South seas and some nice shots of sailing vessels.

OLD JAIL OFFERS REFUGE FOR MEN NOW LACKING WORK

The abandoned county jail and Criminal Courts building at Austin avenue and Dearborn street are to be used as a shelter for homeless men.

A group of women has taken a lease on the old structures and has organized a philanthropy to be known as the Tower Town Food and Shelter fund which is undertaking the task of caring for the homeless unemployed during the winter months.

Headed by Mrs. Thomas D. Collins, wife of a hotel owner, the group yesterday appeared before Mayor Thompson and negotiated the lease. The mayor approved a 90 day lease on the buildings and donated the $1 required as the consideration for completing the contract.

The Tower Town Food and Shelter fund has arranged to finance the charitable project by selling strips of tickets which will be given to unfortunates who walk the streets asking the passersby for the price of a "cup of coffee." These tickets will be exchangeable for a meal and a night's lodging at the shelter. The tickets will be sold to all persons interested in supporting the project, the purchasers distributing them to the unfortunates.

Associated with Mrs. Collins as sponsors of the movement are Mrs. Alden Scott Boyer, 201 East Chestnut; Mrs. Florence Moorehead, 1400 Lake Shore drive; Mrs. Margaret Cobb, 1400 Lake Shore drive; Mrs. Martha Hughes of the Pearson hotel, and Mrs. Bernice Challneger Bost of the Lake Shore Drive hotel.

A dozen near north side hotels have agreed to donate part of the food and supplies. Some of the army of unemployed will be given jobs as caretakers and employés of the shelter.

Three Employes Get Watches for 50 Years with One Employer

Gold watches were presented to three employés of Carson Pirie Scott & Co. by John T. Pirie yesterday in honor of their 50th anniversaries with that firm. The presentation took place at a luncheon in the retail tearoom, attended by store officials and other employés who have been with the firm a half century.

William P. Matthews, Madison, Wis., started as a bill boy when the wholesale house was located at Franklin and Madison streets. He is now general salesman in southern Wisconsin.

Arthur G. Lipsey, 427 West 74th street, now of the accounting department in the retail store, began as an office boy, and has been actively on the job every day since. William H. Pottow, 3824 West Huron street, has been driver for the retail store.

Voliva to Circle World to Prove That It's Flat

Cites Lindbergh Light as He Starts Journey.

A side issue of the world tour will be the assembling of additional evidence to prove Voliva's contention that the world is a pancake revolving around the north pole and not a globe as is contended by scientists.

* * *

The Lindbergh beacon, said to be the most powerful searchlight in the world, is the latest Voliva proof that the world is absolutely flat.

"If there could remain any doubt in the minds of thinking people," he asserted, "the Lindbergh light would dispel it. The light is 600 feet in the air. It can be seen a distance of 74 miles. According to those who differ with me, there is a drop of 3,460 feet due to the curvature of the earth in this distance. If this were true, the light could not be seen except from an airplane. I do not wish to be dogmatic, but all of this proof cannot be doubted. My money reward for any one who can prove the earth is a globe still stands."

* * *

Stories of dissension among the ranks in Zion City are unfounded, according to Voliva. The curse of unemployment which has been bothering the rest of the world is unknown there, he said, and business is thriving better than at any time in the past.

"Dissension in the church?" he queried in a shocked tone. "The very structure of the church prevents it. The papers have said Mrs. John Alexander Dowie is leading an opposition. My only answer is that she has served her purpose and has done good work, but now is deserving of a rest. There is no trouble."

The party will sail from Vancouver for Japan, spend some time in the orient establishing missions, and then return to America via Egypt, Mesopotamia, Jerusalem, and the Mediterranean coast of Europe.

Eucharistic Congress Delegates Prepare for Big Stadium Session

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Eyes of the hundreds of Catholic bishops, monsignors, priests and thousands of laymen who have thronged into Omaha by every known means of conveyance, tonight were turned towards the dawn of a new day.

With the first of the series of business meetings over, the event now attracting the attention of the entire city was the huge eucharistic mass meeting to be held tomorrow night at the Creighton university football stadium.

An attendance of 50,000 persons is expected.

The ceremonies will start promptly at 7 p. m., with a processional. At 8 p. m. the radio broadcast will start with the address of Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago. He will be followed by Judge Martin T. Manton of New York.

Following the addresses, the greatest spectacle of the entire congress will take place. This will be the repeating of the holy name pledge by the audience. All lights will be turned out and the stadium will be illuminated by the light of candles held aloft by the audience as it repeats the pledge after Very Rev. Michael J. Ripple of New York City.

At St. Cecilia's cathedral here this morning Archbishop Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, papal delegate to the United States, lifted up the host at the elevation during a solemn pontifical mass and repeated the words, in Latin: "This is my body," signifying the presence of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist.

Later a papal letter was read to the delegates attending the congress.

"If all the priests who take part in the congress at Omaha," the letter read in part, "stir up one another to follow those holy exhortations and examples in such wise that later they will strive to carry into effect with greater energy, day by day, what is resolved in their sessions, then beyond doubt the congress will have a happy outcome and be fruitful in abundance."

"Backward States" Rapped by Grundy in Penrose Statue Speech

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—(AP)—A bronze statue of Boies Penrose, United States senator from Pennsylvania for a quarter century, was unveiled today as many tributes were paid to his memory.

Senator Joseph R. Grundy, who acceded to the seat formerly held by Penrose, and Gov. Fisher paid homage to his memory.

An echo of the senate lobby committee's investigation during the last session of congress was heard in the speech of Senator Grundy, who presided at the ceremony.

"Within his [Penrose's] service in the senate," Senator Grundy said, "he saw the country adopt the sixteenth amendment providing for the income tax, one effect of which has been to saddle on the people of the progressive and productive states a large part of the burden of supporting the backward states of the nation."

Indian Relics on Display at Historical Society Friday

There will be a special display of Indian relics Friday at the Chicago Historical society in honor of American Indian day. Among the curios are the beaded medicine pouch of Tecumseh, who led the Indian allies of the British in the war of 1812; silver peace medals given by George Washington to the chiefs of the Kaskaskias; a war club given to Stephen Gale by Chief Half Day, a Chippewa; scalp lock ornaments, necklaces, and bracelets. There are several paintings of famous Indian chiefs such as Black Hawk and Shawbone, and a painting of the signing of the treaty at Chicago on Sept. 26, 1833.

Michigan Medical School to Raise Entrance Tests

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 23.—Added entrance requirements in the University of Michigan medical school, which will demand nearly a year of extra preparatory work, were announced today by the executive committee. A total of 90 instead of 70 hours of credit will be required of students entering the medical school as candidates for an M. D. degree. One-third instead of one-quarter of their grades for entrance must be B's. The new ruling is effective next fall.

THE STAGE

FRITZ LEIBER'S company, now rehearsing for its second repertory season under the auspices of the Chicago Civic Shakespeare society at the Civic theater, contains thirteen members of last winter's organization and eleven new players. Mr. Leiber believes that he has assembled "a well organized, highly trained, and thoroughly experienced company of skilled Shakespearean players."

The former members are: Women, Virginia Bronson, Olga Leeds, and Virginia Stevens; men, Lawrence H. Cecil, Hart Jenks, Robert Strauss, John Burke, Philip Quin, Thayer Roberts, Ralph Menzing, John Forrest, Wilfred Mallory, and Claudius Mintz.

The new members are: Women, Ingeborg Torrup, Mary Hone, Virginia Chew, and Maxine Arnold; men, Charles Henderson, Frank Peters, J. Augustus Keogh, Lionel Ince, Howard Inches, John Bryan, and Sidney Mansfield.

Miss Torrup is identified as "perhaps the youngest Shakespearean leading woman of wide experience." She has been leading woman with Walter Hampden for several seasons. Miss Hone, who acted here last winter with Ethel Barrymore in "The Kingdom of God," participated in the recent summer dramatic festival at Shakespeare's birthplace. Miss Chew has had Shakespearean experience with Otis Skinner.

Mr. Cecil will be stage director of the company under Mr. Lieber's supervision. He had the rôle of Ford in the Fiske-Skinner-Crosman staging of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" a few years ago. His long career in Shakespeare includes acting with Sir Frank Benson, Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree, James K. Hackett, John Barrymore, and Lionel Barrymore.

Mr. Leiber's season of eight weeks at the Civic will begin Oct. 27. The first week's repertory will consist of "Hamlet," "The Merchant of Venice," "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," "Macbeth," and "Julius Cæsar."

* * *

Three plays which recently came to their Broadway premières with high hopes will end their careers next Saturday night. They are "The Rhapsody," written by Louis K. Anspacher, and staged by George M. Cohan; "That's the Woman," a melodrama by Bayard Veiller, and "The Up and Up," by the authors of "The Subway Express." You may add to this list of casualties "The Cinderelative," which closed last Saturday night after giving only four performances.

"Nina Rosa," popular here last season, begins to look like a New York hit. "A Farewell to Arms," the dramatization of Ernest Hemingway's novel, which was launched in Manhattan last Monday night, also made a happy start. "First smash hit" of the season is the claim that A. H. Woods' press department makes for it, adding: "The stage hands were utterly exhausted raising and lowering the curtain at the finish of the play."

* * *

The Theater Guild's company for Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart," coming to the Blackstone Oct. 6, will be composed of: Tom Powers, Violet Kemble Cooper, Claude Rains, Ernest Cossart, Frederick Truesdell, Jane Wheatley, Eva Leonard-Boyne, Barbara Allen, W. H. Sams, John Dunn, Hannam C. Clark, George Graham, Audrey Ridgewell, George Couloris, and Ferdinand Hast. They represent last spring's New York cast.

To support Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in "Elizabeth the Queen," the Guild has engaged: Morris Carnosky, Percy Waram, Anita Kerry, Albert Carroll, Robert Greig, Erskine Sanford, Mab Anthony, Edla Frankau, and Allan Joslyn. This drama by Maxwell Anderson will have its first performances in Philadelphia next week, and will begin its New York run Oct. 13.

* * *

Winthrop Ames has retired from theatrical management, but apparently he hasn't kissed the stage good-by forever. He is named as the adapter of a French play called "The Merchant of Paris," which will have its first performance in Washington, D. C., Oct. 20, and is due in New York about Nov. 10. Edward G. Robinson will have the leading rôle, and George C. Tyler is staging the piece as one of the productions to bear the Erlanger banner.

Furniture Now Made to Fit Spirit of Buyers

Brighter Home Trend Is Revealed at Show.

In Friday's editions of The Tribune a special furniture section will be found, giving the latest information on furniture—its uses, styles, and trends in design. The section will contain discussions of furniture for both decorative and utilitarian purposes and of both costly and inexpensive modes.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Women who yearn for self-expression may have their fling this week. Before them, in 200 stores in Chicago, will be laid furniture, wall papers, draperies, rugs, and so on of such variety that no matter how subtle a woman's personality, how different her friends tell her she is, she will be able to translate herself in terms of household things.

What she will see, beginning today, is the first annual home furnishings style show. Exhibits will be on the floors of the stores which take part in the show. It will continue throughout the rest of this and next week.

Some of the room suggestions to be seen in stores—pieces of furniture with harmonizing draperies, wall paper, and rugs—show dull surfaces, including plain linen draperies, linen chintz covered sofa, and dull carpet. Others show all shiny surfaces, featuring glazed chintz or solid colors.

* * *

The woman with a secret leaning toward romance can find one of these skeleton rooms, the wall of which is papered with a pattern of pink doves and blue roses. The roses drop a few petals which resemble blue tears. Draperies are of glazed material, in solid green combined with solid rose. This plain glazed material for draperies is moderately priced.

Another room shows a floor covering of black waxed linoleum, curtains of semi-glazed chintz in a black check accented with lavender, and early American furniture of maple. A dining room is in the color combination of gray and henna, with modern figured wall paper and plain henna glazed chintz curtains and Chippendale furniture.

A dining room was the egg plant shade, one of the smartest for fall in both household furnishings and women's clothes, it was pointed out. This egg plant shade is seen in floor covering, draperies, and a touch of it is in the wall paper. In addition, the Duncan Phyffe table carries a centerpiece of real egg plants, heaped among bright green leaves.

* * *

Even in a man's study, formerly a sanctuary for all the home's worst atrocities, color is used riotously. One study is shown in red leather furniture. Oak and leather furniture combine in other rooms.

Washable wall papers, gay curtains and kitchen pottery of blue and other shades make kitchens alluring. Kitchen ranges now match kitchen cabinets, and breakfast sets for kitchen corners come in maple in early American designs.

"The tendency of the furniture of today is to make a home more light, airy, and gay than American homes ever have been," one store executive said. "When I look back at my boyhood and remember the horsehair sofa in the parlor, the general musty smell of that parlor, the gilt chair my mother was so proud of, the awful, massive dining room furniture, and the huge brass beds and bleak appearance of the bedrooms I wonder that our thoughts were anything but cheerless, miserable things."

Even the modified Elizabethan and Jacobean furniture, which is in demand for living rooms, dining rooms, and bedrooms as well, is made with slim legs and gives a sense of lightness. Sofas and easy chairs are not the hideous overstuffed things of a few years ago, resembling nothing so much as gouty old gentlemen. The sofas, many of which have the loose pillows, seat, and back, are of graceful lines, and they are upholstered in attractive homespuns in plaids, warm plain colors and other combinations.

* * *

Charles of London sofas, a new design; a French provincial sofa of oak frame, with linen fold carving, with pillow seat and back, and more expensive sofas of hand carved frames, with velvet or tapestry upholstery, are on exhibit.

The tendency is to replace the old three piece "suite" of overstuffed furniture with individually attractive pieces of furniture. Some persons mix periods and combine a French provincial peasant chair of maple, an upholstered side wing chair,

Trunk's Work Appears Like Stained Glass

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Walden-Dudensing gallery is showing paintings by Herman Trunk, a young painter active in New York art circles. His work is decorative, gay, and odd because of its uncanny resemblance to stained glass. The closest simile is to say it looks like the drawing of children on frosted glass. This not because of anything particularly childish about the paintings, but because of the unusual surface with which they are endowed and because of the abrupt, cut off manner in which they finish. The unfigured rim to each picture is like a dash. Mr. Trunk has brought that particular idea to completion and vanishes. The result stands alone.

It is extremely curious. The oddity does not extend to his coloring except as that is warmly rich with tones generally found in church glass. Thick red and green, heavily padded yellow and brown, blue as comforting as velvet, these predominate. They are in the end, one must admit, a little monotonous.

Peter Hunt in the Palmolive gallery has something to say in design and utters several ejaculations in color and patterns that round up and over and about with hints of Grecian columns and Ionic curves and Corinthian flamboyances. In wall papers, materials, and rugs we can see a distinct place for these conceptions. His exhibit is completed by a group of melancholy lithographs by the Mexican, Orozco, powerfully done, and a few clever, cynical, and amusing etchings by Peggy Bacon.

BRIDE

MRS. W. C. TYRRELL JR.

The marriage of Miss Alice Catherine Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving F. Sullivan of Rochelle, Ill., to William Casper Tyrrell Jr. of Beaumont, Tex., took place recently at the residence of Mrs. Victor A. Remy in Evanston.

He Was Married; She Won Him, Then Lost, and Now Complains

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am twenty-five and have given up my home and husband for a married man, the father of three children. His wife broke up their home because of me, but he never has forgotten her, it seems, although he promised to marry me. He says he still loves me, but he never speaks of marriage and I hear that he is attentive to his wife and babies now and that they plan a reconciliation. Is there any way I can hold him? TROUBLED."

You don't believe in private ownership or prior rights or anything, do you, Troubled? Not even in playing the game half squarely? A poor sportsman I'd say you are. You gambled and lost, but you do not want to concede anything to your opponent, who must be a better woman than you when she can lure the man away from your side.

You are one of those dames whose moral outlook is bound by self on the right side, left side, inside, and outside. There's probably no use talking to you, anyway. Your story will be that the man lured you away from your husband—you, just a nice, innocent, naive little creature that believed everything a man told her. You may even think about carrying your case to court and try to wrest some financial balm for your self-called heart wounds. It is women like you that do wind up in the headlines.

Granted overwhelming passions have made victims of innocent wives and mothers and that the best are not above temptation, still when you've put forth your best to gamble with and that best is not quite so good as an opponent's, the decent thing is to withdraw from the game.

Princess Will Be Debutante Here on Dec. 23

BY THALIA

An interesting addition to the list of this season's debutantes is the name of Princess Elizabeth Cantacuzene. She is the daughter of Prince [illegible] Cantacuzene, the younger brother of the senior Prince Michael Cantacuzene and cousin of Prince Michael Cantacuzene. She has been living with her father, mother, and several sisters and brothers just outside of Paris.

Princess Elizabeth will arrive in this country in about a month to be with Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer during November and December. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are planning to give a dinner-dance for her on Dec. 23, and she will of course be included in all of the debutante activities taking place during her stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are to arrive shortly from Bar Harbor and will move into their new apartment at [illegible] Astor street.

In explanation of the complicated relationship between the Palmer and the Cantacuzene families might be given. The late Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant [Ida Honore] was the sister of the late Mrs. Potter Palmer [Bertha Honore]. The senior Princess Cantacuzene was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant and first cousin of Potter and Honore Palmer. Prince Michel Cantacuzene the younger, Mrs. Bruce Smith of [illegible]ville, Ky., the former Princess Bertha Cantacuzene, Mrs. John Hanbury Williams of London [Princess [illegible] Cantacuzene] are thus second cousins of Miss Bertha and Miss Pauline Potter, and Gordon Palmer.

A unique committee meeting was held aboard the Burt A. Massees' yacht, the Marco, in the harbor north of the Municipal pier, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Borden, chairman of the Chicago committee of the American Merchant Marine Library association, and members of the group who are to engineer a drive for books for boats plying the great lakes, comprised the company who convened for discussion of plans on the after deck of the yacht.

Carl B. Roden of the Chicago Public library told of the appreciation of sailors for reading matter. Mrs. Borden explained the mechanics of how the drive is to be carried on during the week of Oct. 20. Mrs. Borden is general chairman, Mrs. Massee and Mrs. Farwell Winston vice chairmen, and Mrs. James A. Cathcart the secretary. Representatives of numerous organizations are being enlisted in the cause of collecting 20,000 volumes to be distributed to boats at Sault Ste. Marie. Miss Dorothy Schmidt, Mrs. John L. Cochran Jr. and Miss Louise [illegible], representing the Junior league, are to take charge of the job of getting barrels and other receptacles and of pasting stickers thereon.

Local branch libraries are to be used for collecting the books, and Mrs. John B. Drake Jr. is to see to distributing blotters in the downtown hotels. Mrs. Kent Clow and Mrs. [illegible] Holden Jr. are chairmen for Lake Forest, and Mrs. Morris Wilson is district chairman for Evanston. Mrs. Howard Willetts is chairman for the transportation of the receptacles. Others on the active committee include Miss Lucy Martin, Mrs. Eugene J. Thayer, Mrs. Morris L. Johnston, Mrs. John May, Mrs. Alden Swift, Mrs. George Woodruff, Miss Clara Laughlin, Miss Bessie Bennett, Mrs. Chauncey Borland, Mrs. Clark Wright, Mrs. Louis Yager and Mrs. Morris Wilson. Mrs. Borden had given a luncheon at the Casino for the executive committee before the meeting on the Marco, and tea was served in the lounge following the business discussion.

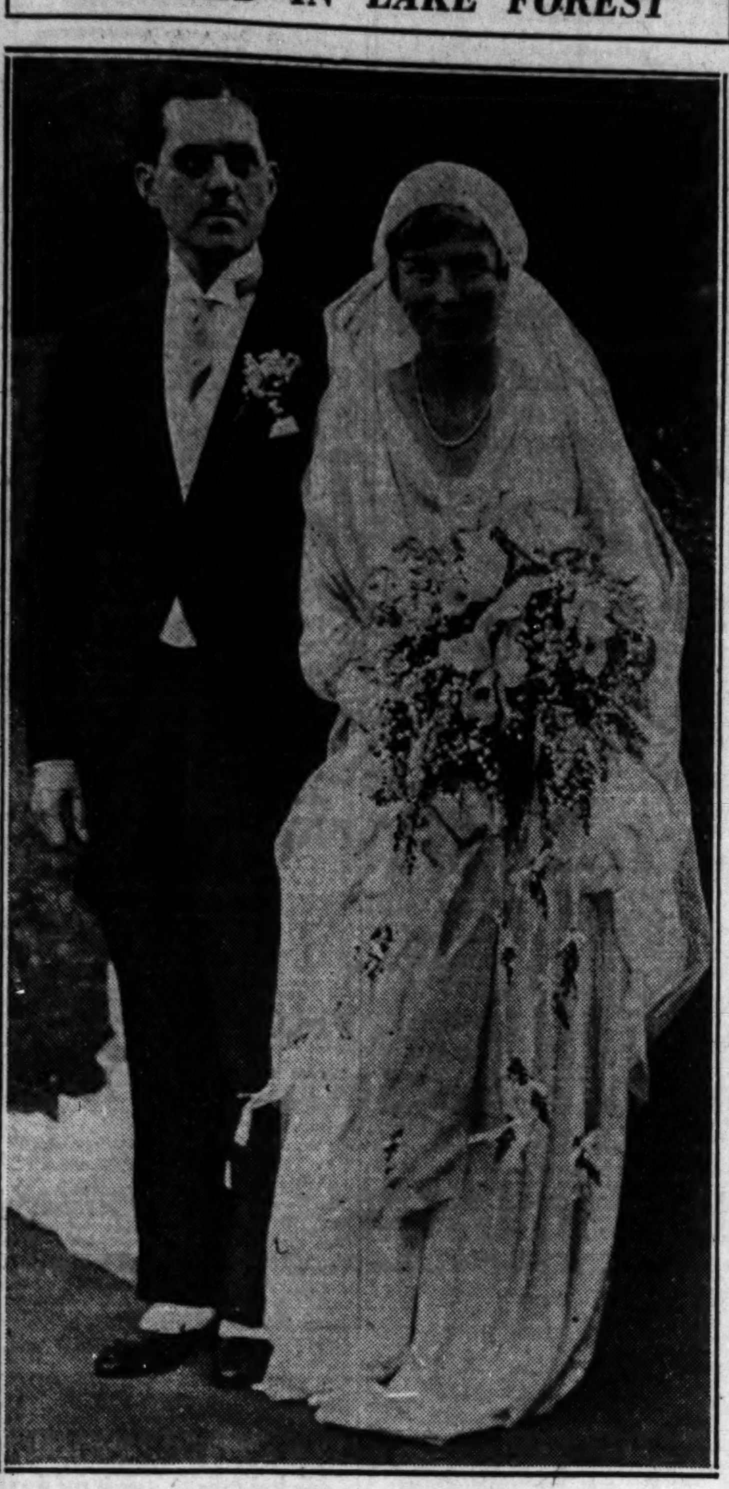
One after another the organizations for charities manned [you can't very well say womaned] by society women are falling into line with committee meetings and activities. Mrs. Charles [illegible] Schweppe is opening her Lake Forest residence today for a sale for the Vocational Society for Shut-ins. Assisting her will be Mrs. James O. Heyworth, Mrs. Donald McLennan, Mrs. Alfred Hamill, Mrs. Thomas Dennehy Jr., Mrs. Paul McBride, Mrs. Scott Durand(?), Mrs. John Payne Kellogg, and Mrs. W. A. P. Pullman. Mrs. Henry C. Murphy, president of the society, is in charge, and several of the board members also will assist. The sale is to be from 10 o'clock this morning until 5 this afternoon.

Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr., chairman of the finance committee for the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, is calling a meeting of her group and the executive committee to be held at the Casino next Monday. Ways and means for financing the rapidly increasing work of the organization are to be discussed.

Miss Carolyn Hazard has returned from a summer trip to Europe and is established at the Ambassador East just now.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barnes of 1153 North Dearborn parkway have gone to Colorado Springs, Colo., for a week's stay. They will return on Sunday to be here to attend the opening of Mrs. Barnes' play, "Dishonored Lady" at the Harris theater on Monday evening.

MARRIED IN LAKE FOREST



MR. AND MRS. EDISON DICK.

THE CEREMONY

For her marriage yesterday afternoon to Edison Dick, Miss Jane Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Warner of Lake Forest, wore a white satin gown and the point appliqué lace veil which was worn by her sister, Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy Jr., at her wedding several years ago. Mrs. Dennehy, who was matron of honor, wore a beige lace gown and matching velvet hat. The bridesmaids included Mrs. Woodbury Stearns Ober, Mrs. Paul McBride, Mrs. Charles Dennehy, Mrs. James H. Douglas Jr., Mrs. Conde Nast of New York, Mrs. Guilford Stewart of Boston, Miss Alice Coonley, Miss Elinor Farwell, and Miss Ruth Elting. They wore frocks of rust colored lace and velvet hats of the same hue. Helen Dick, the flower girl, wore a turquoise blue velvet frock and carried an old fashioned bouquet. Albert B. Dick Jr. served as best man for his brother.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover had for their week-end guest the American ambassador to Belgium, Hugh S. Gibson, who left today for his home in California. There he will go to settle the estate of his mother, who died last month. Mr. Gibson was the only guest President and Mrs. Hoover took with them to their camp for their Sunday visit.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth returned here tonight from Jamestown, R. I., where the speaker and his family had a cottage for the summer. She will superintend the opening of her Washington home and then go to her home in Cincinnati for the autumn.

Invitations have been issued by the chargé d'affaires of Egypt and Mme. Aly Ismail Bey for a reception Thursday afternoon, Oct. 9, to celebrate the anniversary of the accession to the throne of King Fuad I., at the legation.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

H. C.: AFTER EVERY WASHING massage the hands with your lotion. Use rubber gloves, if possible. After work that has required the use of strong soaps and powders, apply the lotion liberally or massage with a good cold cream.

L. N.: PUSH THE CUTICLE back to show the half moons. Avoid cutting, if possible, as hangnails often result.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

He Writes First.

"Dear Miss Blake: I met a young man twice. Then he asked me if I would correspond. I consented. Who should write first? EIGHTEEN."

It was his suggestion, so let him be the first to write.

He Tells Lies.

"Dear Miss Blake: I like a fellow. My mother does not like him because he lies to me. Please advise. "BOBBY."

If he is given to fabricating I should certainly give him up, Bobby. You want to have confidence in your beau.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

CHILD'S DRESS.

This cunning frock ends its brief bodice in a deep point at the front, and directly below the front of the skirt is pressed in an inverted plait which adds greatly to its appearance. Bloomers peep beneath the dress for smartness. Yellow and white printed linen, with white collar and cuffs piped with yellow, is adorable made up in this pattern.

The pattern, 2657, comes in sizes 2, 4, and 6 years. Size 4 requires 2⅝ yards of 39 inch material with ⅜ yard of 35 inch contrasting and 1⅛ yards of dark binding, with 1⅛ yards of light binding.

Glass Houses, Skyscrapers, Wright's Idea

Models of a skyscraper apartment building of glass and steel and of a residence of similar materials form part of an exhibition of the latest works of Frank Lloyd Wright, architect. The show will open at the Art institute tomorrow morning and close on Oct. 12.

This exhibit, which was on display recently in the rooms of the Architectural league in New York City, includes paintings and plans of buildings of various types.

One of the features of the exhibition is a model of a house which Richard Lloyd Jones, publisher of the Tulsa Tribune, is having built in Tulsa. This residence is being constructed with a frame partially of steel and walls of glass and concrete. Then there is a model of the much discussed St. Mark's in the Bowery apartment house which is planned for New York City.

Wright, busy yesterday with the setting up of the exhibition, had a moment for discussion of his architectural style.

"I obtained my motif," he said, "from an intimate study of nature rather than as a product of studies of architectural styles." He explained this as meaning that he went to nature for inspiration rather than making adaptations of the Greek, Roman, Gothic, etc.

He illustrates his methods in a drawing of a development proposed for Hollywood Hills, Cal. There houses of concrete blocks are placed to conform with the contours of the hills in which they are situated, "embroidering the landscape with architecture," as he puts it. His idea is that there must be no conflict between architecture and nature, such as might occur, he says, when a house is placed on the top of the hill.

Another feature is a gasoline filling station which is treated in the modern manner, with horizontal lines predominating. The roof is of cantilever construction, permitting gasoline and oil tanks to be hung from it and thus doing away with obstructions in the way of motorists. And another model is one of what Wright calls a "blue sky mausoleum," in which concrete sarcophagi with marble tops are arranged in steps surmounted by an open air memorial chamber.

In connection with the exhibit, Wright is to give two lectures, one at 2:30 p. m. Oct. 1 at Fullerton hall and the other at 8:30 p. m. at the Goodman theater. After the close here the exhibit will be taken to Wisconsin university and later to Harvard, Yale, and other eastern universities.

ENGAGEMENT

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Richard Delafield, 1930 Princeton graduate and son of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. John Ross Delafield, today obtained a license to marry Miss Margaret Durbin Gade, a debutante of last year. He is twenty-one and gave Miss Gade's age as nineteen. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gade.

To Green Fingernails and Rose Eyeshadow Add a Grain of Salt

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

What crazy announcements are made in beauty connection. I have a clipping in front of me that says "green and black fingernails will go with rose eyeshadows this winter." It doesn't say where they will go to—but you tell 'em.

Can you imagine anything uglier or more grossly exaggerated than combining green fingernails and rose eye shadow? Either one would be bad enough—but if a girl got herself up that way to meet her Rudy, he'd commit hari-kari on the first bar of his croon song.

There is a bright spot in these bizarre announcements. It is that few women take them seriously, proving that on matters pertaining to her own personal beauty, woman has a mind of her own. When the startling is adopted it is done usually by the last person qualified and the laughs attendant insure it a short life.

Take the violently carmined nails for example. The fad originated, I am told, in one of the Paris dressmaking salons to introduce a note of novelty for which these houses must strive for the sake of publicity. The originators, however, supplied the setting and they also supplied the clothes to be worn with the blatantly dyed nails. It was not a sports setting nor a shopping one, as certain of our women interpreted the idea.

The time and place have to be considered if one wants to launch an innovation successfully. There is a place in the ensemble of time and pursuit and girl when perhaps begonia pink nails would be most effective. Not at a typewriter, however; not swinging a golf stick or handling the vegetables at the morning marketing. With a gala evening costume or with an afternoon frock of exotic flair and a fairly exotic creature modeling them, they could be amusing, at least. But always in these departures, the feature high lighted must have unusual beauty. Hands should be faultlessly lovely before they are submitted to the trying test.

The type, too, should bear influence. I can more readily imagine Clara Bow appearing with rose eye shadow and green nails than Lillian Gish, say.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Amos Tuck French gave a luncheon party at the Savoy-Plaza yesterday for Lady Cheylesmore and her sister, Mrs. Charles Fitz Simmons.

Miss Grace Roosevelt, debutante daughter of the governor of Porto Rico and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, was a guest for the week end of Miss Nancy Symington of Baltimore, who entertained a house party.

Count and Countess Folke Bernadotte, who have been living in Sweden since their marriage two years ago, plan to make their home in the United States. The count is completing his military service this month, and is expected as soon as that expires to apply for leave for at least two years. The countess is the former Estelle Manville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Edward Manville of this city and Pleasantville, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parsons have returned from their summer home at Lakeville, Conn.

Mrs. August Belmont is sailing tomorrow on the Mauretania to attend the League of Red Cross Societies meeting in Brussels on Oct. 6.

Rice Pudding

Food Talk.

In the last two or three weeks we have had a number of letters and phone calls telling about failures in jelly making adventures. In every instance the trouble is that the jelly won't jell. These reports always make me feel more or less helpless because the best advice that I can give—though not wanted—is this: Use up the jelly as is. It will be enjoyed served as a sirup on pancakes or waffles, as an ice cream or pudding sauce or in frozen desserts, fruitades, or punches.

"But what can I do with this jelly to make it jell?" the housewife pleads. Frankly, I do not think there is much that can be done. Recooking always means a darker color and a stronger flavor. To restore such a jelly is to do some experimenting. More unsweetened juice may be added and the mixture reboiled. The amount of juice needed is more or less guess work because the jelly has failed in the first place because of one or both of the following reasons:

1. The fruit juice was obtained from fruit that was too ripe.
2. Too much sugar was used in proportion to the juice.

If one will keep these points in mind when making jelly, one should never have a failure:

1. Choose only jellying fruits from which to make jelly—apples, crabapples, plums, partly ripe grapes, underripe black and red raspberries, quinces, currants, if commercial pectin is not used. If commercial pectin is used, any fruit and very ripe fruit may be used. (Directions for making jelly accompany the pectin.)
2. Prepare a clear juice of the right concentration. Fruit and quinces need to be cut up and barely covered with water. Juicy fruits like currants, grapes and berries need little water, about two cups to each gallon of fruit. Cook fruit in covered kettle until just soft. No longer. This gives a concentrated juice.
3. Allow juice to drip through a Canton flannel bag. Never squeeze the juice out of the bag because this will make a cloudy jelly.
4. Measure juice carefully and use two-thirds to three-quarters as much sugar as juice, depending upon acidity of juice. Currant juice is the only exception. Use one cup of sugar to one cup of currant juice.
5. Never cook more than one or two quarts of juice at one time.
6. Put juice into a large kettle so that boiling may be done rapidly. Not more than 8 or 10 minutes of rapid boiling should be necessary to reach the jelly stage.
7. Cook until sirup jells or until two drops of jelly will sheet simultaneously from a metal spoon. It is necessary to make this test every few minutes which means that the cook must stay on the job while jelly is being made. A candy thermometer may be used for testing the jelly mixture. Almost all jellies have been cooked to the proper stage when the thermometer registers 219 degrees Fahrenheit.

RAGOUT OF BACON AND STRING BEANS.

3 onions.
1 quart string beans.
6 small potatoes.
Salt and pepper.

Cook diced bacon in skillet until brown and crisp. Add sliced onions and string beans and cook five minutes. Add one quart boiling water and cook until beans are half done. Then add potatoes cut in halves. When potatoes and beans are done, season with salt and pepper and serve in vegetable dish with gravy.

Yield: 6 servings. One serving, total, 183 calories. Protein, 25 calories; fat, 62 calories; carbohydrates, 96 calories.

John Wesley Chairs Located in Lugano by Georgia Bishop

LUGANO, Switzerland, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., has expressed a willingness to negotiate for the purchase of two valuable relics of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, which have been discovered here. He is acting as a trustee of Emory university, which has a large collection of Wesleyana.

The relics, now in Lugano, consist of two Chippendale chairs said to have stood on either side of Wesley's bed and at which he knelt nightly in his devotions.

Many years ago the chairs became the property of Samuel Sebastian Wesley, organist and composer, a great-nephew of the religious reformer. When Samuel Wesley died his widow left Gloucester, where her husband was organist. She sold many household articles or gave them to close friends. The two chairs went to a Mrs. Emily M. Pyne of Bath, who in turn bequeathed them to her daughter, now a resident of Lugano.

The proposed price has not been made public.

"FIND OUT YOUR TYPE OF SKIN" SAY WORLD'S BEAUTY EXPERTS

Before you choose your face powder, find out the type of skin you have. Then choose the face powder that has been made especially for just your skin. Don't let a Cold Settle in your Bowels!

KEEP your bowels open during a cold. Only a doctor knows the importance of this. Trust a doctor to know best how it can be done!

That's why Syrup Pepsin is such a marvelous help during colds. It is the prescription of a family doctor who specialized in bowel troubles. The discomfort of colds is always lessened when it is used; your system is kept free from the phlegm, mucus and acid wastes. The cold is "broken up" easily.

Whenever the bowels need opening, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sure to do the work. It does not gripe or sicken; but its action is thorough. It carries off all the souring waste and poisons; helps your bowels to help themselves.

Take a spoonful as soon as a cold starts, or if the time comes coated tongue, bad breath, or a bilious, headachy, gassy condition warns of approaching constipation. Give it to the children during colds or whenever they're feverish, cross or upset. It is harmless; contains only laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other helpful ingredients.

The way it tastes and the way it acts have made Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the largest selling laxative in all drugstores!

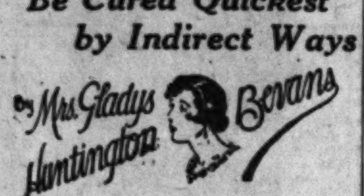
Stubbornness Can Be Cured Quickest by Indirect Ways



By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

"I have a 5 year old daughter who is strong willed and stubborn and I realize that now is the time to help her overcome those faults."

There is really a lot to be said in answer to this letter, which states a rather common difficulty.

A strong will is one of life's greatest assets. The principal thing is that it be guided so that it doesn't develop into an "agin the government" attitude. The strong willed child must be carefully handled, so that he will learn to direct his will power constructively. The old days when a father grimly resolved to "break that will"—the days when a parent made an open issue of "seeing who's master here" are over.

Stubbornness is one complaint many mothers make while others never see a sign of it. Why is that? In almost every case mismanagement from some one in the family.

Frequently stubbornness is aroused in children by trying to gain their obedience in the wrong way. Commanding instead of asking, expecting instant compliance, never explaining, giving so many commands that a child feels hectored—all these are apt to arouse the kind of resistance we call stubbornness. A friendly manner and tactfulness help to overcome the tendency.

I know of one mother who is having this trouble due to a conflict in management between the grandmother and herself. When things get desperate she whispers in her little daughter's ear—and gone is the stone wall. There's something so cozy and friendly about a whisper.

A different handling can melt away practically all stubbornness if one thinks of the fault as being not the child's but the result of one's own mismanagement.

Stubbornness must be cured in indirect ways.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

THE CHANGING WORLD.

"Prices of Illinois farm products from 1866 to 1929" is the subject of the study made by L. J. Norton, assistant chief in agricultural economics at the University of Illinois, and B. B. Wilson, formerly research assistant in the same division. The two men took yearly averages of prices, the character of fluctuations, and changes in production as a result of these fluctuations from 1866 to 1929 for the products of corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley, hay, potatoes, apples, butter, eggs, chickens, hogs, cattle, veal calves, sheep, and horses.

Studying the past lends an understanding of general economic forces that will govern price movements of the future, the authors indicate. "Looking ahead and adjustment to new conditions will mean the most farm profit for those able to study trends of the past and read them in relation to future trends. In general prices declined from 1866 to about 1897; then they rose until about 1910, when there was a period of stability in the case of many products until the world war began to influence prices in this country. Then there was a steady rise until 1919, followed by a sharp and sudden decline in 1920 and 1921, with more or less general recovery since then."

Bright Sayings of the Children

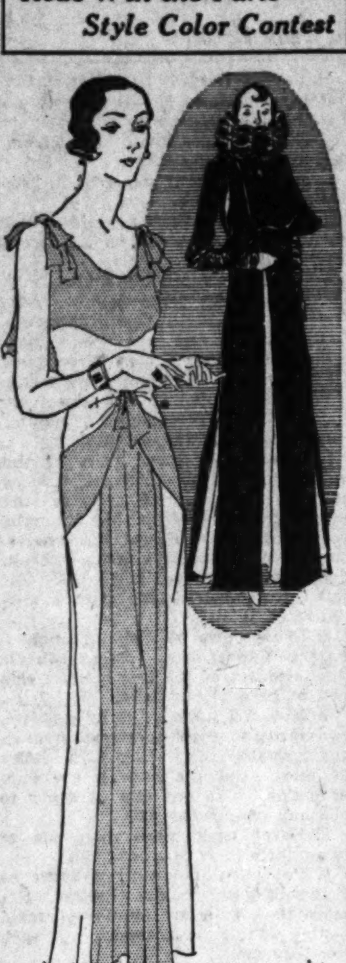
I was on my way to kindergarten with my little son Keith, who, dressed in long pants, felt quite grown up. As we turned a corner we met an old lady who had not seen him since he was a baby.

"Why, Keith, you are quite a young man," she remarked, then added, regretfully: "But you don't look nearly as cute as you did when you wore little pink panty-dresses."

"But, lady, jus' think of all I've learned since I've STOPPED LOOKING CUTE," protested the embarrassed little boy. E. W.

Little Viola hurried into the classroom, calling: "Teacher, come and see the wonderful bird outside. I don't know what kind it is, but it's brown trimmed in blue." M. C.

Reds Win the Paris Style Color Contest



BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—If the Paris dressmakers do not bring about a domination of reds this winter it will not be because they aren't trying. I have seen about twenty of the fall fashion shows, and in every one red is a leading color note. There are heaps and heaps of dark reds, either of the wine shades or the brownish tones, or Corinthian, American beauty red, and cerise step up to fashion's footlights. Geranium and ruby reds are with us, and there are also a good many rusty reds, while currant, plum, and black cherry are a trio of fruity tones that are beloved of Paris.

A daring detail of the red invasion is the combination of reds that some of the important houses are showing right now in Paris. Chantal, who is above all a colorist, has the audacity to unite a deep and vivid purplish red with a light and brilliant geranium, and, my dears, it's a knockout. Not a mixture to be toyed with by amateurs, of course, but a lusty and beautiful one in her hands.

The evening ensemble sketched here is in these two colors. The long coat is made of the purplish red, lined with the geranium, and both coat and lining are velvet. The frock is made of geranium and purple-red chiffon.

Aside from its color, the coat shown is extraordinarily smart in line. It is fitted princess fashion and the very long skirt is split into panels so that the dress skirt underneath shows. The long sleeves of the coat are shirred from elbow to over the wrists, and the standing collar is made of shirred velvet. There is a half cape over the left side.

The frock has a tied-on bolero and a full front panel, curved bands and two back panels of purple red, while the dress body is geranium.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Family Penniless.

"My husband has not worked in a year, and six weeks ago he left town in his search for employment and promised to write when he obtained it. I never heard from him. I've had to sell my furniture piece by piece in order to buy food and medicine, for I am not well and had an operation a short time ago.

"My eldest girl, 17, has been sick since April and a month ago we were put out because we couldn't pay our rent. We took furnished rooms for which a friend paid, but we shall have to leave these now. I should like to get an unfurnished flat again but have no furniture.

"I wonder if you can get me what we need. The children are in need of clothing, too. The girls are 17, 11, and 4; the boys are 15, 14, and 13 years old. MRS. F. F."

Deserted, ill, and with no means of support this family finds itself in a most despairing situation. If we can help them to reëstablish their home and provide the children with clothing I am sure they will be greatly encouraged.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Exit Tired Shopper.

I had been shopping. I dropped into a cafeteria—got a cup of tea and placed it on a table at which another woman was sitting. In so doing, I jarred the table. She did not accept my apology gracefully. She was not a pleasant woman. I was tired, also worried over my purchases. Suppose the material for Mary's dress should fade—or worse still, Johnny's suit (bought on sale) be too small. A large red baked apple was near me. Absent mindedly, I took a large spoonful of its juicy bursting top. It was delicious. I took another.

Then I caught sight of the woman's face." I will get you another," I stammered, and hastened to the counter. I opened my purse. It contained only two pennies and a car token. With a red face I left the cafeteria. A. R.

ARE THERE ANY MEN in the city who believe in the future growth of Chicago?

We need such men in our business in order to carry out our program of expansion and development between now and 1933.

My company is in an excellent position to offer to men of a decided sales caliber — two fisted, red blooded men—men who want to mold their future with their own hands, a real money making proposition.

To qualify these men must be from 25 to 45 years of age and of a more serious bend of mind, intelligent and hard working. You may call for a personal interview between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

SALES DIRECTOR,

PACKARD

A Packard is always a Packard, giving its owner the same motoring distinction and the same motoring satisfaction, whether the model is that of yesterday or today. With the result that a Used Packard is often a better buy than other new cars of lesser quality.

PACKARD CLUB SEDAN. Custom 8, 7-45 De Luxe type. This car in appearance and performance is equivalent to new. It has been used less than 7,000 miles, the mechanism is in splendid condition, and it represents the last word in lasting style. Equipment includes 6 wire wheels, heater in rear compartment, trunk, and extra trunk rack, road light, shock absorbers, fender lights, etc. Guarantee and service included. $3,150.

PACKARD 6, 5-33 SEDAN. De Luxe type, including 6 wire wheels, 6 tires, and trunk rack. In the original finish. A real 7 passenger car for the family and a Packard that will render highly satisfactory service for a long period of time. Fully equipped. Your thorough inspection invited. $950.

PACKARD CUSTOM 2 PASS. COUPE. Custom 8, 7-40 model, with rumble seat. Received by us after having had actually less than 1,000 miles of service. It is in superb condition—in fact, scarcely an expert could detect its slight mileage. Has fender lights, spare tire on the rear, and is offered with guarantee and service. $2,750.

PACKARD 8, 6-40 CLUB SEDAN DE LUXE. Custom 8, 4 door model, with 6 wheel equipment, 6 tires like new, and many extras. It has hardly begun its long life mileage, and it is a Packard which we believe will make a strong appeal to the person whose requirements demand greater luxury than can be obtained in a new car of like price. Guarantee and service. $2,250.

PACKARD 8, 6-26 DE LUXE SEDAN. Traded to us with low mileage and thoroughly checked in the great Packard shops. Its appearance and performance are truly 100%, our guarantee will cover, and it is a remarkable value. Has almost new tires, spotlight, cowl band lights, etc. $1,500.

PACKARD CUSTOM COUPE, 2 PASS., with rumble seat. Custom 8, 6-40. Finished in one of Packard's attractive blue colors, in new car condition mechanically, and completely equipped. A splendid car for business use or for the small family. This elegant motor car sold with guarantee and priced at $2,000.

PACKARD 6, 5-26, 5 PASS. SEDAN. A very good one. Attractive paint job, with chromium radiator and lamps, almost new tires, cowl and lights, and a clean interior. The motor and chassis have been reconditioned; guaranteed. $1,000.

PACKARD 8, 7-26 5 PASS. SEDAN. This car is coming to us with only 3,800 miles on it. It is like new in all respects, all equipment is perfect. We have goven it the usual rigid inspection in our shops, consequently is offered with guarantee and service. $1,750.
